END WAR MANIA OR LOANS CEASE, EUROPE WARNED

U. S. Wants to See Peace, Envoy Says.

BY JOHN STEELE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

[Copyright: 1925: By The Chicago Tribune.]

LONDON, May 4.—Alanson B. Houghton, new American ambassador to London, made his first public appearance in England at a banquet given by the Pilgrims' society tonight. He seized the occasion to utter a stern warning in the name of the United States to Europe that unless war mongering ceased American aid to European reconstruction would be withdrawn.

A. B. HOUGHTON.

While no nations were named, and Mr. Houghton disclaimed that the speech was directed at any one nation, every one present interpreted the speech as a warning to France that her policy of militarism was angering the American people, and that this [illegible] would soon be reflected in a changed attitude toward French loans and French relations.

The Duke of York sat beside Mr. Houghton and the speakers were Prime Minister Baldwin and Ramsay MacDonald. Among those present were the Belgian, Japanese, German, Portuguese, and Brazilian ambassadors, the Hungarian minister, the archbishop of Canterbury, Viscount Cave, the Earl of Balfour, Earl Cavan, Sir William Joynson Hicks, L. S. Amery, Sir Samuel Hoare, Sir Philip Cunliffe Lister, Sir Douglass Hogg, Viscount Cecil, Sir Hedworth Meux, Sir Auckland Geddes, and Viscount Astor.

Forgets the Platitudes.

Mr. Houghton began by chaffing the audience about the time honored platitudes of Anglo-American friendship which had grown to be expected from new American ambassadors.

"I am going to assume that you will not expect me to refer specifically to hands across the sea, blood is thicker than water, or even to our common law," he said. "I hesitate, but I think we might perhaps usefully include also the language of Shakespeare which neither of us use.

"If I must say something about Anglo-American relations, let me follow the conventions of open diplomacy and confide to you that I take over my duties here with, after diligent search, only one important issue now dividing us and that concerns the status of your markets for the American potato.

American Homes Made Decisions.

"What I do want to say is a word about the attitude of the plain people of America toward the reconstruction of Europe. I think this is important, because the American foreign office, in a very literal sense, is in the homes of the American people and because in these homes matters are discussed and decisions reached which in the end determine the attitude of the American government.

"I feel this desire because every now and then I either hear or read a statement which seems to imply that the American relations to the problem of reconstruction is substantially that of a participant in a gigantic game of [illegible] in which it behooves her to play her cards very warily lest suddenly, and without the knowledge of American people, they find themselves subject to heavy penalties. I may say [illegible] frankly that that is not my own view.

"I doubt if the American people look upon their ventures in reconstruction in any such fashion. Their viewpoint is much more like your own. They, like you, are contemplating the slow recovery of the world, which has been badly hurt, morally and physically by the war. If the material progress [illegible] has been slow we can at least congratulate ourselves that it has been sure. As we cast our eyes backward over the last year, for instance, we see a really substantial advance.

Must Let Central Europe Work.

"The fundamental necessity that the peoples of central Europe be enabled to produce again are words that have been often used. Capital, without which the other factors of production could not be made to operate, has been supplied. Currency values have been largely stabilized. Your own long sustained and magnificent [illegible]

FACES PRISON FOR ATTACK ON YOUNG HUSBAND

Chicago Romance Ends in Court.

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.

Los Angeles, Cal., May 4.—[Special.]—Mrs. Berenice Lundstrom Day, 22 year old Chicago bride, today was found guilty of throwing acid into the face of her husband, Darby Day Jr., son of a Chicago millionaire, mutilating him.

Conviction carries with it a sentence of one to fourteen years in the penitentiary. Sentence will be pronounced by Judge Carlos Hardy in the Los Angeles County court on Thursday. In the meantime, Mrs. Day's counsel will prepare an appeal.

Sister Is Acquitted.

The jury acquitted Carolyn Lundstrom, 18 year old sister of Mrs. Day. Miss Lundstrom had been tried as accessory in the crime.

A jury of eight elderly men and four middle aged matrons needed six hours to reach the verdict.

Mrs. Day was tried on two counts and convicted on that clause which referred to "assault with caustic chemicals, a felony." Judge Hardy instructed the jury to bring in a verdict, if it decided to convict, based on only one count. The count which the jury disregarded charged "assault with intent to commit bodily harm."

Bride's Lips Twitch.

Mrs. Day, whose violent emotions were recounted to furnish the high lights of a week's trial, gave no sign other than a twitch of her lips when the jury foreman, N. W. Tuttle, pronounced the verdict. Her sister, Carolyn, only stared.

After the verdict, when her sister, her mother, and several friends gathered to comfort Mrs. Day, she said: "My mother-in-law wouldn't let me spend my honeymoon with my husband in peace. Now it looks as if I'll spend it in San Quentin."

The mother of the two girls, Mrs. Grace Lundstrom, wept quietly when the verdict was given.

Husband Not in Court.

Darby Day Jr., and his father and mother were absent from the courtroom when the verdict came in. Young Darby and his mother signed the criminal complaint which brought the conviction of the girl whom Darby married last September.

Closing arguments of the prosecutor, Deputy District Attorney H. S. G. McCartney, and Charles B. Stewart Sr. for the defense, preceded Judge Hardy's instructions.

"This is the way his face appeared when he married this girl," McCartney said.

Shows Scarred Face.

Day turned slowly until the red scars and grayish tissues of the right side of his face struck the sight of the jurors.

"And this," as McCartney pointed, "is what marriage with this woman did to him."

Meanwhile the young bride shook her head in negation. She had testified that the acid was spurted from the neck of the vial without her volition, when she uncorked it to commit suicide.

Experiments on Aid.

Using P. J. Pierotte, district attorney's investigator, as a subject, Prosecutor McCartney went further. He asked Pierotte to stoop as though starting an automobile, the posture in which Day received the nitric acid in his face. When McCartney threw water from a vial of the same size, with an upward jerk, the water splashed up and down Pierotte's face leaving a wet impression similar to the blotches on Young Day's features. A portion also dropped on Pierotte's coat.

Day's coat was an exhibit in the case. It was smeared with acid.

The acid throwing which mutilated young Day took place near midnight last Feb. 22 in Darby's darkened automobile, in front of the home of Mrs. Darby Day Sr. in Beverly Hills.

Young Day and his mother testified that his wife, after quitting their house two days before for her mother's bungalow in Los Angeles, came to the residence that night and asked Darby to get into the car with her. Once inside, according to Darby Day Jr. and

Rye Corner Charged as Price Jumps

Movements in May rye and corn are attracting the attention of grain experts and farm organizations as the result of a jump of 11 cents in rye prices yesterday. There was talk of a new corner on the Chicago market.

The situation is viewed with some alarm by Emanuel F. Rosenbaum, member of the board of managers of the Grain Marketing company.

"There appears to be evidence of congestion in May rye and May corn which warrants immediate action," he said. "There is no use in reviewing the situation after the mischief is done, and unless corrective steps are taken at once the manipulation which is so evident will cause agricultural communities much concern and possibly further losses."

Similar to Winter Condition.

"It is currently reported that Arthur Cutten, who held such tremendous lines of grain during the winter, is now the owner of a large amount of May rye, and it is also reported that somebody operating through the commission house of the Nye & Jenks Grain company is the owner of a very large quantity of May corn. In a lesser degree the conditions of last November and December, which resulted in the drastic decline in March, are being duplicated."

Grain men in close touch with market conditions state that the Grain Marketing company itself is short on rye and corn and is bringing down great quantities of these grains to cover its shortages. This company also is said to have been short on wheat.

Big Shipments from Duluth.

Nearly 400,000 bushels of rye came from Duluth last week and 1,500,000 more will be moved here unless conditions are changed, it is stated. The steamer Barium has been loaded at Duluth with 300,000 bushels of rye for Chicago, while the G. N. Wilson steamer has started out for the east with 231,000 bushels of rye. A great deal of this is said to belong to the Grain Marketing company.

Mr. Cutten is said to control about 2,000,000 bushels of rye.

Market Bullish for Farmers.

The grain situation from the farmers' standpoint is temporarily bullish, according to a Grain Marketing company official, and the farmer should get high prices for breadstuffs just as soon as the new crop begins to move.

Rye opened yesterday at $1.16 and closed at $1.24. It is reported that No. 2 white corn sold at 3 cents over the May option f. o. b. Philadelphia, which is equal to about 8½ cents under May in store here.

PETE SCHMITZ GETS ESTATE OF HIS SLAIN WIFE

On the day Judge Charles A. Williams freed Peter John Schmitz, declaring he no longer was the insane fiend that four years ago had stabbed his wife to death and then hacked her head off, Schmitz went to the Probate court and obtained $475 left in his wife's estate. It was for expenses of his newfound freedom, said his attorney, W. G. Anderson, yesterday.

The murdered wife left no will, so, under the law of inheritance, all she possessed became Peter's. Up to the time he was freed by Judge Williams and while he was in Chester insane asylum, the money was kept in a bank. Now it is Peter's.

Today, Attorney Anderson, who negotiated Schmitz's freedom, will appear before Probate Judge Henry Horner to have set aside a jury's verdict of a year ago that Schmitz was insane. Then he will be restored to his own estate, which was about $3,000, Mr. Anderson said, and to what his wife left.

We'll Shortly Love Dry Law, Says Mellon

Secretary of the Treasury Andrew C. Mellon spent two hours in Chicago yesterday en route to Jackson, Miss. There today he will discuss taxation before representatives of southern industrial and business organizations.

Mr. Mellon said prohibition enforcement, which is undertaken by his department, cannot be effective until means are provided to head off the smuggling of liquor across the United States borders and through our ports.

The secretary added that such smuggling is being done on a great scale and cannot be stopped without great increases in the man power of the treasury department.

Would Dry Up Sources.

"The logical thing to do," said the secretary of the treasury, "is to dry up the sources of the rum supply. Then the problem wil answer itself. Of course, there always will be those beyond the hope of the strictest enforcement, but the majority will gradually accept enforcement."

Mr. Mellon declined to be led astray by the doleful suggestion that the world is on the downgrade. He said there probably has been a noticeable letdown in public morals, but he thought the war is much to blame. He believes another generation will see a complete erasure of the whims of this one.

Declines to Talk Money.

Mr. Mellon declined to discuss England's turn to the gold standard, declaring it too important for cursory examination.

"I am somewhat afraid of headlines," he said. "I had rather write down what I have to express on that subject."

He returned to the subject of prohibition. "Many persons are unable to believe themselves criminals because they break the prohibitory laws," he said. "But that will pass off. The time will come when the majority will think the dry laws worthy of respect, and then we shall find that the enormous drain which liquor imposed on the country has happily been stopped.

"The proof that the drain on the public is enormous is found in the vast profits made by bootleggers. And these vast profits make the bootleggers hard to suppress. Money does much."

He explained that the pursuit of rum runners is an independent agency of the government and denied that the navy is concerned in it.

Girl Exposes Plan to Free 75 Prisoners

A pretty young woman, sweetheart of a convict, yesterday became appalled at the mental picture of 75 hardened criminals fleeing from the house of correction, perhaps with one or more guards left dead behind them. So she betrayed her sweetheart to the authorities and they thwarted a plot for a wholesale jail delivery, set for 10:30 o'clock last night.

On her information Supt. Richie V. Graham, accompanied by many guards, ordered all prisoners to undress and then step into the corridor.

In a few moments he found the bars of two cells sawed almost clear through near the floor. A push would remove them.

Five Plotters in Confinement.

Two ringleaders, desperate criminals, and three other plotters, were placed in solitary confinement pending decision of authorities on how to punish them.

The name of the woman is kept secret to save her from underworld vengeance, Supt. Graham said.

The jail delivery plan is one of the oldest known to criminals and has been known to be highly successful, the police said last night.

In cell 9 of tier A at the Bridewell were Stanley Gype, escaped convict from Jefferson City, Mo., who attempted to murder a policeman here, and Paul Lupenheimer, wanted in Wisconsin for auto thefts and held here for robbery.

Ringleaders Furnish Saws.

In cell 13 were Ernest J. Clark, burglar; Hyman Christman, sentenced for attack; and Albert Max, jailed for carrying a gun.

Gype and Lupenheimer were the ringleaders. They furnished the tiny saws, it is believed, by which the prisoners, working for weeks in the darkness before dawn, gnawed away at the steel bars until only a little of the steel at the front was left, this last so guards wouldn't see the cuts.

In the mattress on the cot occupied by the bosses of the plot was found a cleverly carved wooden revolver.

At 10:30 o'clock last night the five conspirators planned to push their way through the partially severed bars. With the fake revolver they anticipated little trouble in overpowering the few guards usually on duty at that time.

Planned to Free Others.

They planned to take guns from the guards as they encountered them and to shoot any who objected. Then, the plot went on, they were to unlock all the doors in that section of the jail and let 75 of the toughest underworld characters in the prison free to roam the streets. Exit was to be accomplished by cutting the bars of a north side window of the jail.

Supt. Graham said the woman informant, was a friend of Lupenheimer. She told Graham that the prisoner had told her full details of the delivery plot but that her conscience wouldn't allow her to keep it a secret.

All five of those implicated in the plot confessed after the evidence of their work had been discovered in their cells, Supt. Graham declared.

$33,040 PAID FOR ELIOT'S BIBLE IN INDIAN TONGUE

[Copyright: 1925: By the New York Times.]

LONDON, May 4.—The record price of 6,800 pounds sterling [$33,040], the highest ever given for an American book, was paid today by Dr. A. S. W. Rosenbach at the Royal Society's sale for a translation into the Massachusetts Indian tongue by John Eliot, the "Indian apostle," of Richard Buxton's "Call to the Unconverted." Printed in 1664 in Cambridge, Mass., this is the only copy extant. It was presented to the Royal Society in 1669 by Gov. Winthrop of Conecticut. The competition for it was very keen.

AUTOS SLAY 15 DURING FIRST 4 DAYS OF MAY

Year's Total for the County 229.

Automobiles killed three persons in Cook county yesterday. Four were killed on Sunday. Three were killed on Saturday. Five were killed on Friday. Four May days and automobiles have killed fifteen men, women and children. The year's toll this morning is 229.

ALBERT VANDENBERG.
[Killed Sunday.]

While crossing 11th street at Michigan avenue, a corner which is protected by modern electric traffic signal lights, Millard N. Corn of Carlinville, 61-year-old educational representative of the Eagle Pencil company, was struck by an automobile driven by John Ethridge, 3500 Ellis avenue. Corn died at St. Luke's hospital. Ethridge was not held.

Killed in Niles Center.

At the command of Chief of Police William Strum of Niles Center, Sergt. Thomas Joyce, 3827 Pine Grove avenue, a member of the army, stopped his car in that village and got out to discuss a possible speeding charge. As they were talking, another car, driven by Harry Wilde, 22, 1403 North Baltimore avenue, crashed between the police chief's motorcycle and Joyce's car and Joyce was fatally injured.

A speeding automobile which did not stop struck and overturned another car at Sheffield avenue and Altgeld street and fatally injured the occupant, Lester Smith, 46, 2842 Burling street. Police traced the license plate of the fleeing car to Gus Anderpoulos, 633 Blue Island avenue, who was arrested with his son, Chris, 19, the supposed driver. They were said by the police to have admitted the accident. Smith died in the Alexian Brothers' hospital.

Two Manslaughter Charges.

Manslaughter charges were brought by coroner's juries against two motorists. Charles Borgen, who lives at the Exchange hotel, and whose automobile killed Casimir Pikul, aged 9,

The hands of the clock indicate the number of deaths by autos, guns, and moonshine in Cook county since Jan. 1. Yesterday was the one hundred and twenty-fourth day of 1925.

1818 South Troy street, in Douglas park, was one of the two held to the grand jury for manslaughter. The other is James Johnson, colored, 30, 5703 Lafayette avenue, held in the death of Benjamin Wallace, colored, 5531 Lafayette avenue, victim of Johnson's automobile.

James J. Stapleton, 29, armless justice of the peace at Gary, was killed yesterday when his automobile, driven by Thomas Smurden of Gary, hit a telegraph pole at the Grand Trunk railroad crossing on the Ridge road in Indiana. Smurden escaped with bruises. A heavy rain was falling and Smurden did not see an approaching freight train until it was upon them. He swerved the car and it struck the pole.

Seven Severely Injured.

Seven persons were severely injured, two of them children, perhaps fatally, when the automobile in which they were riding was struck by a Chicago, Aurora and Elgin interurban electric train near Wheaton. The injured are J. A. Frankenberg, the driver, 3131 Fulton street; his wife, their two children, Myrtle, 3, and Jennie, 2; Edward Sahner, 3104 West Monroe street; his wife, and his father, Louis Sahner, 60. All were taken to St. Charles hospital in Aurora.

Among Sunday's victims was Albert Vandenberg, 20, of South Holland, a University of Illinois student.

commission, in a report to the chairman of that body yesterday, suggested that the city council appropriate $100,000 for use by the commission in the next eight months in an extensive campaign against speed.

WOLFF BILL UP

Informed that the state senate committee considering his bill for licensing and examining motorists is to act tomorrow, Coroner Oscar Wolff yesterday addressed a plea to those he terms the real victims of the speed menace.

"You men and women whose children have been killed by careless or mentally incompetent automobile drivers and whose sisters and brothers have paid to this toll with their lives, you have a powerful motive in demanding protection for others," the coroner declared.

"Write to your representatives and senators in the legislature at Springfield. Tell them how much your loss has meant to you and how it is their duty to pass a measure which in other states has reduced the frightful slaughter by hundreds of lives each year."

Coroner Wolff has been assured, he said, that the bill he has drafted, and which has been submitted by Senator Edward Glackin, will be passed in committee tomorrow, thus putting the bill before the senate as a whole. The bill is patterned after the measures which are in effect in New York and Massachusetts.

AUTO ROBBER ADMITS ATTACK ON YOUNG GIRL

George Carey, 17 years old, 3363 Parnell avenue, taken into custody on April 30 on suspicion of being an automobile thief, last night confessed to the Hyde Park police that he and a companion, whose name is being withheld, criminally attacked a girl after they had robbed her escort, Harold Warner, 4718 Vincennes avenue, of $12. The assault was committed on the night of April 27 while Warner and the girl were in the former's car.

Warner and the girl, who are both employed in a real estate office, had been motoring and had just returned home when two robbers sprang out of the darkness and threatened them with revolvers.

The robbers forced Warner to drive several blocks, then directed him to turn into an alley. While one guarded Warner, the other dragged the girl into a lot where she was attacked. The other robber then went to the lot and also attacked her. When they returned, the two took $12 from Warner and drove away in the car.

Prices realized on Swift & Company sales of carcass beef in Chicago for week ending Saturday, May 2, on shipments sold out, ranged from 7.00 cents to 19.00 cents per pound and averaged 13.91 cents per pound.—Adv.

HOPKINS QUICK ON LAW TRIGGER IN PISTOL COURT

Ends Delays in Trial of Gun-Holdup Cases.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

Chicago's gun court set to work yesterday under the direction of Chief Justice Jacob Hopkins of the Criminal court.

Twenty-one defendants, boys and men, accused of "robbery with a gun," were herded from the jail into the pen back of the court on the sixth floor.

Singly or in groups they came out before the bench where the man with the soft voice—so gentle that it could be heard only a few feet—looked them over.

Law's Delays Banished.

Two assistant state's attorneys prosecuted and the court had nothing else to do but handle the gun cases. There was no rushing to trial, no threats, no desire to give the defendants any thing but even handed justice, but to give them that as quickly as the law allows.

"No long continuances," Judge Hopkins said as he listened to various excuses and pleas.

"A reasonable time to permit the defendants to get witnesses and the attorneys to make professional preparations, that is all."

That is about all the difference there is between the gun court and any other court.

Prisoner Denies Charge.

Frank Jackson, a plump negro who needed a shave badly, came up in the new court for larceny after he had denied a robbery with a gun charge.

Jackson was full of denials as he faced the witness in the gun charge, a diminutive brother of his race.

"Don't know nothin' 'bout that, judge", he said. "I never seen this man before."

"Ever been in the penitentiary?" asked the judge softly—oh, very softly.

"No judge", the prisoner said.

"You told me this morning, didn't you that you took that automobile continued the low voice.

"Well, ah guess so, but I don't know nothing on this gun robbery, never see this man befo'."

"One to ten years on the larceny charge," said the court.

Boy of 16 Arraigned.

Anton Valentino, 16 years old, was brought forward to answer to the robbery with gun charge. His attorney, F. C. Stalling, suggested that his client might be granted probation so that he could enroll in the night Y. M. C. A. courses.

"It is not likely that probation will be granted to any one brought into this court, charged with robbery with a gun," Judge Hopkins said. The case was continued to permit the police to get Valentino's companion.

From now on the gun court will be waiting for holdup boys.

Trials of 21 Are Set.

No cases were tried the first day, but trials were set for twenty-one defendants, the grist of the April grand jury. The May grand jury is just beginning to work.

"There are some gun cases already set in other courts," Judge Hopkins said later. "They will remain there. I want to concentrate all the future cases in this court, but if the work is too heavy I will start another gun court, or a third.

"The idea is simply this, that when a boy is tempted to go out and rob with a gun it must be in his mind that if he is caught he will have to go to trial, and quickly. The cases will no longer be put off again and again until all the witnesses are gone.

"A few convictions and a little publicity along this line, and I think we will have done something to reduce crime. The court should be a deterrent."

EVEN OUR MARY HAD 'MEMORY LAPSE' WHEN PASSING CUSTOMS

New York, May 4.—[Special.]—The plight of Pola Negri, whose undeclared jewelry might even cost her citizenship in this country, brought unexpected developments today. Customs officials seeking a case parallel to the motion picture star's for a precedent, unwittingly disclosed the hitherto unpublished fact that Mary Garden, Chicago grand opera diva, recently has been in a similarly embarrassing position.

MARY GARDEN.
[Copyright: Mishkin.]

Miss Garden, returning to this country from Europe several months ago, neglected to declare some wearing apparel.

The customs men had kept the case secret. It was a question purely of residence, they said today. The singer, they said, was moved by patriotism to pay the duties, as they are called politely, when she learned that if she did not pay them she would forfeit certain rights she had obtained when she took out first citizenship papers in this land.

GIANT DIRIGIBLE MOORED TO SHIP OFF PORTO RICO

PLAYA, Mayaguez, Porto Rico, May 4.—[A. P.]—The dirigible Los Angeles was sighted here at 6:19 p.m. and at 7:45 was moored to the mast of the tender Patoka.

Earlier Report Received.

Washington, D. C., May 4.—The dirigible Los Angeles reported her position at 6 o'clock this morning by dead reckoning at 480 miles from Mayaguez, her Porto Rican destination.

The message said the ship's four engines were running at cruising speed with a quartering wind from the northeast. It was slightly cloudy and head winds were expected further along.

It was estimated that when the Los Angeles reported she was about 550 miles off Florida and was maintaining her schedule.

Wife in Court Tells Judge Mate Sold Her

That she was sold by her husband to another man for $75, was the charge made before Judge Joseph Sabath yesterday by Mrs. Anton Job, 2157 North Lawndale avenue, suing for a divorce. Her husband, the other man, John Parker, 5737 Schubert street, both were in court and denied the transaction. After Judge Sabath had continued the case for investigation Mrs. Job went to the Court of Domestic Relations and charged Parker with being the father of her youngest child.

WIFE BEATEN IN RUM PARTY STILL IN COMA

Twenty-four hours after being beaten unconscious in a wild booze party in her Evanston home, Mrs. Irene Wild, wife of a Chicago advertising agent, was still in a coma early today in the Evanston hospital. Fear is expressed by attending surgeons for her life.

Her husband, Thomas J. Wild, is under arrest. He was too intoxicated for questioning, the police said.

Saturday night and Sunday the Wilds entertained with a noisy party at their home, 2121 Forest View avenue, in the Lincoln Wood section. On the first night neighbors sent for police and they found Mrs. Wild bruised and beaten but silent as to the cause. Early yesterday they were called again and found her unconscious on the floor, bleeding from many cuts. No one was in the house, but when Wild staggered in a few hours later he was arrested.

DELAY VERDICTS IN McCLINTOCK QUIZ TILL TODAY

Doctor Denies Directing Mercury for Mother.

"Did you prescribe or give mercury to Emma McClintock?"

"No, sir," responded Dr. Charles Krusemark, and that ended yesterday's session of the inquests into the deaths of Mrs. McClintock, William McClintock, and Dr. Oscar Olson. It was intended then to close the inquests and permit the jury to reach verdicts, but after a parley it was decided to end the six months' inquiry today.

Witnesses had given testimony upon various phases of the lives of Mrs. McClintock, her son, and William D. Shepherd, the man who inherited the McClintock $1,000,000, only to be indicted as the slayer of his benefactor. Most of the stories concerned the death of Mrs. McClintock, which has been ascribed to mercury poisoning, and of the acts and sayings of Shepherd about that time.

Tells of Shepherd Insult.

Mrs. Maud Walker, a niece of McClintock Sr., told of a visit to the home of Mrs. McClintock during the time the Shepherds were living with the millionaire's widow. Mrs. McClintock received her and her husband cordially, she said, and Mrs. Shepherd deliberately insulted her, saying:

"I don't see why Emma takes in strangers."

Mrs. Walker and her husband, who are from Ottumwa, Ia., testified Shepherd had given Mrs. McClintock powders in their presence, presumably headache powders. Both said Mrs. Walker's sister had seen Shepherd give Mrs. McClintock medicine frequently in Bay View, Tex., two weeks before the woman's death.

Mrs. Stella Carson of Linden, Ia., told of Mrs. McClintock's coming home to die. She was then housekeeper for Mrs. McClintock, and she contradicts Mrs. Shepherd's statement that "Mrs. McClintock died in my arms."

Relates Story of Home Life.

She told of the little incidents in the relationship of the Shepherds and Mrs. McClintock and of how the Shepherds treated Billy, the 7 year old millionaire orphan, after his mother's death.

They insisted he call them "dad" and "mother," she said, and she told of occasions when Billy came running to her crying, "Save me! Save me!" Her last act in quitting Mrs. Shepherd's service was to request Dr. Olson to watch over and protect little Billy, she testified.

"There is that in my system which must be eliminated," Mrs. McClintock wrote Mrs. Carson from Texas, as she announced her intention of returning home. This letter and several others were identified by Mrs. Carson and read into the record.

Tells of Mother's Arrival.

"She was deathly sick when she reached Chicago," the witness recalled. "Her complexion was yellow. Her eyes were glassy. She was wringing wet with perspiration.

"She asked me to call Dr. Olsen. He had moved and I couldn't reach him, so I called Dr. Krusemark. We called a nurse, Lulu Smith. Mrs. McClintock seemed to be worrying.

"She said she couldn't understand what Shepherd had done with all the money she had intrusted to him in Texas."

"How much was it?" asked Chief Justice Harry Olson of the Municipal court, who was directing the inquest without opposition. Attorneys William Scott Stewart and W. W. O'Brien, representing Shepherd, had decided to ignore the inquests.

"Four thousand dollars," Mrs. Carson replied. "Then there were unpaid bills coming in the mail from Texas."

Didn't Ask for Mrs. Shepherd.

Q. Did she say anything about sending for Mrs. Shepherd? A.—No.

Q.—Did she discuss the possibility of her death? A.—Yes. She wanted me to pray she'd live so she could take care of Billy.

Q.—When did Mrs. Shepherd arrive? A.—Three hours before Mrs. McClintock died.

Q.—What did she say? A.—That she wished she'd been there sooner.

Q.—What did she mean by that? A.—Well, when Mr. Shepherd came he said the will would have been different if they had been there earlier.

Q.—Was either of them remembered in the will? A.—Mrs. Shepherd was willed $5,000. Shepherd didn't like it because he was left out of the will.

Q.—He was mad about it? A.—Yes.

"Planned to Manage Estate."

Q.—Well, he's gotten even with her now, I guess. A.—He made remarks that when Billy was 18 he would take over the estate and take care of things for Billy.

At the conclusion of her testimony Coroner's Physician William D. McNally enumerated to her the symptoms of mercurial poisoning and as he mentioned each the witness said that described Mrs. McClintock's illness.

Edwin H. Badger, 1103 Maple avenue, Evanston, said at McClintock's funeral a man passed among the attendants at the graveside, apparently seeking to hear what every one there was saying. This man, he said, was cornered and said he was employed by Shepherd.

JURY CONVICTS MRS. DARBY DAY; SISTER IS FREED

Mrs. Darby Day Sr., the young wife waited until her husband leaned toward her in reaching forward to start the car and then dashed a phial of nitric acid into his face.

Mrs. Berenice Day in her own defense told a different story. She said she left the home of her husband only after her mother-in-law came between her and her husband.

She testified that the nitric acid represented her final agency for suicide, in case the interview of Feb. 23 showed her hopes for life with Darby were hopeless. She told the jurors she uncorked the bottle intending to drink it herself but that when Darby pressed the starter of his limousine the car jerked and the acid spurted out of the bottle in her half raised arm, over herself as well as her husband.

Following the acid throwing the life of both bride and her husband were despaired of by physicians. Darby has not yet regained his normal sight. Mrs. Day drank veronal after the acid throwing and was unconscious four days. When she got better she sent pleas for forgiveness to her husband

Tonight, Darby Day Jr. and Darby Day Sr. said "There never will be a reconciliation. We will move for a divorce."

RING RUM ROW IN STARVATION BLOCKADE TODAY

Fifty Coast Guard Ships Wait Super Drive.

New York, May 4.—Fifty coast guard ships awaited word off Staten Island tonight to launch the greatest anti-rum offensive this port has seen since the first dowdy looking liquor schooner dropped anchor outside Sandy Hook and rum row began, with its murders and brawls.

The fleet was called from regular coast guard patrols along the coast, and the cutters and fast launches, destroyers and submarine chasers, made an imposing array lying out from Stapleton, S. I. Provisions were being hoisted aboard and, following a conference of executive officers, the crews of all boats were suddenly shifted about so that scarcely a ship retained more than two of its original enlisted personnel.

Sailing Time Under Cover.

"For the good of the service," was the cryptic explanation of officers.

The wholesale transfer, which was unexpected, led to reports that the fleet would steam for rum row at dawn tomorrow. Reports in this city, however, had the time of departure as tomorrow night, with a "starvation and surveillance" blockade of the liquor freighters scheduled to start Wednesday morning.

The fact that "stronger measures" were to be used in the coast guard warfare on rum ships was admitted by Capt. W. V. E. Jacobs, New York divisional commander of the coast guard, after he had visited the guard base at Stapleton and inspected the fleet. He had a long conference with Capt. John Bryan, in commond of the base.

Denies It's Gunning Drive.

"We have been making efforts during the last year," said Capt. Jacobs, "to stop the rum fleet from landing illicit goods. But we have found it necessary to take stronger measures."

Capt. Jacobs denied orders had been issued to the coast guardemen to "shoot first and ask questions afterward." He said shots would be fired "only when necessary."

He said the purpose of the fleet was to maintain constant watch on the ships of the rum armada and thus harry them. Small boats would be foolish to make contact with the liquor vessels with a federal ship standing by, since mere contact would enable the coast guard craft to seize the small boat, he explained.

When finger nails and screams failed her, Miss Marion Nexsen, 4003 South California avenue, used a revolver to fight off a Negro yesterday morning. The gun did the work. Miss Nexsen was working in the office of Samuel Watz, garage builder, at 4108 South Michigan avenue, when the Negro entered. He tore at her clothes and choked her, but she jerked her employer's revolver out of a desk drawer and emptied it at her assailant.

YOUTHS RECOUNT HOLDUP ORGY AFTER DRINKING

Find Life Hard; Rob 8 in 45 Minutes.

BY GENEVIEVE FORBES HERRICK.

If George Linehan and Norman Denon had kept on with their mediocre jobs, their mediocre amusements, and their mediocre vices, nobody would have heard much of them.

If George Linehan and Norman Denon had split the routine into a series of police scraps that climaxed in one superlative crime, everybody would have heard about them, but nobody would have cared much.

Instead, these two youths, George is 23, Denon 21, drank cheap red wine all Saturday night and flared up Sunday morning in a series of 8 stickups in 45 minutes, got caught, and discovered that their sixty minutes' worth of bravado had tapered off considerably as they sat in the Shakespeare avenue police station yesterday afternoon and told their story to Captain P. J. Harding.

On Crime Wave Crest.

So now the two have become clinical patients in this laboratory of crime that everybody is talking about these days.

As a story, it isn't so colorful. As a diagnosis chart it may be important. Their story doesn't excuse the two. It doesn't especially blame them. Perhaps it may explain them.

Linehan was born in Chicago, over in a crowded section on the southwest side, 23 years ago. His mother had to work at the county hospital to support her three children, so he had a busy time of it by himself. Busy, that is, until that summer morning when he was three years old, when a street car ran him down and cut off one of his legs at the thigh.

His mother had to work too hard over at the hospital to give the invalid proper care. So, under the direction, he says, of the Juvenile court, he was sent to a semi-orphanage at Navoo, Ill.

Back in Chicago at 15.

Twelve years of institution life and the fifteen year old boy with the wooden leg "that hurt when I grew," and a somewhat sullen disposition that psychologists might have explained, but he couldn't, came back to Chicago.

Linehan doesn't want sympathy and he's laconic about his misfortune.

"Sure, my leg hurt a lot when my body got bigger," he said. "Ya, I've had five different wooden ones. Well, yes, I play ball."

His mother is dead now and he lives about, here and there, with a job here and there. There was the 300 or so dollars he got for his leg. Somehow that doesn't go a long way.

Presently his sister Ruth married an Italian, one Savianno, and they went to live up three wobbly flights in the rear of 1215 Taylor street. George took his fugitive pay check, his wooden leg that "hurt where it's hitched," and his morose slant on life, over to the Savianno's flat.

"Gee, there musta been a million kids in the joint," he recalled yesterday.

Pretty soon there was anoher one, Ruth's baby, Rose. "What with the rooms the Saviannos rented to make ends meet, it was mighty crowded up there. So George was out often.

Gets Job as Slugger.

"First thing we knew," his sister explained yesterday, "he got mixed up with some union. Because his leg was bad he tried to make his fist good and he was a slugger for a union. But that was dangerous and not steady pay."

The next thing it led to, Linehan sort of grunts the story, was an arrest, together with a companion, on a robbery charge.

"They kept me in jail two months. Naw, I didn't meet many of the fellows there, I was sick in the hospital most of that time," he says.

It was the left lung that had started going mean back in Navoo, making trouble again. A trial, a discharge and George Linehan went back into the world with his surly "what's the use" philosophy more deeply ingrained in him.

"My husband's a foreman", Ruth is prideful as she tells it, "and he was always after George to get him a job as a machinist, but George, he was funny, nobody could tell him anything. Wouldn't listen to us. Then a couple of weeks ago he got kidney trouble and went to the hospital."

Operation? No Money.

There was talk of an operation; but there was no money, and besides Linehan said, "What's the use?"

So he walked out of the hospital and into an occasional job driving a truck. At night, if he had any money left, he'd walk over to Spino's at 924 Polk street for "eats and drinks".

It was at Spino's that he met Norman Deno, an overgrown, gauky boy who talks his story over and over again.

Norman, the son of French parents, was born in St. Louis twenty-one years ago. When he was 12 his father was taken sick and he left the fifth grade to go to work 12 hours a day in a paper mill at Alton, Ill.

About six years of this and the family come up to Chicago. His father's well now, but it's too late for a tall, 18 year old boy to go back to the fifth grade. Instead he goes to a lumber mill, one week day time, one week night-time hours.

"Last October," Norman relates it spaciously, "I saved up enough to go back to St. Louis and get married to Ruth. She was a waitress down there and I'd known her a long time. I took her up here, but long about Christmas she got anxious to go back to a railroad job and went out to Tulsa, Okla., in a depot restaurant.

"No, we're not just exactly separated, not for good."

Norman's eyes are bulging almost out of his head. And the gouges he gives them with a soiled handkerchief can't help that burning feeling he tells about back in his head.

Saturday night he had the $8 in his pockets so he washed up and went to Spino's. There he met Linehan.

It's a little moon from somewhere and all the Dago red they can drink until early Sunday morning. Then into the car and out. A gold watch and $40 from one man; $20 from another. A purse containing $1.50, and a pair of rosary beads from a girl coming home from mass. Another rosary and $3 from a woman who screamed.

"That's all I recollect," Norman says over and over, "the lady who screamed. I don't remember nothing else."

POLICE CHIEF FROM OUTSIDE; ONE CRIME CURE

Hard Boiled Army Officer Urged by Some.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

Here is an observation that kept bobbing up in yesterday's quest of the lowdown on the crime situation:

The quickest way to restore the morale of Chicago's police force would be the appointment of a civilian chief, preferably an army officer with a high record of accomplishment. Then give him full swing, as Philadelphia did to Gen. Smedley D. Butler of the marines to fight the criminals as hard as the criminals fight society—with no political strings attached.

That opinion was encountered among old leaders in the city's nightlife, elder statesmen among the bootleggers who, it appears, are being pushed out by new surething mobs, and among politicians in touch with district conditions.

Veteran Gives Views.

In the backroom of a small restaurant in one of the best North side residential districts, a purveyor of contraband wet goods who for twenty years and more has been a figure of some importance in the irrigation industry and its attendant politics, took a sip from his Scotch highball and discoursed.

"Crime is on a sounder financial basis than ever," he said. "That's the chief trouble. Look at all this booze and bootleg money. It has been a terrific wad of dough, bigger than a Yukon gold strike. It has gone into things outside the law. Its worst effect has been the corruption of public servants. They say it's a tight town. What the hell? Are they kidding themselves? There are as many joints running as ever, only less of them work the beer racket and more sell moon and varnish can alky.

Profits Split Up.

"The bootlegger and seller hasn't been able to hang on to the profits. As a rule the guy who got in with the first batch of leggers and is still in the game hasn't got much dough. He has had to split it too many ways. A few years ago, after Volstead went in, it was a swell game, nothing but profits. Then the grafting opened up strong, then the hi-jacking, then the greasing. Say, profits began to melt. A guy would think he was twenty grand to the good on a batch of fancy stuff, but by the time he turned around the fixers and others had stood him on his head and shaken it out of his kick.

"Then after a bit the racket became better organized. Smaller syndicates began to get the big control. The big money attracted a new mob. The change in control over booze which put the game in the hands of the police helped them along. Many of the old leggers and the respectable dealers were pushed out. They're going slow now, peddling a drink now and then to a right guy, but in general a new mob has the booze game. It's not the old push that used to run the barrooms in old days.

"This new mob has cleaned up. Most of the honest, respectable buys have been frozen out. In their place has come a gang of overlords. Some used to be burglars. Most of them were oldtime hoodlums. Now they have got more dough than a pie foundry and money talks. A dollar speaks louder today than ever.

"I see the police say they have put them all in the can. What the hell? What does a guy with a million bucks care if he is slammed in the hoose for a few months for cleaning up a hundred grand?

"The former hoodlums who have now become aristocrats on account of their big dough are now able to exert a big pull. Talk about drag! Some of them now are valuable clients at the bank. They have invested in industries and are stockholders in powerful corporations. They are rolling around in big cars with chauffeurs and live on the fat of the land in highest style. Some have bought what are called gentlemen's estates. One guy paid $5,000 for his bathroom.

"They get the best rooms at the hotels, the best tables at the cabarets, the best service in the cafés, for they are lavish spenders. They are the first night mob at the theaters, in the front seats in tuxedos, their women folk blazing with diamonds and looking like the front page of Vanity Fair.

"Say if they went through a first night crowd at a theater, they'd probably fine 300 rods. They've got special pockets in their pants to carry them. Look them over, though, and you'd take them for gold coast Johns. Say d'ye suppose all this patronage, all these irons in the fire, all these business investments, don't work a drag for them if the cops throw them in the can? Say, these guys can reach in twice as far with a drag as the oldtimer who had to depend on the aldermen or the committeeman."

START TRIAL OF THE LEO KORETZ OF LITHUANIANS

WILLIAM F. WAUGH.

Capt. William F. Waugh, first assistant United States district attorney, today will begin unfolding before a federal jury the story of how the government alleges one N. P. West, on an investment of $45,000 of other people's money, extracted $500,000 from 2,500 Chicago citizens of Lithuanian birth.

According to Capt. Waugh, West's methods resembled those of Leo Koretz, although West used Wyoming near oil fields for his lure.

West, it is alleged, established what he called his Special Deal No. 1, which guaranteed a dividend of $75 a month on each $50 invested. Special Deal No. 2 gave small dividends, and then came No. 3. This was where they got the bad news, even West's own agents, according to Capt. Waugh.

Winston Gets Data on Europe's Ability to Pay

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

PARIS, May 4.—Garrard Winston of Chicago, American undersecretary of the treasury, interviewed Foreign Minister Briand, Finance Minister Joseph Caillaux, and Louis Loucheur before sailing for home last Saturday, and it is reported that he is carrying a comprehensive statement regarding the financial stability of the various European debtors and some concrete suggestions as to how the war debts may be collected.

MIDGET BANDIT ADMITS BOSSING $105,000 RAID

Fernekes Tells Police of Argo Bank Robbery.

Henry Fernekes, midget bandit, wanted for four murders and scores of bank robberies, yesterday talked to the police for the first time in the three weeks since he was arrested in the Crerar library.

He admitted he engineered a famous bank robbery, a robbery which enables the police to link up much of his activity in the last seven years.

He confessed to Chief of Detectives Schoemaker that he was the head of the gang of five which held up the Argo State bank at 63d street and Archer avenue on Sept. 20, 1918, and stole $105,000. In those days bank robberies were rare and the news of the holdup and the subsequent arrest of four of the five went all over the country.

Bossed the Job.

"I bossed that job," said Fernekes. The midget's four companions in the holdup are now serving thirty-five year terms in Waupun penitentiary, Wisconsin. They are William Taglia, Lewis Dampagni, and Gustave Saunders.

And it was the arrest of Gustave Saunders that links Ferneke's past with his present. For when Saunders was arrested his wife disappeared.

A clipping from THE TRIBUNE of Oct. 25, 1918, tells the story: "Mrs. Jennie M. Saunders, wife of Gustave Saunders, who confessed to being one of the gang and returned $46,000 in bonds and money, has been missing since his arrest. Her relatives fear she has committed suicide."

Changed Her Mates.

But she had not killed herself; she had run away to live with Fernekes. Since Aug. 30, 1922, they have been living at 422 East Marquette road. A child, now nearly a year and a half old, was born to them.

When Fernekes was arrested, Mrs. Saunders went to Attorney Clarence Darrow and gave him four diamond rings. Mr. Darrow denies they were given as a retainer's fee, saying he merely is keeping them in security for the woman.

Mrs. Saunders disappeared yesterday, but police say she will be easy to trace.

GYPSY CHILD DIES OF BURNS.

Rose Starley, 4 years old, 3151 South State street, a gypsy, died at the Mother Cabrini Memorial hospital yesterday from burns.

Leonard Herts Gains; Recovery Seems Certain

Recovery of Leonard Herts from fractures of the skull and spine he suffered when thrown from his horse at the horse show last Thursday, seemed certain last night when the 17 year old son of John Herts, head of the Yellow Cab company, for the first time regained his full consciousness, recognizing his father, mother, and sisters as they sat anxiously at his bedside.

Complete Furnishers of Successful Homes

An Old Square House in a New Loop Home

WABASH AND ADAMS

We do not know whether to apologize or to congratulate ourselves

WE expected a very great crowd of visitors on the opening days of our great new store at Adams and Wabash. But even our most enthusiastic anticipations have been exceeded.

If you were one of the thousands and thousands who have been here, you realize how humanly impossible it was for us to do all that we planned to do by way of welcome.

But we are glad that the beauty of the store, the completeness of displays, and the merchandise values made up for any lack of attention on our part. We are glad that the charm of the interior, the wide roominess of the aisles, the splendid architectural perfection, excited so much enthusiastic admiration.

We are glad that the principles established so simply away back in 1865 have had such a culmination and we are encouraged to look into the future and see still greater accomplishments.

While the interest in the new store continues unabated, we have of course managed to adjust our staff more completely to the requirements of the public. Furthermore, we would emphasize the fact that in each of the seven beautiful community stores in Chicago the same goods, the same styles, the same quality and the same prices are at your service.

But we do thank you, and we do invite you to come again and come often, and to make full use of every advantage of this—the Largest, Most Beautiful, Most Complete Home Furnishing Store in Chicago.

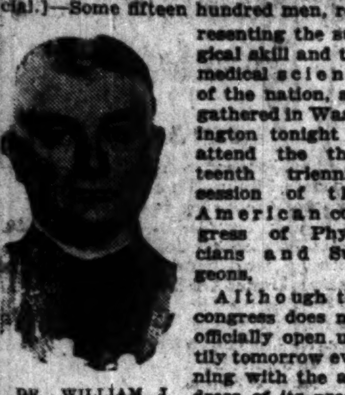
NOTED DOCTORS OF NATION OPEN 13TH CONVENTION

16 Scientific Associations Will Meet Today.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 4.—[Special.]—Some fifteen hundred men, representing the surgical skill and the medical science of the nation, are gathered in Washington tonight to attend the thirteenth triennial session of the American congress of Physicians and Surgeons.



DR. WILLIAM J. MAYO.

Although the congress does not officially open until tomorrow evening with the address of its president, Dr. William J. Mayo of Rochester, Minn., it really got under way today with the premilinary meetings of some of the sixteen scientific associations and societies which go to make up this great body, which touches surgery and medicine in all its most minute branches.

Practically all the papers read today were of a highly technical nature, touching upon some special field of opthalmology, otology, dermatology, or the numerous other "ologies" that treat with special portions of the human anatomy.

The real keynote of the congress will not be sounded until Dr. Mayo speaks tomorrow evening of the great contributions which pure science has made to progressive medicine since the last meeting of the body three years ago and the general discussion of the congress takes place on Wednesday.

This discussion under the rules on which the congress was founded and in keeping with the purposes for which it is conducted, must touch some field of medicine or surgery that is common to all its sixteen component parts. This session the topic will be "The Ductless Glands."

Won't Hear from Chicagoans.

No Chicago surgeons are on the main program this year. Dr. John J. Abel of Johns Hopkins Medical school will read a paper on "General Considerations in Respect to the Harmones." Dr. Charles G. Stockard of Cornell Medical school, New York, will have a contribution on "The Gonads and Sex Physiology" and Dr. Walter B. Cannon of the Harvard Medical school another on "Some General Features of Endocrine Influence on Metabolism." The discussion will be led by Dr. Lewellys F. Barker of Baltimore.

Members of Congress.

The organizations which make up the congress are the American Association of Genito-Urinary Surgeons, American Orthopedic association, American Pediatric society, American Association of Pathologists and Bacteriologists, American Ophthalmological society, American Otolegical society, American Neurological association, American Gynecological society, American Dermatological association, American Society of Tropical Medicine, American Laryngological association, American Surgical association, American Climatological and Clinical association and the Association of American Physicians.

Physicians on the Scene.

Dr. Edwin W. Ryerson, president of the American Orthopedic association; Dr. Cassius D. Westcott, president of the American Ophthalmological society; Dr. Albert J. Ochsner, president of the American Surgical association; Dr. H. Douglas Singer, vice president of the American Neurological association; Dr. L. L. McArthur, member of the council of the American Surgical association; Dr. Joseph A. Capps, treasurer of the Association of American Physicians; Dr. John L. Porter of Evanston, treasurer of the American Orthopedic association; Dr. Isaac A. Abt, chairman of the council, and Dr. Clifford G. Grulee, recorder and editor, of the American Pediatric society; Dr. Frank Smithies, member of the council of the American Society of Tropical Medicine; Dr. H. Gideon Wells, member of the council, American Association of Immunologists; C. M. Child, professor of zoölogy at the University of Chicago, and Drs. J. Gordon Wilson, Robert Sonnenschein, Joseph C. Beck, Charles M. Robertson, George B. Hassin, I. Diamond, George W. Hall, Lawrence Mayers, Joseph L. Baer, Carey Culbertson, Joseph B. De Lee, William C. Danforth, N. Sproat Heaney, Ernest L. McEwen, Frances E. Senear, Barney Usher, Edward A. Oliver, N. C. Gilbert, Otto J. Stein, Edwin McGinnis, James B. Herrick, Vernon C. David, Kellogg Speed, Rollin T. Woodyatt, Charles S. Williamson, A. H. Shanberg, Louis E. Schmidt, Harry Culver, Herman L. Kretschmer, Philip Lewin, and John A. Foote.

MRS. ZALINAS ON TRIAL FOR ARSENIC SLAYING

Whether arsenic soup was on the menu of Dominick Zalinas, as prepared by his blonde, comely, and good natured young wife, Mrs. Bernice Zalinas, 24, was the question put yesterday when the woman was placed on trial for murder before Judge William V. Brothers.

Love for another man was Mrs. Zalinas' motive for putting away her husband, Assistant State's Attorney Robert O'Connell, the prosecutor, charges.

Love for her husband was so great that she couldn't possibly have put arsenic in his soup, is the answer put by Attorney Eugene L. McGarry, defense counsel.

It is expected the trial will commence today, folllowing completion of the selection of a jury.

ROB CAB DRIVER OF $27.

Vincent Tomiczewski, 1402 North Claremont avenue, a cab chauffeur, was robbed of $27 yesterday morning by two bandits who engaged his cab at California and Milwaukee avenue.

Just a Touch of Ice-Mint. PRESTO!

Corn sufferers gather round; get right up close and listen, here's good news for you.

The real genuine "Corn Killer" is here at last. No humbug. Ice-Mint, the new discovery made from a Japanese product, is said to surely and quickly end all foot misery. Think of it, only a touch or two of that cooling, soothing Ice-Mint and real foot joy is yours. No pain, not a bit of soreness, either when applying it or afterwards, and it doesn't even irritate the surrounding skin.

Hard corns, soft corns or corns between the toes, also toughened callouses just shrivel right up and lift off so easy. It's wonderful.

Every foot sufferer can appreciate a treatment like this, especially women who wear high heel shoes and men who are obliged to stand on their feet all day.

Try it. Just ask in any drug store for a few cents worth of Ice-Mint and learn for yourself what solid foot comfort really is. There is nothing like it.

Resinol

"If Every Woman in the City Knew What 'Boncilla' Would Do for Her Skin, the Toilet Counters Couldn't Supply the Demand"

J M Price

I wish I could talk to every woman in this city over the radio tonight. The story I would tell would be almost unbelievable. But it is a story of fact. The story of Boncilla.

To me the most interesting thing in the world is the study of faces. Each face tells a story—of hopes or fears, of accomplishment or disappointment, of character or the lack of it, of well-grooming or commonplaceness.

Women were born to be charming of face. Many are beautifully so. Others stop just short of loveliness. I sought out the difference between that drab plainness and distinctive attractiveness. I discovered that the features are not the full measure of personality. I have concluded after years of observation that it is not the features as much as the complexion that makes or unmakes attractiveness. Your features may be ordinary, but they are put in the background and lose sight of if you have a wonderful tea-rose complexion.

The next step was to produce a remedy. After years of study and experiment, I have found it—only one thing more than the creams and face powder you are now using, but, oh, what a difference in results!

Before me as I write this are the thankful expressions of numerous women—men, too—who have used my magic method of making faces finer and fairer. This is the Boncilla Beauty Method.

As different from other toilet preparations as the sun is brighter than the shimmering moon, my blue-gray Clasmic known as Boncilla Beautifier purges the skin of impurities, draws out imperfections like a magnet, lifts out lines and wrinkles, dispels pimples and blackheads, and leaves your complexion clean, clear, soft and smooth.

It refreshes and rejuvenates the face until you both feel and look different. It chases away all sense of tiredness. It peps you up. It makes you over—quickly and completely.

Right from the first application, you can see and know the difference. And all it costs you to experience this transformation is an idle half hour twice a week, at the trivial outlay of a dime a time.

I use Boncilla twice a week myself. In consequence, I have fewer lines in my face than I had ten years ago. I used Boncilla for six years before I offered it to the public. Now, everyone in our office and laboratories here uses it—believes in it. That is the best evidence in the world of our faith in the merits of Boncilla.

I want you to try Boncilla Beautifier. Not because I make it, but because I know it is the greatest aid in existence in the cultivation of feminine beauty. You risk nothing because Boncilla is guaranteed. If you are not satisfied and delighted after a fair trial, your purchase money will be returned.

To obtain the utmost benefit of Beautifier, you are urged to use in connection with it, for your daily toilet, my two Boncilla Creams—Cold and Vanishing—and Boncilla Face Powder, as each assists the other to cleanse and soothe, perfect and protect your delicate skin.

Great possessions seldom come unsought. If you desire beauty, you must cultivate it. Go to your nearest toilet counter, if you wish to keep Youth in your face to a ripe old age, and ask for a Pack O' Beauty.

A Few Typical Needs for Boncilla

- When your skin is sallow and muddy.
- When you are annoyed with pimples and blackheads.
- When care and scowl lines first appear.
- When wrinkles come—or you wish to avoid them.
- When your skin-tone is dull and needs more color.
- When your face muscles grow soft and flabby.
- When your pores tend to enlarge.
- When your face is losing its soft smoothness.
- When your face chaps and freckles.
- When that look of freshness starts to fade.
- When you're tired out and need "pepping" up.
- Whenever you wish to look your very best.

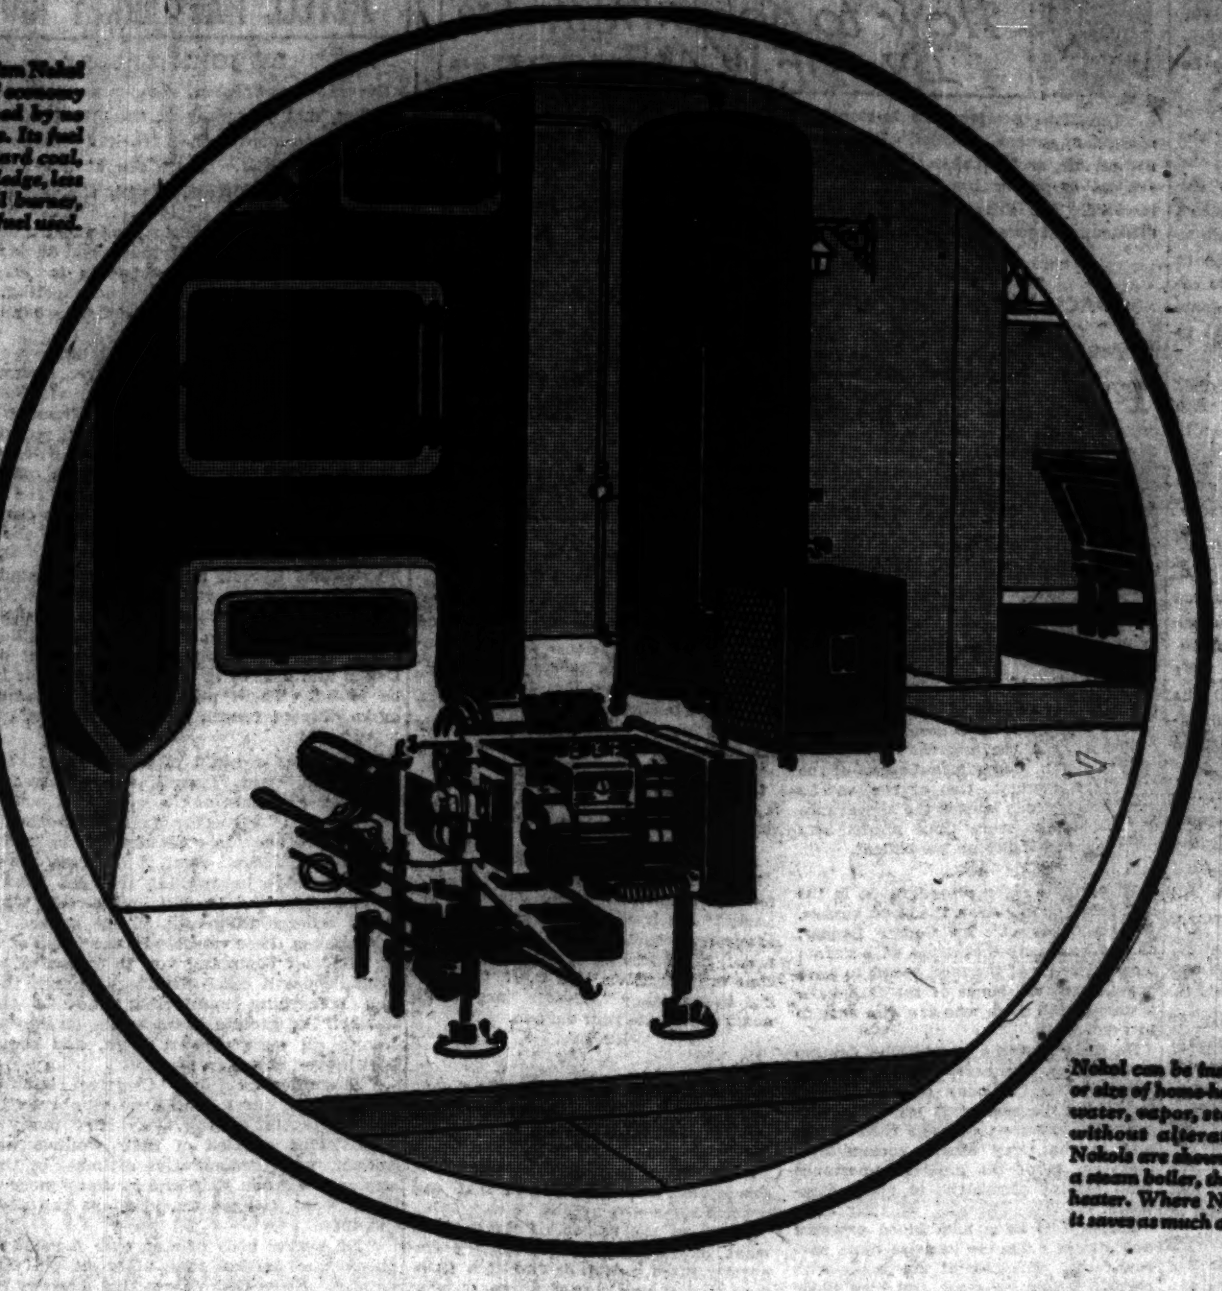
As an oil burning mechanism Nokol today offers guarantees of economy and efficiency approached by no other home-heating device. Its fuel cost is less than that of hard coal, and to the best of our knowledge, less than that of any other oil burner, regardless of the grade of fuel used.



Nokol can be installed in any type or size of home-heating plant—hot water, vapor, steam, warm air—without alterations. Here two Nokols are shown, one installed in a steam boiler, the other in a water heater. Where Nokol replaces gas it saves as much as 50% in fuel cost.

Oil heat is here and Nokol brought it

The success of automatic oil heating for homes dates from the day the Nokol combustion chamber was perfected. It is radically different from any other method of burning oil. It meant a complete reversal of previous oil-burning practice. In it oil burns with a clean, sootless, odorless flame. No part of the flame touches the boiler.

What is the proper fuel for home heating?

Nokol burns a cheap distillate which will always be plentiful. It does not recommend the use of so called "heavy low grade fuel oil." Experience has shown low grade oil is not capable of rendering the automatic heating service which Nokol brings to the home. And the fuel cost of Nokol, burning distillate, is to the best of our knowledge, less than that of any other oil burner, regardless of the grade of fuel used.

Nokol discovered the fallacy of attempting to burn low grade oil in the home 9 years ago, in the laboratory. When an automatic oil burner for the home claims to burn low grade oil it is usually a sign of inexperience. As a matter of fact few oil burners that claim to burn fuel oil actually do so in cold weather. In many localities oil companies are already refusing to deliver low grade oil for use in automatic domestic oil burners.

The day of oil heat is here. Nokol brought it. The success of automatic oil heating for the home dates from the day 7 years ago when the first Nokol was installed.

The leadership of Nokol, established at that time, has never been challenged. Of approximately 75,000 automatic oil burners installed in the United States, by 347 manufacturers, 22,000 are Nokols.

Nokol leadership has been maintained through the performance of Nokol in the home, in the hands of its users. It has been maintained by the principles of oil combustion the first Nokol laid down. In 7 years not one fundamental change in these principles has been necessary.

Nokol leadership has been maintained by constant refinements in the Nokol mechanism, always the simplest on the market. These refinements are such that Nokol today gives guarantees of efficiency and economy approached by no other home heating device—coal or oil. The fuel cost of Nokol is less than that of hard coal. It is also to the best of our knowledge less than that of any other oil burner, regardless of the grade of oil used.

Nokol leadership has been maintained through steadfast adherence to principles which have enabled us to render to the home-owner exactly what Nokol is meant to render—a literally automatic heating service. These principles have included the choice of the proper grade of fuel, one capable of rendering automatic service. It has included the avoidance of hectic promises that neither Nokol nor any other oil burner could fulfill.

Nokol leadership has been maintained through the careful building up of an organization capable of properly installing, servicing and guaranteeing Nokol—capable of living up to the long-run policy of Nokol—a policy which puts satisfaction to the owner above all things.

The result is that when a home-owner buys Nokol today, he buys more than an oil burner. He buys a guaranteed heating service. He buys heat, without dirt, labor, trouble, or interruption, at less than the cost of coal.

Don't Wait—Investigate Now

To make certain you will have your Nokol for Fall, act now. More Nokols are being installed this year than ever before. We can install only a very definite number before October 1st. Our installation dates for September are practically filled. Dates for August are rapidly filling. Act now, while there is still time to arrange for an installation at your convenience. Call or phone today for one of our heating engineers. He can tell you after an inspection of your heating plant what a Nokol installation will cost in your home. Or send the coupon.

Special Offer

A limited number of installations can be made on special terms. Attractive discounts for installation now, with payments to begin October 1st. If you want your Nokol installed on these terms, send or bring in the coupon today.

ANOTHER MISSIONARY EXHORTS US.

The celebrated dean of St. Paul's, London, if we may credit the accuracy of a New York news item, has disclosed himself as one of that large band of missionaries which in a virtually continuous pilgrimage since 1914 has adventured to our shores to instruct and exhort us as to our duty to Europe.

We had expected of Dean Inge something more pungent and original than the message he is reported to have delivered to an audience in a New York church last Sunday. When we are told he declared that England is waiting for America to show the way we suspect misquotation by the reporter or irony by the dean. It seems to us unlikely that Dean Inge, a stalwart Tory and puncturer of popular fallacies, would offer us again that familiar fiction. He is said to have remarked that while New York might understand Europe, the middle west and west look upon it as another world, and to this extent, being middle western, we would hasten to admit that we are unable to find evidence of the disposition he assures us is that of his nation.

The late Woodrow Wilson, it is surely not too late for Dean Inge to recall, did indeed propose to show a way in the 14 points promptly scrapped on the collapse of German military resistance and in the treaty making of the peace conference. There is a considerable body of opinion in this country that holds the Wilsonian theories of peacemaking and stabilization the right way, but we did not notice that it was eagerly followed by British statesmen. And whether overlooked or otherwise understood by New York, in the middle west and west we observe that if England is waiting for America to show her the way she is not losing much in the waiting. We saw England take over a large section of the globe after the war, and we see her now consolidating gains of vast importance in the near east. In Egypt, Palestine, Arabia, Mesopotamia, and Persia and even in new Turkey we have watched her influence and her imperial assets grow.

We do not begrudge her the gains. On the contrary, we are inclined to think that if her new responsibilities are not unmanageable they make for that stabilization of the world and that extension of civilization in backward lands which America, thinking pragmatically, can afford to view with satisfaction. It is our belief that a wise extension of British influence and substantial interest within the framework of the imperial design, as we are able in our humble middle western way to understand its scope and spirit, is not only compatible with our welfare but even in some measure conducive to it. If British policy, as we are willing to believe, aims at peace, the development of the world's material resources, and the stimulation of international commerce, it ought not seriously to collide with our interests, but on the contrary should make peace and even a good measure of coöperation possible between the empire and the American republic.

But that, we take it, is not what Dean Inge intended his audience to understand by showing England the way. It is to the credit of Britain's very practical statecraft that she knows that way well. Dean Inge was exhorting us to leave our "selfish isolation" and make better use of what he tells us is our endowment of privileges and responsibilities for the salvation not only of ourselves but for all civilization.

In plain English, the dean wants us to enter the league of nations unless we can show a better way of saving the world. Perhaps we do not understand Europe as well as New York, but one of the reasons why we in the middle west are not much moved by exhortations to leave our selfish isolation and enter the league is that we think if there is anything the history of the world in the last decade reveals it is that the United States has been neither selfish nor isolated. We are not going to rehearse the historic facts which seem to us to illustrate this opinion, but if we may say so without discourtesy to a guest and a reverend, we think references to our "selfish isolation" are rather offensively ungrateful and neglectful of conspicuous facts.

And if Europe really is looking for the American people to show the way, may we point out that to the best of our ability from 1787 onward we have shown the way by integrating the affairs of a continent, wiping out artificial barriers, and learning to keep peace among widely divergent interests and traditions, faiths and races, instead of multiplying conflicts and exacerbating differences?

Does Dean Inge think the treaty of Versailles and the covenant appended to it, with measures for its enforcement, points that way, or does he seriously invite the United States, having offered an example of another way, to compel Europe to adopt it?

The trouble with the many missionaries who come to us with invitations to save Europe from herself is that their concrete interest is always in our adopting a device which, if it is all they pretend it is, would work satisfactorily without us. If there is the will to bring peace and justice to Europe, and the covenant is a suitable instrument of that will, why is it necessary for us to adopt it? Can we impose the will upon European statesmanship? Obviously if our example cannot do it, we must rely upon some form of force, and even if we were disposed to resort to force for the imposition of measures we conceive to be wise and right, would England welcome it, or France, or Germany, or Italy, if it did not coincide with what they believe is a vital interest?

In short, we can identify neither the treaty of Versailles and its covenant nor the policies of the signatory European nations since the war with the somewhat vague if lofty aspirations which the missionaries to benighted and selfish America preach to us. And when we are asked by them to believe that Europe is merely waiting for us to realize these aspirations we must beg leave to express a reasonable skepticism and ask for some evidence in action. Our latest evidence comes in the form of a coöperation between France and Spain to put down the Riffians, who are so barbarous as to be fighting for self-determination, with the league of nations on the side lines significantly silent.

WHAT ARE BALLOON RACES FOR?

Even before Mr. Van Orman came down a winner at Reform, Ala., some 600 miles from where he started at St. Joseph, Mo., doubts were assailing us. We didn't know why he and the other contestants in the annual balloon race went up. We restrained our desire to express doubt until the race was over because we felt that the contestants, if they survived, would be best qualified to resolve our difficulties.

What we want to know is this: Are balloon races anything but sporting events? Some people seem to think that information about winds and more obscure meteorological matters is obtained by the balloonists every time they cut loose, but nobody seems to know exactly what the discoveries are.

Until we hear from Mr. Van Orman or some one else who knows, we must continue to have doubts. We must wonder, particularly, that the army takes part in these races every year with no apparent purpose but to get one or two men lost in inaccessible parts of the world. The balloonist who is most successfully lost wins the race. He sails along for a day or so, gloom on his face, until he is blown over a wilderness. Then his spirits revive. When he hasn't heard a sound for hours, he eats his last sandwich. At last and faintly comes the sound of a dog barking. The gas is now all but gone from the bag, and he comes down in the Canadian wilderness or Reform, Ala. Sometimes he finds the dog and sometimes he doesn't. Anyway, three days later the balloonist himself is found, and after the protests of the other contestants have been thrown out, he is declared winner of the $1,000 prize.

We don't believe it is the $1,000 which tempts the army nor that ballooning around is good training for airplane pilots. We don't think the army is under obligations to engage in a suicidal sport either because it is a sport or because it is suicidal. The army plays polo not because it is hazardous, but because it makes for horsemanship. The army has never gone in for automobile racing, so far as we know, although its interest in motor transport is enormous, and automobile racing has led to improvements in automobile engineering.

Until we hear to the contrary, we are going to suspect the interest in balloon races is a matter of military tradition. About the time of the Franco-Prussian war the balloon became of some military importance. When you were surrounded by the enemy you got into a balloon and let the wind blow you some place else, and it didn't matter a great deal where. Then you came down and gave the natives where you landed the low-down on the situation in the beleaguered town. That was what Gambetta did. Balloons in 1871 had a military value which has since disappeared, but the army has gone right on ballooning.

Still, that explanation may be all wrong. We invite correction from Mr. Van Orman, or any one else who knows all about it.

DIGNIFYING SMUT.

The exclusion of the Harvard Lampoon from the mail was a silly exhibition of federal bureaucracy.

The smutty minded adolescents who concocted the vulgar issue will accept the postoffice clerk's censure as an indication of their own importance and will be encouraged to attempt something really objectionable.

Correction might properly have been administered by the disciplinary authorities of Harvard, if for no other reason, because parents of other boys may hesitate to send them to an institution where they may find associates not calculated to improve their young minds.

Editorial of the Day

THE PESTILENCE OF FANATICISM.

[Senator James A. Reed in the American Mercury for May.]

The present day reformer supplants the ancient and foolish doctrine, "Everything that is, is right," with the still more foolish doctrine, "Everything that is, is wrong." In a world which an intelligent and patriotic ancestry lovingly handed over to us in a reasonably well ordered condition he runs amok. Our inherited liberties, guaranteed by a constitution and code of laws, together forming a homogeneous system, are recklessly attacked until the whole structure is seriously imperiled.

The modern reformer insists upon substituting statutory commands for ethical precepts and official surveillance for the restraints of morality. He undertakes to force the acceptance of his peculiar doctrines by penalty of fine and imprisonment. The old and true concept of freedom embraced the right of the citizen to choose his own religion, think his own thoughts, indulge his own habits, and live his own life without interference by the state, save that he should not trespass upon the rights of others. For this condition of personal freedom and responsibility the reformer proposes to substitute legal regulations which, like a web of steel, shall encompass the citizen from birth to death. Man will live and die the slave of the majority which enacts the laws.

Natural rights may be as effectively destroyed by the laws of a republic as by the decrees of a despot. The doctrine that the world can be made virtuous and happy by substituting for the natural right of choice, with responsibility, the prohibitions and regulations of law, is as old as human tyranny. It has been resorted to in every age and has uniformly failed.

CERTAINLY AIN'T.

During the course of a colored festival in a southern town Miss Mandy Johnson, a guest from a rural community nearby, to whom such a function was a novelty, was approached by a Mr. Spencer, who inquired with great suavity, "Miss Johnson, am yo' program full?"

"Lordy, no, Mr. Spencer," said the lady; "it takes mo' dan a sanwich an' two olives to fill mah program!"—Harper's Magazine.

O, MY DEAR!

"How do you know he is not a society man?"

"I watched him at luncheon," answered Miss Cayenne. "He eats chicken salad and ice cream in a way that shows he isn't fed up on them."—Washington Star.

How to Keep Well. By Dr. W. A. Evans.

Questions pertinent to hygiene, sanitation, and prevention of disease, if matters of general interest, will be answered in this column. Where space will not permit, or the subject is not suitable, letters will be personally answered, subject to proper limitations, and where a stamped, addressed envelope is inclosed. Dr. Evans will not make a diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases. Requests for such service cannot be answered.

FACIAL EXPRESSION AND DISEASE.

THE wise old family physician may not know much about chemistry, bacteriology, and pathology, but when it comes to making a diagnosis from the expression on a patient's face he is a wizard. One look at his patient's face and he had made a shrewd guess as to what the disease was, how sick the patient was, and whether he was likely to get well. For his trained eye there were signs written there. Oftentimes the very skillful, laboratory trained specialist does not see or cannot read signs, even though they be plain as day to the man who, like Lincoln, was blessed with New Salem for an alma mater.

Some of these signs were written on the brow, some around the eyes, some in the pinching of the nose, the flaring of the nostrils, the lips, the cheeks, and even the chin. Sometimes the skin of the face told a story. One of the world's greatest surgeons trusted the appearance of the tongue more than almost any other sign in sizing up his patient.

All of these signs are engraved in the soft parts, the muscles, the blood vessels, skin, and nerves. Dr. George Draper, as the result of thousands of accurate measurements of the face, seems to have proven that the bones of the face have a story to tell those who are wise enough to read.

He finds that the people who develop consumption have narrow faces. Knowledge of this fact may help physicians in making diagnoses. It may help narrow faced people to change their habits and in that way escape consumption, and that is of far greater importance than helping physicians to make diagnoses.

People who have high blood pressure and Bright's disease likewise have narrow faces. The face of the people with chronic Bright's disease and high blood pressure, while narrow, is broader across the eye zone than is that of the face of the consumptive group. Assuming this to be proven, the man or woman with a narrow face that at the same time is rather broad across the eyes—such a person will carefully guard against those excesses and those infections out of which come chronic Bright's disease and high blood pressure. For one thing, a man with a face like that will do well to avoid being a painter and to keep away from all jobs that cause lead poisoning.

On the other hand, the people who have infected gall bladders have wide faces. People earn their gall bladder troubles by decades of sluggish living and overeating. Let the round faced folks understand that such habits are almost certain to earn gall bladder trouble for them and some will pep up a little. Some will eat less and exercise more.

The people with pernicious anemia also have broad faces. The lower face of the pernicious anemia subject is even broader than is that of the sufferer from gall bladder trouble.

FREE TEXTBOOKS.

W. L. H. writes: What do you think of the danger of spreading disease by free textbooks?

REPLY.

Practically speaking, there is none.

IF YOU GO, BE CAREFUL.

A. H. writes: I am anxious to spend my vacation with friends in the mountains. This friend's husband has tuberculosis and lives in a tent all summer. Would I endanger my health in any way by going there? Several of my friends have been talking against it.

REPLY.

If all persons concerned are careful, there is very little danger. If they are grossly careless there is more danger.

YOU MAY SMOKE.

L. C. writes: Is it injurious to a baby for the mother to smoke during pregnancy? Am in the latter stage of pregnancy and thus far have felt no ill effects. My attending physicians claim, if done in moderation, it is O. K. but having heard many adverse arguments would appreciate your opinion.

REPLY.

No.

ARE COLDS NECESSARY?

Mrs. I. L. C. writes: I read about colds in your column. Are colds really necessary?

I am 75 past and have not had a cold this winter, and wondered at that and boasted somewhat over it.

But there is a reason. I have, somewhat irregularly and not so very frequently, used a drop or two of a disinfectant in a half cup of water to rinse my mouth and imperfectly gargle my throat.

I was led to do this because of the foulness of my throat on awaking.

BUTTERMILK AS A FOOD.

A. I. M. writes: I have been taking two and three glasses of buttermilk a day before meals. Am 18 years of age.

1. Will you please tell me whether this is too much?

2. Is buttermilk beneficial to the body, as I find it very good for indigestion?

REPLY.

1. Liable to fatten you.

2. It is a good food. Eaten in addition to plenty of other food, it is apt to cause obesity.

Thin people yearn for a touch of obesity. Fat ones don't feel that way about fat on the bones.

FRIEND OF THE PEOPLE

Letters to this department must be signed with names and addresses of writers.

LAW ON FENCES.

Chicago, April 30.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—I live on the north side of the street and my neighbor and myself have had several disputes over which fence belongs to me. The fence between our property is in need of repair and he says it is up to me to stand the expense. What is the law on this?
F. D.

The wording of the fence act indicates that the legislature had agricultural properties primarily in mind. Section 2, for example, provides that a fence "sufficient to turn stock" shall be legal. Although the applicability of this wording to urban property is open to some question there is no express exception and we regard the act as applying to division fences between city lots which are inclosed on their other boundaries, so that adjoining owners must contribute equally to cost and repair of each such fence.
TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

LIKES THE NAME OF SARAH.

Glen Ellyn, Ill., April 30.—To the Legal Friend of the People.]—I wish to add my grandmother's first name to mine. My name is Elsa and I want it to be Sarah Elsa. How shall I make this legal? I expect property from relatives some day. I am of age.
E.

No legal proceedings are required to make a change of name valid. It is sufficient if you use a new name and give notice of the change to those persons to whom the information may be material. In transactions in which your old name appears we suggest that you continue to use it to avoid confusion. For example, if real estate records show title in you, when you come to sell you should use the recorded name.
TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

STREET SIGN ERECTED.

Chicago, April 27.—[Friend of the People.]—I am coming to you with the request for a street sign to be erected at the corner of Granville and Maplewood avenues. People continually stop at our house to ask the location.
E. M. R.

Report is made by the sign division of the bureau of streets that street signs have been erected at the southwest corner of Granville and North Maplewood avenues, as requested by Mr. R.
THOMAS H. BYRNE,
Superintendent of Streets.

FROM THE TRIBUNE'S COLUMNS

60 YEARS AGO TODAY

MAY 5, 1865.

SPRINGFIELD.—Closing obsequies were held for Abraham Lincoln. Twenty-one guns were fired at daylight, and at ten minute intervals from that time up to the time the procession moved one gun was fired. In the evening a grand national salute of thirty-six guns was fired. Bishop Simpson delivered the funeral oration.

SAN FRANCISCO.—The municipal election in Los Angeles resulted in the election of the entire Union ticket. Los Angeles has always heretofore been a strong secession sympathizing district.

NEW YORK.—The report that ex-Gov. Akin of South Carolina has been committed to prison is not true. He is on parole and is stopping at a hotel.

NEW YORK.—Col. Clark of the rebel army, who was captured while endeavoring to escape from Richmond, asserts that he was in charge of the specie which was removed from Richmond, and that when his train broke down and he found it impossible to get it on the track and off again, he ordered it set on fire. In the excitement the soldiers broke open the kegs and they and citizens appropriated all there was.

CHICAGO.—Bellini's celebrated Puritanic opera was given last evening —ninth subscription night—to a highly appreciative audience. The cast was excellent. Miss Kellogg sang the very arduous rôle of Elvira.

ADVERTISEMENT.—Ho, for the gold mines of Idaho, via the Missouri river. The new fast, light draught steamer Fanny Ogden will leave St. Louis for Fort Benton on May 15.

25 YEARS AGO TODAY

MAY 5, 1900.

KASLO, B. C.—Sandon, the second mining town of importance in the Slocan, has been destroyed by fire and nearly all of its 1,200 people are homeless and destitute.

CHICAGO.—After organizing and electing permanent officers the Republican county convention adjourned until next Saturday when it will resume its labors and nominate a county ticket. So far as it went the county convention was entirely under the control of Congressman Lorimer and his followers and they did as they pleased. The adjournment was forced by Mr. Lorimer to secure more votes for Judge Hanecy for governor at the Peoria convention than he now has.

CHICAGO.—A resolution to call a general strike of the building trades in Chicago failed of passage by only a narrow majority in the Building Trades council meeting.

BERLIN.—Emperor Franz Josef of Austria-Hungary has been welcomed to the German capital. A million people helped pay him honor. And diplomats are gravely discussing the political significance of the presence of so many royal visitors.

JACKSONVILLE, Ill. — Joel M. Longenecker of Lincoln Post, Chicago, was elected commander of the state G. A. R.

MUNCIE, Ind. — Mrs. Amos Rusie, wife of the ball player, came from Indianapolis and at midnight called the police to guard her husband. She says she believes that her husband followed her to Muncie and will try to kill her.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Gen. Miles in all probability will be given the rank of lieutenant general and Gen. Corbin that of major general.

10 YEARS AGO TODAY

MAY 5, 1915.

PEKIN.—One hundred thousand troops by order of President Yuan Shi Kai have been mobilized and within a day or two will be concentrated in the environs of Pekin. These military preparations are being made for the defense of the capital as an ultimatum from Japan regarding the refusal by the republic of its demands is momentarily expected.

LATEST WAR BULLETINS.—A further list of officers killed, wounded, or missing in the four days' fighting at Ypres, London reports, brings the total of casualties (officers) to 570. Berlin reports that on May 3 a naval airship had an engagement with several British submarines in the North sea. Numerous bombs were dropped from the airship, one of them hitting and sinking a submarine.

PEORIA.—Archbishop John Lancaster Spalding was injured when a buggy in which he was sitting was struck by an automobile and smashed into kindling wood. Bishop Spalding will be 75 years old on June 2.

SYRACUSE, N. Y.—Col. Theodore Roosevelt, in commenting on the torpedoing of the American ship Gulf light, said he considered it an act of piracy pure and simple.

RETELL HAYMARKET RIOT

BY JOHN KELLEY.

Seventeen policemen, survivors of the Haymarket riot, met yesterday at the Des Plaines street station to celebrate the 39th anniversary of that sanguinary affair. There are 32 survivors, 4 of whom are still connected with the police department.

They have an association and meet annually to talk over the incident of that night in May, 1886, when they formed in companies in Haymarket square to disperse an anarchist meeting. Eight of their number were killed and 75 wounded by a bomb thrown in their midst.

All of the officers of the association were present at yesterday's gathering. They are: Frank P. Tyrrell, president; John P. Gibbons, vice president; Jeremiah Kennedy, treasurer; Freeman Steele, financial secretary; Simon McMahon, recording secretary, and Thomas Meaney, sergeant at arms.

Simon McMahon, who is 75 years old, brought his bride of six weeks with him to the meeting. He introduced her to his comrades as the "sweetest little girl in the world," at which she blushed and told him to "stop his blarney."

President Tyrrell read a letter of inquiry from Mrs. Loretta P. Degen of Los Angeles, Cal., who wishes to communicate with Frank J. Degen, son of Matthew J. Degen, one of the men killed by the bomb. She writes that she is an aunt of Frank Degen and desires to make him her heir if he can be found. Those present pledged themselves to make diligent search for "Matt Degen's boy."

"That was a night of terror—May the fourth, 1886," said Capt. Tyrrell, who received his title from being captain of the west park police several years ago. "Inspector Jack Bonfield and Capt. Billy Ward were in command of the several companies of bluecoats sent to disperse the meeting. Speakers were haranguing the mob from a truck at Randolph and Des Plaines streets when Capt. Ward ordered them out of the square. He had just spoken these words, 'In the name of the state of Illinois I command you to disperse,' when the blast of death came hurtling through the air. I saw something sputtering, and as the bomb touched the ground there was a terrific explosion. Nearly all were thrown down, and some of the boys never rose again.

"The order rang out, 'Close up ranks and fire.' God, what a carnage! Large numbers of the mob fell under the galling fire. How many of them were killed or died of their wounds was never known, but a conservative estimate of the casualties were a dozen slain and as many more wounded. They were dragged away before the police could list them.

"No braver body of men ever faced a mob than those who battled that night in old Haymarket square. From that day to this anarchy has never dared to raise its venomous head in Chicago."

Four of the leaders of the riot—Parsons, Spies, Engel, and Lingg—were sentenced to be hanged. Three others—Schwab, Neebe, and Fielden—were given life sentences in the Joliet penitentiary. Lingg committed suicide in the jail a few days before the date set for his execution by blowing his head off with a percussion cap. The three who were sentenced to prison were pardoned by Gov. John P. Altgeld in 1894.

May 4 also is the anniversary of the Cronin murder. Dr. Patrick Henry Cronin, the victim, was lured from his home in the Windsor theater block and slain in the Carlson cottage on North Ashland avenue near Roscoe street. Dan Coughlin, a policeman at the Chicago avenue station; Patrick O'Sullivan, an ice dealer in Lake View, and Martin Burke, a laborer in the city sewer department, were convicted and sentenced to life imprisonment. O'Sullivan and Burke died within a couple of years. Coughlin was given a new trial by the state Supreme court and was acquitted. He returned to Chicago and engaged in the saloon business. Becoming entangled in a jury bribing case, he fled to Central America and died there.

RUHR PAYMENTS INVESTIGATED

BY JOHN CLAYTON.

[Copyright: 1925: By The Chicago Tribune.]

BERLIN, May 4.—An attempt to put the famous "Ruhr grab" payments on the reparations account was foreshadowed in Foreign Minister Stresemann's testimony before the reichstag investigating committee today. Dr. Stresemann declared flatly that the payments were on the reparations account.

In direct contradiction to Dr. Stresemann, a statement of the office of the agent general for reparations declares that the payments had nothing to do with reparations except in so far as they were reimbursements for payments in kind and that the French and Belgians had no intention of letting the entire amount get into the reparations account.

Dr. Stresemann declared:

"In the negotiations at that time between the government and the Rhineland and Westphalian coal industry the obligations of the government went far beyond obligation or moral value.

"Representatives of the mining industry demanded a declaration from the government that could be negotiated, stating they could reorganize the Ruhr mines only if they succeeded in obtaining credit from abroad, the coal industry's means being insufficient for this. It was very hard for them to obtain foreign credits. What they needed, they declared, was a formal promise of the government to take up the obligations of the industrialists who at that time were fulfilling their reparations deliveries. The government would do this only when finances returned to normal.

"The late Hugo Stinnes said during the course of the negotiations: 'I must be in a position to place this declaration in escrow in order to procure money if the fight becomes serious.'

"In the negotiations of the commission of six with the "Micum" (interallied mines and industries' central mission) experts offered the same opinion. The principal sentence in the protocol negotiations with the government in October, 1923, 'recognizes the obligation to make good the expenses incurred by the mining industries. The refund will take place as soon as the government's finances permit.'

"On Oct. 22, 1923, negotiations with the Micum took place. The commission of six naturally tried to reduce the obligations toward the occupation forces to a minimum. During the negotiations the French delegate declared the German proposals showed that the mines did not intend to make any sacrifices. They refused the payment of the coal tax and they expected their reparations in coal would be paid later by the government.

"This shows that the men who negotiated with the German government informed the Micum forty-eight hours after the conference that they expected a refund from the reich later. On Nov. 28 the ministry of reconstruction forwarded a memorandum from the German war budget commission to Paris, to be transmitted to the reparations commission, wherein the German government had assumed responsibility for refunding payments in kind to the coal mines as soon as German finances would be stabilized, with the proviso that the payments would be placed to the credit of the reparations account.

"All were under the impression that payments in kind would run until after April 15, but the coal industry informed the government that it would be unable to carry on deliveries during this period. The government was asked for credits on March 17 to enable the industry to carry out the Micum agreements. On April 10 Wilhelm Marx wrote the commission of six, informing it that the government recognized 'that the delivery from the Ruhr mine industries after April 15 would represent a part of the reparations payments. The government will make the payments as soon as it has the funds.'"

Dr. Stresemann concluded with the statement that the question was political. "The problem was whether we wanted to work with the Dawes report or break with France," he declared, adding that the answer was in favor of the Dawes plan. "To this very minute I am not clear in my mind how these payments were credited."

REDISTRICTING THE STATE.

Galena, Ill., April 29.—In regard to redistricting the state, I should like to say that Cook county could become the loser by a new senatorial map for the reason that a dense population does not necessarily have to be represented in the house. The constitution of 1870 provided, in a measure, for such an emergency as dense population—that is, it provided that it must be represented in the senate and could be in the house—depending altogether for its house quota on the general assembly.

The constitution requires that the state be divided into 51 senatorial districts, each district to be entitled to at least one senator and more if the population is sufficient.

It is constitutional to have more than 51 senators.

The constitutional senatorial boundaries must be county lines.

In case a single county is a senatorial district and the population is sufficient for several senators, the general assembly may provide a "separate district" for each senator.

The general assembly could remove the "separate district" lines and Cook county have but three representatives. Cook county could gain a senator or two and lose a carload of representatives.

Cook county, according to the constitution, can never be but one senatorial district, but a friendly legislature can divide it into "separate districts," giving it full representation, but Cook county is constitutionally entitled to senators enough to balance her population at all times.

In regard to Mr. Fergus' prosecuting the legislators for not voting to redistrict, I am of the opinion he is too late—he should have gone after the general assembly in session during 1921—they were the dodgers. The only way to get it on the general assembly now is to call a special session for that purpose.

C. HENDERSON SMITH.

VIOLATING THE CONSTITUTION.

Chicago, May 1.—We notice THE TRIBUNE is getting all het up because some birds in the legislature violated their oaths of office. But you mustn't blame the poor fellows too much, because that is the way their constituents expect and want them to vote, and if they didn't would chase them up the alley pretty quick, to use THE TRIB'S favorite expression.

I am not attempting to justify either the legislators or their constituents, but I do say you are in a mighty poor position to criticise either. You have been telling us now for some time past that violating the constitution when it don't suit is the most popular indoor sport of the day; that everybody's doing it, and there's really no help for it; we have simply got to put up with it and make the best of it.

I am reminded of the little girl whose brother ate the whole of an apple their mother had expected him to divide with her. She said, "You hog, I wanted that." THE TRIB is saying to the downstaters, "You constitution violators, I didn't mean that section—I was talking about the eighteenth amendment."

A. H. DAVISSON.

EXPLODING A MYTH.

Mountain Grove, Mo., April 28.—Carey Orr's splendid picture in last Saturday's issue, "Placing the Blame," a rogues' gallery of killers, including sob sisters, sob judges, legal crooks, lacked just one "mug" of making the collection complete—the coocoo psychologist and philosopher.

Just one fact pricks the bubbles these fellows blow, and that is that in England, where the insanity rate is higher than in the United States, all the scio-paths, morons, "irresponsible children afloat in a rowboat on an emotional sea without oars," somehow find the power to control their criminal propensities when they think of the rope and English justice.

HERBERT WILTSEE.

CHICAGO NEEDS THE MARINES.

Chicago, May 4.—Why should we holler for more home rule when we daily show our unfitness for it by having a city with more violent accidents, more crime, and more murders than any other city in the world?

It isn't home rule we need. It's the United States marines we need. They did a good job in Haiti. Why can't they come here?

D. DAVIDSON.

KOMICAL KICKS ON THE KONSTITUTION.

Chicago, May 1.—The writer hastens to congratulate the W-G-N on its new and unusual venture and enters claim to a prize of two fish hooks as a reward of discovery of the following facts, to-wit:

That your editorials on the eighteenth amendment are not to be taken seriously. They should be viewed as a strip—a funny strip—a new and startling venture in the introduction of comics.

This method of bringing your premier funny man before the public is unique and credit is due the W-G-N for the innovation.

Now since the plan is revealed will you please tell us when this writer who has stirred the wrath of so many good people will be transferred to appear with Moon Mullins, Little Orphan Annie and other notables?

What delicious humor there is in store for us in "Komical Kicks on the Konstitution by the Sahara Kid."

EDWARD K. WILLIAMS.

MESTROVIC'S NATIONALITY.

Chicago, May 1.—In THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE of April 26, it was said that the great sculptor, Ivan Mestrovic, who is at present exhibiting in Chicago, is a Serb by nationality.

You were wrongly informed, as Ivan Mestrovic is a Croat by nationality. Injustice would be done to 40,000 Croats in Chicago, and more than half a million of them in the United States, if one of their great sons would be given to some other nationality. As much injustice would be done to the American people if we would give Thomas Edison to Canada, or Mexico, or some other country.

There are four southern Slav [Jugo-Slav] nationalities: Slovenes, Croats, Serbs and Bulgars, and they are related to each other as much as the three Scandinavian nationalities: Swedes, Norwegians and Danes; but we never try to give a Swede to Danes, or Norwegians or the opposite.

JOHN [illegible]

THE CELLULOID DOUGHNUT.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 28.—Speaking of the idiosyncrasies of human nature, Mr. H. L. Mencken in a recent article in THE TRIBUNE termed "Two Wasted Lives" states that he knows a very intelligent man, a scientist of national fame, who believes that drinking a glass of beer is a mortal sin.

For many years the writer has chuckled and laughed over the foibles and absurdities of mankind and the incongruities of the so-called human race, but I want to say that the dry fanatics who took it upon themselves to rewrite the Bible omitting every allusion to "wine" or "spirituous liquor" and substituting the words "raisin bread" certainly win the celluloid doughnut.

MAURICE T. BAKER.

ABSURDITIES OF PROHIBITION.

Chicago, May 3.—Two of the regular absurdities of prohibitionists are given some of your valuable space today. They crudely place breach of dry laws with murder, theft; i. e., as not possible to be abolished entirely. It would take, as the Irishman said, "a brick at their heads to convince them" that breach of the crime making prohibition laws can be entirely stopped by abolishing the unnatural, liberty destroying, nation disgracing prohibition.

It's a wonder criminals go armed into a man's house, take his property, threaten his life, and sometimes take it, unlawfully, when they might get the authority lawfully to do such things under prohibition laws.

ROBERT J. R. KING.

BEAUTY IN STREET LIGHTS.

Chicago, April 30.—I am a resident on West Garfield boulevard and would like to know if the new electric lights recently installed which consist of a concrete column about twelve feet high with an electric light globe stuck on top are considered by the South Park commissioners more utilitarian or more beautiful than the old lights which are discarded. The old model was an overhanging light on a tall, graceful, iron column, fluted in part and ornamented otherwise.

A NATIVE CHICAGOAN.

A BOUQUET FOR ORR.

Chicago, May 1.—Mr. Orr's cartoon on Great Britain's return to the gold standard was in comprehensiveness of thought, skill in execution and timeliness of publication of the class of Sir John Tenniel's famous cartoon in Punch some thirty-five years ago, "Dropping the Pilot."

LADY ABERDEEN.

HOOVER URGES WOMEN TO MAKE WORLD BETTER

Red Plots Revealed by Educational Body.

Washington, D. C., May 4.—[Special.]—Welcomed by Herbert Hoover, secretary of commerce, in an address that summed up the dangers and difficulties of the present generation and urged women to aid in the solution of problems confronting civilization, the International Council of Women tonight entered upon its seventh quintennial convention.

LADY ABERDEEN.

"The great thing which confronts this rather materialist age," said Secretary Hoover, "is that spiritual advancement will lag behind scientific achievement. We are moving so rapidly that there is no time to find solutions of all our problems as they crowd upon us, and international problems are vastly increased. The only safeguards lie in building up the moral forces of the world and crystallizing them into permanent solution."

Shows Need of Peace.

He spoke of "the precipice of anarchy and revolution," to which the world was brought by the war, and said that of all goals of achievements "none is greater than the continued assurance of peace." To such assurance each nation must make its contribution in own way. He welcomed, he said, the exchange of experience and counsel of the women of the thirty-eight countries represented.

"We are grateful," he said, "for your coming."

The ceremonial meeting opened with a massing of the flags of all nations borne by pages dressed in white who marched down the aisle of the auditorium and took up their positions at the back of the stage.

The invocation was delivered by Bishop Freeman of the National cathedral, and following Secretary Hoover's address Mrs. Philip Northmoore, president of the National Council of Women of the United States, who presided, introduced Mrs. Nathaniel N. Harris, Miss Anna A. Gordon, Mrs. A. Ross-Hill, and Mrs. Percy V. Pennybacker, vice presidents, who greeted the delegates in German, Spanish, French, and English.

Lady Aberdeen Speaks.

Lady Aberdeen, peer of the International council, responded, and was followed briefly by Mme. Avril de Sainte-Croix, France; Frau Emma Ender, Germany, and Señora de Raynes of Argentina, after which Lady Aberdeen delivered the presidential address.

She said the plans and purposes of the council, its nonpolitical and noncontroversial character, and the good it has done and hopes to do

IN creating and providing articles of use and beauty there is nothing that can take the place of the judgment, taste, and inspiration of individual minds. An organization may be great not only by reason of its high purpose and skillful coordination of its activities but also because of the inherent value of the individual units which compose it. The accomplishments of this business are possible only through an extensive organization, divided into hundreds of sections, with individuals in positions of full responsibility. While these individuals are necessarily governed by certain clearly defined policies and standards, it is, nevertheless, to the individual that we must look for originality and enterprise. It is a cardinal policy of this business to give the public the benefit of the best that can be developed through individual responsibility and judgment.

Elmer Finds Night Hard on Distance Fans

Expects Nearby Stations to Be Summer Boon.

BY ELMER DOUGLASS.

Distant reception the last half of last week was too good to last. It was even good during the late Sunday evening hours. Last night the reception was fairly good, when there was any, but it was comparatively weak for all stations. Fading was long and pronounced.

There wasn't a whimper heard from WEAF, New York. WCAE, Pittsburgh, another standby, was scarcely more than heard. In fact, the only distant stations that came satisfactorily were WSAI and WLW, Cincinnati, KDKA, Pittsburgh, and WOS, Jefferson City. Special circumstances may have brought in other stations for other listeners, of course.

Further, there was no whirlwind program heard from any station.

All of which leads unexpectedly and unpremeditatedly into the subject of silent Monday night for Chicago stations with antennas located outside of Chicago.

The numerous vacant spaces on the dials last night reminded the writer of his experience on a certain night last summer when it remained for WCBD, Zion, alone to supply the evening's entertainment. This summer the Chicago listeners, at the worst, will fare much better than they did last year on account of a number of outside Chicago stations being on superpower.

That's all well and good for the high power set owners. Those lucky birds are always sitting pretty. But how about the small set owners, still in the majority?

Last evening's experiences fairly force upon me the conclusion that during the summer months, at least, the average listener in Chicago and vicinity, however, great his enthusiasm for long range shooting, will be mighty thankful to have nearby, comparatively static and lightening-crash-free stations like WCBD, WTAS, WCEE, WJJD, WORD, WHT, and any others, to tune in for a half hour or so of satisfactory entertainment received in a satisfactory way.

WHT, Deerfield-Chicago, seems to be gradually coming in stronger. At this receiving point poor modulation seems to be more noticeable than mere weakness of the signal strength.

The WLW new organ dedicatory program was at least interesting. This began at 8:30, with a travelogue by Powel Crosley, Jr., which might be described as "A Trip From Cincinnati to Africa," with accompanying organ selections suggestive of the countries visited.

An attempted pretentious National Music week program followed with compositions by Cincinnati composers. This fell flat with this listener due the sing-song woman announcer.

SEARCH WITHOUT WARRANT O. K.'D BY U. S. COURT

New York, May 4.—[Special.]—City policemen, state troopers, and other police officers deriving their authority from the state have the right to search homes and individuals and cars on highways for liquor evidence, the United States Circuit court of appeals held today in an opinion which also declared that federal agents cannot do these things without a search warrant.

The decision was interpreted to mean that no federal officer or agency has the right to search and seize property without beforehand knowledge, upon which a search warrant may be issued after an affidavit has been made; but that, on the other hand, any town constable, trooper or policeman can search and seize without a search warrant, not being amenable to the fourth amendment of the federal constitution.

The decision came on an appeal by William Schroeder, a policeman of this city, who was arrested for transporting gin.

FRENCH TROOPS SLAIN AS MOORS TAKE 7 FORTS

Riffians Burn Villages; 30 Miles from Fez.

BY HENRY WALES.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

[Copyright: 1925: By The Chicago Tribune.]

PARIS, May 4.—Seven French blockhouses near the Spanish frontier in Morocco have been captured by rebel Riffian tribesmen. The garrisons are reported to have been slaughtered. It is estimated that 400 Riffians are inside the French protectorate ready to aid the fighting.

The French government denies rumors that natives in the French zone are threatening an uprising or a holy war to aid the Riffians in the overthrow of the sultan of Morocco and the establishment of an Arab-Moorish state.

Marshal Lyautey, military governor of Morocco, this afternoon arrived at Fez to take the field personally in command of the French military operations against the tribesmen commanded by Abdel Krim's brother who have crossed from the Spanish zone.

Within 30 Miles of Fez.

The Riffians have made important advances within the last twenty-four hours, crossing the Ouergha river and penetrating to within thirty miles of Fez. The rebels burned villages of tribes faithful to the French and seized hostages whom they forced to aid in carrying war materials.

In bloody clashes with French native troops the Riffians killed and wounded many and there were several casualties among French advance post officers and noncommissioned officers.

Quai d'Orsay admitted the dispatches from Morocco showed the situation as "serious" and said Abdel Krim's objective is to capture Fez, which commands the rich hinterland in the center of French Morocco.

Threaten to Cut Railway.

Columns of Riffians are threatening to cut the Rabat-Fez-Oran railway and the highroad constructed by the French which parallels it. Tourist traffic is held up, as the authorities fear visitors may be killed or captured and held for ransom by the Riffians. There are a number of Americans now in Morocco making automobile and railway trips across the northern edge of the Sahara, but thus far none have been reported as being molested.

Three French columns sent from Fez against the Riffians report brilliant successes in bloody engagements. Gen. Colombat, on the northwest front, reports raising sieges of two blockhouses, at Aoudour and Achikkane, the former after a clash in which the Riffians were forced to retreat, leaving fifty dead on the field.

Airplane "straffing" is breaking the morale of the attackers. The French losses are small, a report received tonight states. The eastern column is dispersing enemy groups after inflicting heavy losses.

MEANS' SENTENCE IS CONFIRMED; ORDERED TO START SERVING IT

New York, May 4.—The conviction of Gaston B. Means, former department of justice agent, by a jury last July, on a charge of having conspired to illegally remove liquor from bonded warehouse, today was confirmed by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals.

GASTON B. MEANS.
[P. & A. Photo.]

Means, who has been out on bail, was ordered taken into custody that he might begin the two year term in the federal penitentiary at Atlanta, to which he was sentenced at the time of his conviction. A $10,000 fine also was imposed.

Means also was convicted in federal court last January of having conspired with Thomas B. Felder, an attorney, to bribe government officials, including former Attorney General Daugherty, to call off prosecution of a large number of defendants in a stock sale mail fraud scheme.

On this conviction Means was sentenced to serve an additional two years at Atlanta and to pay another $10,000 fine. Felder received no jail term, but was fined $10,000. Both convictions in this case are now on appeal.

GIVE $100,000 FOR MEMORIAL TO DR. BURTON

Ann Arbor, Mich., May 4.—Establishment of the Marion Leroy Burton memorial endowment by providing a fund slightly in excess of $100,000 by twenty-four Michigan, Ohio, Illinois, and New York City man was announced today by Shirley W. Smith, secretary of the University of Michigan.

The principal is to remain forever as a memorial to the late president of the university, and the first beneficiary will be his widow, now residing here. During her lifetime Mrs. Burton will receive the income on the investment and, should her edath occur before her children are 30 years of age, they will receive the income until they attain that age.

After the payment to Dr. Burton's dependents ceases, the income on the endowment is to be used "for such emergency purposes not properly met by tax funds, as the board of regents may determine."

HELEN HEYWORTH IS ARRESTED ON NARCOTIC COUNT

New York, May 4.—[Special.]—Miss Helen Patterson Heyworth, divorced wife of Otto Young Heyworth, grandson of a Chicago millionaire, and fiancée of Dapper Don Collins, internationally known crook, is to be arraigned in court for possessing narcotics tomorrow.

Her arrest took place today in her suite following a raid. The detectives gained access to Mrs. Heyworth's suite after it had been under surveillance for two weeks.

MATH. TEACHER WINS $1,000 AS WORD HUNTER

John E. Groves, teacher of mathematics at the Crane Technical High school, turned his hobby into $1,000 yesterday by finding 13,342 words that could be made out of the letters, T-h-e F-o-r-e-m-a-n B-a-n-k-s.

Mr. Groves, who lives at 1382 Greenleaf avenue, explained last night that by making his recreation the solution of such things he had worked out useful formulas that let him know approximately what to expect.

For instance, when he found the total number of words to be made with any one letter, that was a key to the probable number to be expected from each of the other letters in the words on which the contest was based.

Such calculations had led him to expect about 12,000 words and he was surprised to discover that he could find as many as he did. His 200 hours on the contest made his prize equal to pay of $5 an hour.

Son of Elwood Haynes Sent to Psychopathic Ward

New York, May 4.—March Haynes, 29, of Kokomo, Ind., son of the late Elwood Haynes, founder of the Haynes Automobile company, was admitted today to the psychopathic ward at Bellevue hospital. Since the death of his father, it was said, he has not been in good health. Mr. Haynes came here last Friday.

HELD IN $10,000 EMBEZZLEMENT.

Edwin A. Carlson, 30, of 4512 North Winchester avenue, formerly a clerk for Jackson Brothers & Co., brokers, yesterday was held to the grand jury in $10,000 bonds on charges of embezzlement.

Sentence Inventor, Lax on Alimony, to Jail

Unable to meet alimony payments due to his former wife, last of three who have divorced him, George W. Hawry, 8852 South Elizabeth street, an inventor, was sentenced by Judge Joseph Sabath yesterday to think things over in the county jail. Hawry, who said he was financing a new invention, said he had no funds to spare ex-wives. He owes $625, it was claimed.

This folder saved $3,000

By giving double wear and saving 30% of valuable folder space

If you think all file folders are alike read about the L. B. Reinforced folder that in one installation alone actually saved $3,000.

To know the real job that folders must do, watch any file clerk as she pulls one out of the file. She grasps the top edge—always the top edge—and lifts or yanks that folder out. Think of the daily plucking, bending and wear that come on this one upper edge—the handling edge.

To combat such severe usage Library Bureau created the L. B. Reinforced folder. At its handling edge is a double thickness strip that reinforces this folder where the punishment is greatest. But—the double thickness strip does not extend down into the file. There the folder consists of only a single thickness of medium weight stock that, compared to heavy weight folders, saves over 30% of the folder space in any file.

A negligible saving? Perhaps, yet the result in one filing department was the saving of 60 four-drawer files—over $3,000 worth of filing equipment—plus the saving of floor space they would have occupied.

Stop at our salesroom today and see the various sizes of this folder. Can be used in every make of filing cabinet.

NAVAL OFFICER DENIES HE KNEW OF BOOZE CARGO

Norfolk, Va., May 4.—Commander Douglas W. Fuller, on trial before a naval court martial on charges of negligence growing out of finding a quantity of liquor on the transport Beaufort, admitted today, through counsel, that liquor had been placed on the ship some time between Jan. 3 and Feb. 24, transported to the United States and some of it landed, but denied that he was responsible for this condition.

While no liquor was found in Commander Fuller's quarters, he is charged with negligence on three specifications: that he did not issue and enforce proper orders to prevent smuggling of liquor aboard the Beaufort: that he did not issue and enforce proper regulations to prevent the presence of liquor aboard and that he did not issue and enforce proper regulations to prevent the landing of liquors into the United States in violation of the orders of the secretary of the navy.

HERE SINCE '32, MISS E. OUTHET DIES WHEN 94

One of the little band of settlers who lived in Chicago in 1832 died yesterday. She was Miss Elizabeth Outhet, 94 years old, who died at the home of friends in Oak Park after an illness caused by injuries suffered in a fall some weeks ago.

Miss Outhet was born in Oswego, N. Y., in 1831. She came here with her parents as the youngest of a family of seven the following year. The Outhet family lived on a farm where Crawford and Lawrence avenues now are. She was two years old when her parents died, and she lived ever since with relatives or friends. After the Chicago fire in 1871 she moved to Oak Park. There are no close relatives who survive her except J. B. Wayman of Hubbard Woods, a nephew.

Funeral services will be held today at Unity church, Oak Park, with interment at Rosehill cemetery.

Funeral Rites Saturday for Mrs. Anna O'Mara

Funeral services for Mrs. Anna F. O'Mara, wife of John E. O'Mara of the Edgewater Beach hotel, president of the O'Mara Parlor Frame company, who died in Hollywood, Cal., Sunday, will be held Saturday morning from the Edgewater Beach hotel to the St. Mary of the Lake church.

CHARLES B. FOOTE, long a familiar figure in La Salle street, where he was private secretary for 42 years to the late Charles L. Hutchinson, banker, died of blood poisoning yesterday at his home, 2030 Orrington avenue, Evanston. Mr. Foote was 79.

Sergt. W. H. Birch, Veteran of Spanish War, Is Dead

Funeral services for Sergt. William H. Birch, 7632 Champlain avenue, a veteran of the Spanish-American war, who died in Mercy hospital Sunday, will be held Wednesday in St. Dorothea's Roman Catholic church.

SNOWDEN SCORES CHURCHILL FOR RETURN TO GOLD

Bill Passes 2d Reading in Commons.

LONDON, May 4.—[A. P.]—The house of commons, after a comparatively brief debate and without division, tonight passed the second reading of the gold standard bill and agreed to the necessary money resolution for putting into force the government's arrangements for restoring the gold standard.

The house had been extremely anxious to learn the terms of the government's agreement for American credits to protect the Bank of England's gold reserve; hence the explanation of the bill given by the Rt. Hon. Walter Guinness, financial secretary to the treasury, showing that the country would not be liable for any interest payments unless it became necessary to utilize the American credits, was received with great satisfaction.

These credits are for $300,000,000, the first, of $200,000,000, being arranged with the federal reserve bank, and the second with the house of Morgan of $100,000,000. In each case the arrangement is for two years.

Retraces Churchill Plan.

Mr. Guinness for the most part retraced the details as presented by Winston Churchill, chancellor of the exchequer, in his budget statement.

Philip Snowden, who was chancellor of the exchequer in the late labor cabinet, in moving his amendment for the rejection of the bill on the ground that the proposed action was unduly precipitate and might aggravate the existing condition of unemployment and trade depression, explained that the labor party was not opposed to resumption of the gold standard, but that the motive of the laborites was to fix full responsibility on Mr. Churchill and the government for any adverse results of hasty action. He contended that the government had taken the decision out of the hands of parliament and that the bill was indemnity to protect Mr. Churchill from the legal consequences of his unconstitutional act.

Churchill Defends Action.

Mr. Churchill wound up the debate. He contended that no case of sufficient weight had been adduced to justify the opposition amendment. He said the government was only carrying out the operation Mr. Snowden himself had counselled when in office.

CHICAGO'S BOYS HONOR MOTHERS ALL THIS WEEK

The mothers of Chicago's 700,000 boys are to be honored in activities this week which will climax next Sunday, Mother's day. A schedule was planned in anticipation of the approach of Boys' week, May 16-23, by J. F. Cornelius, vice president of the Chicago Boys' Week federation.

Last night was Amusement evening, when the boys escorted their mothers to some entertainment. Tonight is Radio evening, when the boys will have their mothers as special guests at their own or a neighbor's radio. On Wednesday night boys will give their mothers flowers. Thursday and Friday are Memory and Chum evenings, respectively.

Saturday night has been designated as Manhood evenings, when boys will talk over their futures with their mothers.

"NOTHING EVER TAKES THE PLACE of SILVER"

Harmony in the Selection of SILVERWARE

"from Spauldings"

Now as never before in this country Silverware is "coming into its own." We are realizing that "nothing ever takes the place of silver," and with that realization has come the desire for HARMONY IN SILVERWARE—that all the pieces of the service conform in character and pattern.

All The Table Service to Harmonize

The collection of Spaulding Silverware is so comprehensive that it is a rare joy to choose either gifts or one's own silver—knowing that what one chooses in one pattern can be supplied in innumerable individual articles to augment the service. And it isn't necessary to select a large number of pieces—the essentials can be purchased first, and "added to" as the opportunity permits.

The Price is Lower than one Would Expect

4 out of 5 get Pyorrhea

The fight against Pyorrhea is a fight against overwhelming odds. Statistics prove that four out of every five over 40—and thousands younger, too—pay Pyorrhea's dread toll. Will you?

Be on your guard for signs of Pyorrhea

Just as the stability of a building is dependent upon its foundations, so healthy teeth depend upon healthy gums.

Bleeding gums are the first sign of Pyorrhea's approach. Then they begin to recede and the healthy pink color gives place to a pale, whitish tint. Soon the teeth are loosened, pus pockets form and drain disease-breeding poisons through the system.

Forhan's For the Gums contains just the right proportion of Forhan's Astringent (as used by the dental profession) to neutralize oral poisons, and keep the gums in a firm, strong, healthy condition. Even if you don't care to discontinue your favorite dentifrice, at least start using Forhan's once a day.

Forhan's is more than a tooth paste; it checks Pyorrhea. Thousands have found it beneficial for years. For your own sake ask for and get Forhan's For the Gums. At all druggists, 35c and 60c in tubes.

URGES CHICAGO VOTERS TO STUDY UP ON TRACTION

Milwaukee Man Fears Acts Sans Facts.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

There are some shortcomings of the "indeterminate permit" system of Wisconsin, according to Fred S. Hunt, director and former president of the Milwaukee City club, who spoke yesterday noon before the Chicago City club.

First he said some complimentary things about the system as it has worked in his state since 1907.

"Generally speaking the people think well of it," he said. "In comparison with the days before 1907, conditions are much better. I think it is the best form of franchise yet devised. But many persons criticise it.

Some Attack System.

"A bill in the last legislature passed one house to repeal our commission system. Another bill is pending in the present legislature. We are compelled to go to the commission for everything. If we want a six minute headway instead of eight, a one man car instead of a two man or the cars to stop at a certain street, we must go to the commission. Many people in Milwaukee do not like that.

"Frequently I have heard the remark: 'Why does our commission act so quickly when a company asks something, and so slowly when the people ask for something?'

"Some persons know the reason, but many do not. It is not the fault of the commission, on which we have had some very able men—they have been so valuable that the utilities have grabbed them off at larger compensation. The trouble lies in the fact the commission is fast with the company and slow with the people, because the company has the information and the people do not have it.

Company Can Act Fast.

"The company can prove its case quickly, while the people cannot. In the service at cost ordinance recently defeated in Milwaukee, we worked out a plan by which the people could obtain the necessary and vital information. An 'indeterminate permit' which does not provide the facts for the people places them at a disadvantage.

"I hope you profit by our experience, although I offer you no advice. It is well to remember that an indeterminate permit, or 'terminable permit,' as you call it, runs forever unless it is terminated. The method of terminating it is highly important. It should be much more definite than is our law. If you are going to terminate the permit by municipalisation, settle now the value of the plant to be obtained or the method of appraising it.

Must Know Valuation.

"For determining rates and service it is essential that you know the basis of valuing the utility."

Corporation Counsel Busch; Ald. McDonough, new chairman of the local transportation committee; Ald. Clark and others will leave for Springfield tonight to ask the amendments to the Illinois commerce commission act. They also will ask delay on the proposed "terminable permit" legislation, generally known as the Barr bill.

TAX PUBLICITY UPHELD BY D. C APPEALS COURT

Washington, D. C., May 4.—[Special.]—Validity of the tax publicity provision of the 1924 revenue act was upheld today by the Court of Appeals of the District of Columbia.

The decision was in the case of Gorham Hubbard, a merchant of Boston, who appealed from a ruling of the District Supreme court, which refused to enjoin Secretary of the Treasury Mellon and Commissioner of Internal Revenue Blair from making available to public inspection amounts paid by taxpayers.

Judge C. S. Hatfield, who announced the opinion, said that the court was unable to agree with the contention of the petitioner that the Fourth amendment to the constitution, guaranteeing security against unlawful search and seizure, was violated, because there had been no search or seizure of his person or effects.

WINDOW BREAKERS FINED.

Alvin Theobold, 17, 878 King place, and James Gillespie, 822 Oakdale avenue, were yesterday fined $100 and costs and ordered to pay $70 for damages to a window in the home of Bertley Walsh, 8040 Wilton avenue. They were charged with malicious mischief.

By the General Manager of the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce

PROBABLY no city in the United States has received more publicity than has Wichita Falls, Texas, but many have heard only of the great oil fields, the hectic boom days and the immense fortunes made—and often lost over night. People are just beginning to find out that Wichita Falls is neither a rough boom town, nor a dead after-the-boom town, but that it is a city building on a foundation of varied and most substantial resources, including agriculture, livestock, manufacturing and the advantages of superior educational facilities, unexcelled transportation systems and remarkable civic development. The oil industry which is now on a solid and permanent foundation has helped to make possible the development which has taken place within the past five years. The mammoth irrigation project which has just been completed at a cost of four and one-half million dollars is an asset which makes certain a future of progress and prosperity. This project furnishes water to irrigate 100,000 acres of fertile Wichita River Valley land, gives an adequate water supply for a city of [illegible],000 inhabitants and offers an unlimited supply for manufacturing and industrial purposes. The population of [illegible] has voted more than ten million dollars worth of bonds for public improvements within the past four years, a most substantial way of backing their Faith with their Works.

SEEK HUSBAND OF TRAIL GIRL IN DEATH QUIZ

Dunes Murder Victim to Be Buried Today.

Indiana authorities last night hunted the underworld from South Bend to Chicago in a search for Luis Desiderio, husband of Josephine Desiderio, the young woman whose burned and dismembered body was found a week ago Sunday alongside a highway two miles from Chesterton.

As the search went on Gary police had accepted as positive the identification of the body as that of the young mother of three children, who had strayed from the home hearth for the wicked ways, and the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bernardo Genero of Gary, announced that they will have their daughter buried at 10 o'clock this morning in Oakhill cemetery there.

Admit Search for Husband.

Porter county officials admitted that the search for Desiderio was on and that perhaps some companions of his are being sought also. They declared they are making the search chiefly on the testimony of Miss Florence Boto, alias Kish, a chum of the slain girl, who was with her up until the night before she was murdered, and who told the police that on that day Desiderio quarreled violently with his young wife and threatened to kill her.

William J. Linn, Gary captain of police, while he made no statement as to whom the police are seeking, said that the body was positively identified as that of Josephine Desiderio and that the slayers are known.

"We know who did it, and we can convict them of a fiendish murder," the police captain said. "We will send them to the electric chair. We are hot on the trail and expect to make some arrests any time."

Two Witnesses' Stories Tally.

In addition to Miss Kish the police yesterday were holding Sam Ross, a character known in the Gary underworld. Ross admitted he had been living "as man and wife" with Mrs. Disiderio in Gary hotel for two weeks and up until the day before the killing. His story was said to dovetail into the Kish girl's account.

Miss Kish added to the strength of the identification. She said not only the body was that of Josephine but that some of the articles of clothing found near it had belonged originally to herself.

Woman Beaten When She Battles With Assailant

As Miss Enga Syzertsen, 25 years old, 1820 North Francisco avenue, was returning home from a moving picture show late last night she was seized by a rough looking man who dragged her under a porch at 1808 North Francisco avenue and attempted to attack her. She fought him off and was severely beaten before her screams aroused the occupants of the house and the man fled. He took her pocketbook and $30, she told the police.

WOMAN IS FOUND DEAD IN HOTEL; POLICE PUZZLED

The body of a well dressed woman, about 45 years old, found yesterday afternoon in a room in Hotel La Salle, has given the police an unusual death mystery.

The woman registered in the hotel as Katherine King of Marietta, Ga., at 11 o'clock Sunday morning. She was found dead in her bathroom by a house detective at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Every mark of identification had been removed from her clothes, but she is believed to be a Chicagoan.

The police telegraphed to Marietta, but received no reply.

Death, it seemed, was expected. There were no signs of suffering in the face; the body, fully clothed even to a cloak, was lying on the floor. The clothes had been carefully arranged.

But nothing which might have contained poison could be found.

Her leather purse contained $3.10—not a card or a written word.

But there is not the slightest indication of suicide, the police say, nor are there the usual marks of heart disease. And they can offer no theory as to how the woman spent the twenty hours before she died.

SIX HORSES BURNED TO DEATH.

Six horses were burned to death in a fire in the stables of the M. Lanners Teaming company at 58 North Green street last night. The horses were valued at $1,000.

ARREST TRIO AS BANDITS; MURDER MYSTERY SOLVED

Three men were arrested yesterday as the robbers of the recent H. H. Boysen jewelry store, 133 North Oak Park avenue, Oak Park, and the police believe the trio are part of the band which has committed numerous other robberies, including those of several loan banks, and at least one murder.

The number of the bandits' car was noted at the time of the Oak Park robbery and McFadden and his men traced it to Joe Granedo, 6311 Drexel boulevard, an ex-convict. They arrested him, together with Cornelius Corcoran and James Burns, the latter two living at 339 East 51st street. Burns is also an ex-convict.

END WAR MANIA OR LOANS CEASE, EUROPE WARNED

Americans Want to See Peace, Envoy Says.

"Order has been established. And while to some extent the disorganization of trade and markets, which comes as a natural consequence of war, still persists, a marked improvement has been shown even here. Nevertheless, what remains to be done is almost as difficult as what already has been accomplished. It involves consideration of matters which are more or less intangible. It resolves itself in particular into a changed attitude of mind.

"What the war destroyed was not only human lives, dreadful as was the toll, nor property, nor the forces of government. It destroyed for the moment belief in one another's good faith, and good faith is the cement which binds civilization together. Without it, units, whether individual or national, simply fall apart.

Must Restore Good Faith.

"If human society is to function again as a whole that good faith must at least be assumed. Peace cannot come from without; it must come from within.

"Now, we in America, as you know, are not wholly without experience in the kind of problems that have been tormenting Europe. We know the meaning of the wreckage and devastation which a great war brings in its trails and we know what it means to borrow capital under difficult conditions. We know the meaning of a depreciated currency, for we saw our paper dollars shrink in value until it took almost three of these dollars to buy one gold dollar.

"We know the natural unrest and resentment which these unhappy conditions create and foster. And that knowledge naturally enough has taught us to look upon the aftermath of the war in Europe sympathetically and with an intense desire to help.

Americans Insist on Peace.

"But we, too, are a practical people. When we lent our savings to make it possible for the peoples of central Europe to get work it was because we knew that only in this way could Europe as a whole be made to function economically. When we lent of our savings to rebuild markets that had been destroyed it was because we knew that in no other way could they be enjoyed again.

"That was a necessary begining. It was common sense. If we went at the job with a certain moral earnestness, let that go to our credit. It is natural for us to assume that those who have suffered so much from the war should seek a settlement which as far as humanly possible should be free of the conditions leading directly to war. To that end and in that spirit we have helped.

"But we have never forgotten that there was a limit beyond which we could not go. The full measure of American helpfulness can be obtained only when the American people are assured that the time for destructive methods and policies has passed and the time for peaceful upbuilding has come. They are asking themselves if that time, as a fact, has come. And that question they cannot today answer. An answer must be given to them. It must come from the peoples of Europe, who alone can make decisions.

Help Those Who Help Selves.

"If the answer is peace, then you may be sure that America will help to her generous utmost. But if, God forbid, that answer will continue confused and doubtful, then I fear those helpful processes which are now in motion must inevitably cease.

"We are not as a people interested in making speculative advances. We can undertake help only to those who try to help themselves. And in saying this we are not thinking specifically of any one nation, but rather of a situation in which all alike are involved.

"Now with the working out of that problem in its details, the American people have no will or desire to meddle. They recognize that into it factors enter with which they are only indirectly concerned. Their geographical position alone frees them of most considerations which other nations must regard. They do not offer advice.

Want No Armed Truce.

"But may I say to you they hope and fervently pray that peace may soon be reached—not a peace that is a mere contrivance and an arrangement that is based primarily on force, for that would merely provide for another war, but a peace which contains the elements of a permanent peace which will deserve and receive the moral support of mankind because it will be just. It must be based upon an assumption of good faith by all who participate in it.

"That assumption may be larger or it may be smaller, but in the proportion that men seek to eliminate it altogether their work will be in vain. For now, as always, peace can only come as the result of mutual and helpful endeavor. Peace is an adventure in faith."

IT'S COOLIDGE TALKING!

Washington, D. C., May 4.—[Special.]—More than usual significance attaches to the speech which Alanson B. Houghton, the new American ambassador to Great Britain, made in London tonight, and it is believed to reflect quite carefully and correctly the view of this government on the question of further American aid in the rehabilitation of Europe.

It was pointed out by officials that his declarations regarding further financial aid to the European nations coincide with the known views of President Coolidge, as made known recently at the White House, to the effect that this government would look with favor on loans abroad by American bankers when such advances were for purposes of economic and financial rehabilitation, but that the government of the United States would not favor loans for military purposes.

Furthermore, Mr. Houghton's assertions were believed to have been based on his recent conferences with President Coolidge and Secretary Kellogg just before he sailed for England.

He Knows His Topic.

His previous experience as ambassador in Germany and his intimate knowledge of the general European situation, combined with other factors, led to the general belief here that the Pilgrim dinner in London was used by Mr. Houghton as a broadcasting station from which he could send a message to all Europe.

The broad character of the speech, however, caused it to be generally interpreted as not aimed at any specific cases, but as merely expressing the ardent hope of America to see Europe's problems settled in a peaceful way.

CERMAK ORDERS PROOF GIVEN IN PAY ROLL ROW

If there is any padding of pay rolls in any county office Anton J. Cermak, president of the county board, wants to know all about it, he declared yesterday at a lively session of the board. Mr. Cermak assailed the source of an article appearing in an afternoon paper last Tuesday discussing supposed pay roll frauds.

ANTON J. CERMAK.

"I cannot believe, and I do not, that the officials elected by the voters to high offices in the county's service are stealing taxpayers' funds by padded pay rolls," Mr. Cermak said.

"And I do not like to have Mr. Jacobs, or anybody else, make such statements, reflecting on the integrity of these officials, without submitting proof to this board."

J. L. Jacobs, county board efficiency expert, attacked by Commissioner Daniel Ryan as the instigator of the offending article, hotly retorted with his view of the matter.

"I gave out for publication nothing which was not contained in my report to this board last week," the expert declared. "There is nowhere in that report use of the words 'padded pay rolls.' Loose methods were discussed and remedy suggested.

Mr. Jacobs was challenged by Mr. Cermak to produce any evidence whatever before the finance committee bearing out any frauds upon the county treasury. He replied that he would submit any information desired in corroboration of his report. It stated that in many cases employés were paid salaries when their names did not appear on the time sheets as having been regularly at duty.

The new Packard Sales and Service Branch . . . Railroad Avenue and Clark Street, Evanston . . . now open for the convenience of Packard owners and prospective owners in the North Shore suburbs

THE OPENING of our new Packard Branch for North Shore Packard owners is another step forward in the development of Packard Service. Here Packard serves your Packard as only the maker can service his product; and here you will find a location convenient to your daily comings and goings.

All service operations except major operations are performed at this plant by experienced Packard workmen—tuning motor, grinding valves, removing carbon, adjusting brakes, oiling, greasing, washing, polishing and all the other matters of maintenance that constitute thorough upkeep. And here also is located a complete Packard Sales Department. A full line of Packard Sixes and Packard Eights awaits your inspection in this convenient show room, as well as a complete line of Packard accessories.

You are invited to call and inspect this splendid plant. And if there is some adjustment you desire for your Packard, leave it here in the morning and call for it on your return from the city in the evening. The Davis Street railroad station and the North Shore Church Street station are but a block away—the "L" only two.

PACKARD SERVICE

FROM RIDGE AVENUE—If southbound, turn left at the viaduct and down Railroad Avenue to Packard. If northbound turn east at Church Street, under viaduct, and north to plant.

FROM FOUNTAIN SQUARE, EVANSTON—Proceed north on Chicago Avenue to Church Street, west on Church to Railroad Avenue, and then north to the new Packard plant.

A PROTEST AGAINST DEPRECIATION

ROLLS-ROYCE

"BUYING a Rolls-Royce is like buying a good bond," said a shrewd broker. "It is not the first cost, but the long-run yield that is important. My Rolls has yielded nine years of superb service and is still worth more than half what I paid for it. I figure it is good for twenty years at least, and that is a handsome return on the purchase cost."

The long-run economy of a Rolls-Royce demonstrates that no other motor car on earth yields as generous a return on the purchase cost.

Ordinary "good" cars suffer the enormous depreciation of fifty per cent the first year. And they are obsolete in five years. But the astounding fact about a Rolls-Royce is that after ten years of hard usage it is worth, and can be actually sold for, at least half the original cost!

Even up-keep and repairs on a Rolls-Royce are incredibly low. Owners often tell us that $50 will cover all repairs over seven, eight or nine years. When you know that twenty or more years of surpassing motor comfort and satisfaction await you, you know the true meaning of "Rolls-Royce."

Let us arrange a 100-mile trial trip over any roads, any time.

Fine Lawns at Less Cost

Right now is a good time to investigate the economies of an Ideal Power Mower for your lawn. In the early spring, frequent cutting is necessary and rolling is especially beneficial.

By using an Ideal, you can make a big saving in labor, eliminate the hard work and have a finer lawn in the bargain. The saving in labor is sufficient to soon pay the entire cost of the mower.

IDEAL
Power Lawn Mowers

Best of all, Ideal Mowers are dependable, trouble-free machines that the average workman can operate successfully. They are sturdy and durable. Over 15,000 Ideals in service and many of them have been in use six, seven, and eight years.

Prompt deliveries from local stock. Grass cutting time is here. Order your Ideal early and get the full season's benefit of the saving in labor. We will gladly demonstrate an Ideal on your lawn if you wish.

Write, phone or call for information.

The Cleveland Plain Dealer,
Cleveland, Ohio.

ATTENTION: Mr. B. A. Collins,
National Advertising Mgr

Gentlemen:

We have always been sold on the value of the Plain Dealer as an advertising medium. This is demonstrated by the fact that from year to year we place the Cleveland portion of our National Newspaper Campaign with your paper.

The year 1924, however, brought us to a new high level of appreciation of what the Plain Dealer really means to Brunswick. As you know, we introduced the new musical instrument, the BRUNSWICK-RADIOLA, to our trade for the first time early in the fall. A Plain Dealer advertising campaign was started as soon as the machines came on the market, and it was continued on to the end of the year. Pronounced public interest was stimulated very early in the campaign, and we give the Plain Dealer full credit for it, as many telephone calls from retail buyers were received at our office on the same day our copy would run, these prospects asking where they could buy the new Brunswick-Radiola.

Our dealers were quick to realize their opportunity. Each succeeding Plain Dealer ad saw more and more of our dealers running tie-up copy. The last advertisement of the 1924 campaign, run in December, had more dealer tie-ups than ever before. It goes without saying that all of this dealer co-operative advertising, which gave so much more weight to our message to the public, was secured only thru the very efficient and intelligent efforts of your sales staff.

The year ended with each and every one of our dealers in Cleveland, Akron, Youngstown, Canton, etc., enthusiastically selling Brunswick-Radiolas —— 100% dealer coverage —— complete public acceptance of a new product!

THE [illegible] COLLENDER CO.

ONE medium—ONE cost—economical, but at once effective.

A unique situation—unusual coverage of the BUYERS—the people with the money to spend and the inclination to spend it.

RESULTS, such as obtained by Brunswick, justify the judgment of national advertisers who placed over 175,000 MORE lines in The Plain Dealer ALONE in 1924, than in all other Cleveland newspapers combined.

SENATE READY TO SLASH MORE PAY ROLL PORK

Prohibition Fight Also Is Due This Week.

BY PARKE BROWN.

Springfield, Ill., May 4.—[Special.]—Senate sharpshooters who last week began a systematic effort to trim a lot of pork off of several appropriation bills will resume firing tomorrow.

The appropriation for the department of public health, which was their target last week, is still under fire, and the first shots will be directed at the $3,600 sinecure as superintendent of publicity held by George B. Shaw, editor of the Dixon Evening Telegraph, whose editorial policy completely changed color when he was put on the state pay roll.

Devotes Time to Paper.

Senator Lowell B. Mason of Oak Park is equipped with considerable material concerning "Dr." Shaw, but his principal point is that the editor performs no services in exchange for his $300 a month and devotes his entire time to his newspaper and personal affairs, visiting Springfield only casually once or twice a month.

And one other point that he hopes to make clear to his colleagues is that, according to Senator Mason, Editor Shaw, although of military age and without dependents at that time, escaped military service in spite of repeated certifications by his local draft board. There were a series of certifications, but in each instance the district board at Freeport excused him.

Another Liquor Fight.

The senate also will be the scene of operations of the Anti-Saloon league this week. Maj. Frank B. Ebbert, state superintendent, has said that he will seek to have the upper house pass the prohibition commissioner bill which was defeated in the lower chamber.

Under ordinary conditions he would have no trouble in getting the bill through the senate and thus once more put the representatives up against a test vote with accompaniments of the lash. But there is information of a distinct movement among senators who ordinarily are dry to tell Maj. Ebbert this time that they will not play politics for him, that neither Gov. Small nor Attorney General Carlstrom, who would have the prohibition commissioner as an adjunct of his office, wants the bill passed, and that it should be allowed to die.

SUPREME COURT BALKS 2 STATES' COMMERCE ACTS

Washington, D. C., May 4.—[Special.]—Laws of two states were held unconstitutional by the Supreme court of the United States on grounds of improper interference with interstate commerce.

In both cases Justice Brandeis dissented.

One was a Massachusetts law imposing an excise tax on corporations of other states carrying on business within that commonwealth.

The other was a North Dakota grain grading act which was an initiated measure approved at a state election.

Justice McReynolds wrote the decision in the Massachusetts case, which involved 1921 and 1922 excise taxes assessed against the Alpha Portland Cement company, a New Jersey corporation.

Justice McReynolds referred to a decision of the court in Cheney Brothers company versus Massachusetts, in which the state demanded an excise tax of a foreign corporation which transacted therein only interstate business. In that decision the court held that the tax was essentially on doing an interstate business and therefore repugnant to the commerce clause.

Justice Van De Vanter, in the decision affirming a decision of the lower court holding the North Dakota law to be invalid, declared that the act "directly interferes with and burdens interstate commerce and is an attempt by the state to prescribe rules under which an important part of such commerce shall be conducted." He added that, "no state can do this consistently with the commerce clause."

"Sh! Sh! I heard—"

Somewhere between the first "hello" and the last "good-bye" at any matinee party, some feminine voice is sure to say, "I heard—" Then what was somebody's secret becomes everybody's news. When two people know a thing it ceases to be a secret. Next time you hear of a secret formula for making ginger ale, remember that whatever it is, it can be matched among the thousands of different formulas which never could join the Clicquot Club. ¶ In that club you'll find Clicquot Club Ginger Ale Regular—a dashing, gingery, glorious drink; and Clicquot Club Pale Dry—mild, subtle, but with the real ginger ale taste. Every Clicquot Club bottle holds two full glasses of everything that should be in ginger ale, and one more ingredient—forty years of knowing how to make good drinks the Clicquot Club way. That's the world's greatest secret in making and blending ginger ale. The Home Follows the Automobile, Which Follows Oil

The petroleum industry is a vital factor in upbuilding the home.

Statistics prove that the states which lead in the number of motor cars per 1000 population have the highest percentage of homes owned. Since 1915, home building has followed in direct ratio, the increase in motor car production.

The home follows the automobile, and the automobile followed the wide distribution of gasoline and oils at prices which all can afford to pay.

The low price of gasoline and oil which makes the universal use of the automobile possible is due solely to the intensive scientific work of the petroleum industry.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) by the application of modern refinery processes has taken a leading part in creating enormous additional percentages of gasoline from crude. In addition, it has put into operation the first modern, and the most complete system for distribution of oil products.

A few years ago the horse and buggy was the mark of affluence. Only the well-to-do felt able to enjoy such luxury. Today, hundreds of thousands of people go to and from their work in a motor car. Motor vehicles carry 289,000 children to school, every day of the school year.

Home owning is nation building. Crowded industrial cities once threatened to reduce all American families to the ranks of apartment dwellers. The production of an abundance of high-grade, refined petroleum was the scientific achievement which, by making automotive transportation at low cost possible, gave every worker the opportunity to put 20 miles or more between home and job, and enabled him to bring up his children where the air is fresh and the grass is green.

Standard Oil Company (Indiana) service puts oil at the disposal of every motorist in the Middle West. In perfecting this service, this Company has contributed to the upbuilding of thousands upon thousands of happy American homes.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is proud of its part in such constructive work. It is by such achievements that this company attains enduring success.

BY THESE SIGNS KNOW THAT YOUR BABY IS NORMAL

Does your three months old baby try to put everything into his mouth? If he does that's fine. It's one of the signs that, intellectually, he is all he should be, S. H. Tulchin, psychologist, in charge of the mental testing department at the baby show at the American Exposition building, will tell you.

Does your baby at six months show a grasping disposition, clutching at anything he can lay his hands on? Fine again. Or, if he's a year old, does he make sounds that you know mean "mama" or "papa," and does he coo? Bright baby, learning just as a baby should.

At a year and a half he should be running and walking alone, imitate his elders when they clap their hands, and be able to make sounds that even the neighbors know mean "mama" and "papa."

And When He's Two.

Two or three words he should know at two years. He should know the difference between his eye and his ear and should be showing an interest in new words.

Four pennies should not be too much capital for him to count and value at four years and by that time he should know the difference between a penknife and a corkscrew. At six years there's lots of things a smart baby must know—the four primary colors, his own coat and cap. He should be able to describe pictures, copy squares and judge weights.

Find 98.5 Per Cent Baby.

The nearest to perfect baby was found yesterday in the course of the third day of examinations conducted by the Illinois State Medical society. She is Mary Elizabeth Bacon, 27 month old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Bacon, 4415 North Spaulding avenue. A slight tendency to flat feet reduced her total score, subject to revision, to 98.5 per cent—the highest yet made. Her measurements, pronounced "100 per cent perfect" by Dr. C. St. Clair Drake, medical director, follow:

Age, 27 months; height, 34¾ inches; weight, 29¼ pounds; leg measurement, 16⅜ inches; arm, 14 inches; head, 19⅛ inches; chest, 19¾ inches; abdomen, 18⅞ inches; lateral dimensions of chest, 6½ inches; anterior-posterior dimension of chest, 4¾ inches.

HERE'S A NEW TYPE OF BANK CLERK IN BAD

A story about a sober young man who wanted an automobile and money in the bank.

Charles Walsh, 19 years old, 1977 Maud avenue, was locked up at the detective bureau last night after he had confessed to cashing checks totaling $4,800 in the First National bank, where he is a clerk. He had evolved a system whereby he copied the names of depositors from signature cards and then cashed them. His arrest was caused by Pinkerton detectives, who investigated the case.

"My $120 monthly income wasn't enough to suit me," explained Walsh to the police. "No, I didn't want to 'step out.' I wanted an expensive automobile to ride around in and I wanted a good sized bank account. I've got $1,000 in the bank now that you can have. Neither booze nor women was the cause of it. I liked to feel I had money."

$100 in CASH PRIZES

for the Best Crabmeat Recipes submitted this month

All ready for the new contest, starting now and closing at midnight, the last day of this month! We offer another $100 in cash prizes for the best Crabmeat Recipes received by us this month.

The prize winners of last month's contest will be announced in the Tribune next week. Last month's contest brought us some very fine recipes. But we know there are any number of other delightful ways of preparing and serving this healthful, delicious and economical deep sea food. Bring on your crabmeat recipes—test your skill and try for the cash prizes!

LIST OF CASH PRIZES FOR THIS MONTH—

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1st Prize | $25.00 | 6th Prize | $5.00 |
| 2nd Prize | 20.00 | 7th Prize | 5.00 |
| 3rd Prize | 15.00 | 8th Prize | 5.00 |
| 4th Prize | 10.00 | 9th Prize | 5.00 |
| 5th Prize | 5.00 | 10th Prize | 5.00 |

The above list of ten prizes will be repeated every month up to and including July. Prize winners for any month can compete for prizes in other months by sending in new recipes.

Rules of the Contest:—

The contest is open to everyone—men, women and children. It doesn't matter where you live. Contestants may submit as many recipes as they wish, but all recipes must be plainly and neatly written on one side of the sheet only. No one is required to buy BLUE FLAG Fancy Crabmeat in order to participate in this contest. All recipes submitted for this month's contest must reach us during this month. Be sure your name and address is plainly written or printed on each recipe you submit.

Mail your recipes direct to nearest office of MESSCHER, SANBORN & HOLMES, Inc. Announcement of Prize Winners for each month will appear in the Chicago Tribune as soon after the close of the month as decisions can be made. A domestic science authority not connected with the BLUE FLAG organization will act as judge, thus insuring absolute fairness. In the event of a tie for any prize offered, a prize identical with that tied for will be awarded to each tying contestant.

ANNUAL Roll Call

WHITE TRUCK FLEETS OF TEN OR MORE

Again this year we publish a bigger, greater White Roll Call. It is the most convincing performance document in the field of motor transportation. It is indisputable evidence of White Truck leadership.

Here, in open book, is the transportation history of 837 of the country's foremost truck owners—in all lines of business, all locations—operating 31,093 Whites of all models in fleets of 10 or more.

It shows an increase of 80 owners and 2,927 trucks over last year's record. Normal business changes, mergers and reorganizations have caused a few fleets to decrease and others to lose their original ownership identity.

In addition to the owners on the Roll Call, tens of thousands of owners operate White fleets of less than 10 or single Whites. There are more White Trucks in service than trucks of any other high-grade make.

We say again, as we said in 1924 . . . no other truck manufacturer has ever published such a volume of evidence of uninterrupted service at low cost. No other truck manufacturer can.

ITALY LAUNCHES MOVE TO RAISE MILITARY POWER

New Armament Race Is Seen in Europe.

BY GEORGE SELDES.

[Copyright: 1925: By The Chicago Tribune.]

ROME, May 4.—Reorganization and increase in the military and naval forces of Italy, with special attention to aviation, was announced today. Premier Mussolini, who less than three weeks ago took over the ministry of war, informed King Victor Emmanuel that Italy's new military program goes into effect today and will be in full swing this summer.

Italy's new aviation program will be the most important and secret part of this program. On the best of authority it is said that the program calls for increasing the airplane escadrilles until they number 100. Until now France could boast an aviation force the equal of any three nations of Europe. Italy's program is said to be largely influenced by this fact.

No big superdreadnaughts are contemplated, but there will be a considerable strengthening of the submarine forces and small fast cruisers and destroyers.

Claim Action Necessary.

The announcement of Italy's new armament program coming at a time when President Coolidge is said to be sounding out Europe on disarmament will cause a shock on first reading abroad, but officials call attention to the fact that it was necessary that Italy reorganize its military program owing to the unsettled state of Europe.

Italy's defenders point out that it just has been realized that what is taking place in Europe is actually a new race for armaments. This contest has concerned itself chiefly with gas warfare, submarines, and, more especially, aviation. Gas and aviation are both cloaked under the friendly mantle of commercial enterprise.

War to Be in Air.

It is pointed out here that the future warfare of Europe, and perhaps of the world, lies in the air. Every airplane is potentially a war plane. That is why every development in French, German, and British commercial flying is regarded as a step toward the creation of a great air force.

Premier Mussolini's reforms include a new plan for the coöperation of air, land, and sea forces.

AMERICAN O. K. HELD VITAL TO ARMS TRADE PACT

GENEVA, May 4.—[A. P.]—The traffic in arms cannot be considered a merely commercial matter and escape international regulation, declared Count Henri Carton de Wiart, former Belgian premier, this afternoon, in formally opening the international conference for control of the traffic in arms, called by the league of nations. The presiding officer's address drew frequent bursts of applause.

An American delegation is taking part in the conference. Referring to the presence of the Americans, Count de Wiart said their official participation had a new and important significance. "For America, being an important manufacturing country," he added, "her signature and ratification are indispensable for the success of our task."

U. S. Delegation Present.

The United States delegation, headed by Rep. Theodore E. Burton and Hugh Gibson, minister to Switzerland, sat immediately in front of the presidential platform.

American interest was demonstrated when a considerable number of Americans, especially women, vainly sought admission to the inaugural session of the conference.

Count de Wiart made clear that the present conference had nothing to do with supervising the private manufacture of arms.

Representatives of arms manufacturers have come to Geneva to watch the conference, which so directly affects their business. Other potential opponents of some of the proposed regulations are states that insist that the "sacred right of revolution" must be protected.

Fear Revolution Danger.

This latter feeling is recognized as a difficult problem by the conference leaders, who fear conferring the right to send arms into a country would give the great powers a dangerous measure of diplomatic pressure, enabling them to assure victory to a revolutionary party they favored by furnishing it with an unlimited supply of arms. There is a tendency to emphasize the importance of this phase to Latin-America and certain parts of Europe.

Look, Mother!
for film on your child's teeth

That's often a danger sign. If the dentifrice you now use doesn't combat it successfully, it's inadequate. How to combat it without harmful grit—the new way in child's tooth care specialists recommend.

FOREMOST dental authorities now advise a new way in caring for a child's teeth. A way different in formula, action and effect from any other method.

As a nation-wide hygienic movement, a 10-day test is offered mothers free.

You are urged to make it. To see what modern science is doing for the better protection of children's teeth and health. Simply use the coupon.

What film indicates. Why it must be fought several times daily

Look at your child's teeth. If cloudy, dull, discolored, there's a film. And that film is often a danger sign. The child can feel it by running his tongue across his teeth.

Ordinary tooth pastes won't combat it successfully. Try the one you now use. See if the film does not still remain.

* * * * *

Film is a viscous coat that clings to teeth, gets into crevices and stays. It makes pearly teeth ugly, discolored—dingy. Many a naturally pretty child is handicapped in this way.

Film also holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay. Germs by the millions breed in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea.

Now a new way

Now modern science has found a safe way to combat film. Super-gritty substances are judged dangerous to the teeth. Soap and chalk methods are inadequate.

This new method, embodied in the tooth paste called Pepsodent, provides the scientifically proved combatant that is being adopted by the people of some 50 nations. Its action is to curdle the film, then harmlessly to remove it.

Test Tube Free

Don't you think it worth while, in justice to your children, and in fairness to yourself, to try it for ten days? The test will cost you nothing. Use the coupon for a 10-day tube, free.

Such popularity must be deserved

THE magic carpet of the Thief of Bagdad! The greater magic of Douglas Fairbanks, whose very name packs theatres to the doors!

Mr. Fairbanks has won success in many roles, Chesterfield in but one. Yet both have achieved their immense popularity by the simple process of deserving it.

Downright better taste—that's the "magic" of Chesterfield! What else could account for such popularity?

USE CANTHROX
Shampoo

Today's Beauty Talk

Inquiry develops the information that it is dangerous to shampoo with any makeshift hair cleanser. The majority say that to have the best hair wash and scalp stimulator at a cost of about three cents, one need only get a package of Canthrox from your druggist; dissolve a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water and your shampoo is ready. This makes enough shampoo liquid to apply to all the hair instead of just the top of the head. After its use the hair dries rapidly, with uniform color. Dandruff, excess oil and dirt are quickly dissolved and entirely disappear when you rinse the hair. After this your hair will be so fluffy it will look much heavier than it is. Its luster and softness will delight you, while the stimulated scalp gains the health which insures hair growth.

SEEK POISON IN SUNNY MAN'S STOMACH TODAY

REWARD FOR KILLER

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 4.—The Washington Post tomorrow will publish an offer of a $5,000 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of persons responsible for the death of Sunny Man, three year old colt belonging to Willis Sharpe Kilmer.

The newspaper expresses the opinion that the colt was poisoned in an effort to "fix" a race in which he appeared last Monday at Havre De Grace.

Baltimore, Md., May 4.—[Special.]—Veterinarians tomorrow will make an analysis of the stomach of Sunny Man, the race horse valued at more than $100,000 and considered the best 3 year old in the Willis Sharpe Kilmer's stables, which died in agony last Saturday night at Pimlico after a short illness. The body of the animal was taken today to the plant of the Standard Guano company, where the stomach was removed.

The analysis will be made by Dr. Frank A. Ingram, veterinarian of the Hartford Livestock Insurance company, one of the companies in which the horse was insured for approximately $100,000.

Blame Sedative for Death.

Dr. H. K. McCarthy, veterinarian for the Maryland Jockey club, who was called in to treat the animal and later declined to continue on the case, today said he thought death was due to a sedative. The sedative was prepared by Dr. R. C. McCully, special veterinarian for the Kilmer stables, Dr. McCarthy said.

Both McCarthy and Dr. Ingram asserted the removal of the horse's body from Pimlico to the fertilizing plant without permission of the insurance company was irregular.

Insurance company veterinarians and private detectives today started investigations into Sunnyman's death. It is understood the theory that the horse was given arsenic is based on clews which lead back to the Havre de Grace track, where he ran before he was brought to Baltimore on Tuesday.

Add to Stables Guard.

In the meantime, extra precautions are being taken at the track. Additional grooms and stablemen have been put on guard to prevent access to the horses by strangers.

Mr. Kilmer, the owner of the horse, is ill at his estate at Newmarket, Va. He ordered the investigation by private detectives. The other has been started by the insurance company in which the horse was heavily insured.

It is said that the owner of the horse refused an offer of $200,000 for him and Sunard, a 2 year old, last year.

Disclaims Responsibility.

Baltimore, Md., May 4.—[A. P.]—Edward Burke, general manager of the Harford Agriculturol and Breeders' association, which conducts the racing at Havre De Grace, today disclaimed any responsibility of the incident, declaring that he did not think it up to his association to start an investigation. Trainer Smith was assigned an entire barn for the Kilmer horses, Mr. Burke said, and, as he understood, had two of his own men act as watchmen day and night over Sunny Man and the rest of the string.

"If the horse was tampered with after these precautions," Burke added, "then there is nothing that we can do in the matter."

ENTRY BLANKS OUT FOR CHICAGO OLYMPICS MAY 31

Entry blanks are out for the Chicago Olympics, a set of track and field games to be held under the auspices of the Finnish American A. A. of Chicago in the Grant Park stadium May 31. This meet will be featured by a one mile run in which Paavo Nurmi and Willie Ritola, the two great Finn runners, may meet Joey Ray, Lloyd Hahn, and George Connolly.

The open events will include the 100 yard dash, 120 yard high hurdles, quarter mile run, half mile run, and 1½ mile relay. A one mile run and a 1½ mile relay will be held for high schools and four events for women. Aside from the stars in the mile run, Willie Plant will give an exhibition of walking, Harold Osborne of high jumping, and Johnnie Myyga of javelin throwing.

Entries close May 23 with William Juuti, 725 Belmont avenue, from whom all information may be obtained.

MARYLAND NAGS ARE ON WAY TO AURORA TRACK

The first shipment of Maryland horses for the Aurora meeting, which starts June 4, was announced yesterday by Clifford Trimble, general manager. Reservations were asked for six stalls by Joe Bauer, owner of The Roll Call and other horses which raced last season at Aurora and Hawthorne. The stable is expected to leave Pimlico next week.

There will be a general influx of horses for the Aurora course from this and New York tracks and extra barns are being built to accommodate the horsemen.

KIECKHEFER IS VICTOR IN TWO 3 CUSHION GAMES

Augie Kieckhefer's ability to employ his cue to the best advantage in tight positions enabled him yesterday to defeat Allen Hall of Mussey's in a double National Three Cushion Billiard league program at Mussey's Madison street rooms. Augie won the afternoon match in forty-four innings, 50 to 43, while he finished in thirty-nine sessions to take the evening game, 50 to 48.

Mother of Charlie O'Leary, N. Y. Yanks Coach, Dies

Charlie O'Leary, coach of the New York Yankees, was called home yesterday because of the death of his mother at their home, 7615 South Morgan street. Burial will be at 10 a. m. on Thursday.

CLIFF WOODBURY ENTERS THREE I AUTO RACE MEET

Cliff Woodbury, Chicago dirt track champion, has sent in his entry for the opening speed meet of the Three I speedway officials at the North Shore Polo club track Sunday afternoon.

Woodbury had a remarkable season in 1924, cleaning up most of the features hereabouts, and is anxious to tackle some of the stars who won at the Ascot track in Los Angeles last winter.

Two of the best drivers of this district, George Beck and Bugs Allen, will stage a match race on Sunday. Each captured an event at the Ascot track, and this will decide the supremacy.

KING NADI RACES INTO FIRST RANK FOR DERBY

TWO MORE ON SHELF

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 4.—Mark Master, selected by the International stable to carry its colors in the Kentucky Derby on May 16, and Drowsy Waters, Dan Lehan's maiden candidate for the classic, both may be added to the list of thoroughbreds which have been thrown out of contention for the event.

Mark Master has been suffering with a quarter crack in the right forefoot and infection was discovered when the hoof was scraped.

Drowsy Waters has not been worked for four days because of a touch of distemper. Whether the ailments will prevent the horses going to the post in the Derby has not been determined by their trainers.

BY FRENCH LANE.

Lexington, Ky., May 4.—[Special.]—Old John Troxler, who has been laughed at and chided by his friends and neighbors lately because he refused $50,000 for a Derby colt which has been running like a selling plater, is snickering up his own sleeve tonight.

King Nadi, Troxler's Derby hope, stepped out in the Harrodsburg handicap this afternoon, ran a mile in 1:40 over a slow track and defeated the most representative field of Derby eligibles yet to face the starter in Kentucky. The victory came after two miserable showings in shorter races.

Two Others Show Well.

Two other Derby candidates also turned fine performances in the same race. After trailing King Nadi all the way, Son of John, a Derby dark horse from Will Perkins' stable, was running him stride for stride at the finish and was only a head back. Supremus was all but left at the post and closed an enormous lot of ground to finally wind up in third place.

The Derby colts failing to show much class in this race were Edward R. Bradley's Bill Strap, Captain Donan, and Fire On.

The most impressive local Derby workout of the spring was turned in this morning by Step Along.

His latest effort showed him fairly flying over a mile and an eighth route in 1:52 2-5, after he had reached the mile post in 1:39 3-5. Jockey Earl Pool, his Derby pilot, was in the saddle and he had up his Derby weight.

Cotner May Go to Preakness.

Traymore's mile move in 1:43 4-5 was another that caused considerable local comment. He was also carrying close to Derby weight and finished as if he might have done much better had Jockey Willis urged.

If any of the Derby colts now training in Kentucky invade Maryland for the Preakness next Friday, it will be Lee O. Cotner. Jockey Bill Fronk left here tonight for Churchill Downs to ride Cotner in a workout tomorrow morning, and if he shows up in good running style he will be loaded into an express car and shipped to Pimlico immediately.

Borderland and Needle Gun, eastern Derby colts trained in Louisville, arrived here yesterday and will make their first start of the season in the fourth race tomorrow.

HAWAIIAN STRING OF POLO PONIES BURNED TO DEATH

HONOLULU, May 4.—[A. P.]—All but one of the Hawaiian string of polo ponies which recently returned from play in California were burned to death in a fire last night at the Baldwin stables, Island of Maui. Word of the fire was relayed to Honolulu by Al Castle, a member of the Hawaiian team, who said the loss included a number of ponies recently purchased on the Pacific coast by island players.

SANDE RIDES PAIR OF WINNERS AT JAMAICA

New York, May 4.—[Special.]—Ten thousand enthusiastic race followers cheered Earl Sande at the Jamaica course this afternoon, when he brought R. T. Wilson's colt Cannae home an easy winner in the Montauk claiming stakes, which featured the day's card. They had previously given him a warm reception when he came back to the scales on George D. Widener's Chatterer, winner of the Pansy purse. Sande also put up a great fight for the money on the Leona Farm's Our Buddy in the dash of five and a half furlongs for maiden three year olds, but the gelding wasn't good enough and finished third.

LOMBARD STAR TO COACH.

Galesburg, Ill., May 4.—[Special.]—Carl Murphy, Lombard college basket and foot ball star, will coach at Knoxville High school next year. He receives a Lombard diploma in June.

DEMPSEY PICKS GERMAN QUINCE? HA HA'S AT U.S.A.

New York, May 4.—[Special.]—Jack Dempsey's terms for a match to be fought in Berlin during his trip abroad were accepted today, and there is a probability that the champion will finally do some fighting by picking a soft one.

A cable was received today by Jack Curley, wrestling promoter in New York, who has been conducting the negotiations for the champion, in which Dempsey's demands of $150,000 have been agreed to as the price of the defense of his title against some European heavyweight.

Spalla Victim Has Call.

While the Dempsey opponent has not as yet been specified, it is understood that Brientenstraeter, the German heavyweight, heads the list. Brientenstraeter lost in 1922 to Erminion Spalla in a contest for the European heavyweight title, being knocked out in seven rounds. This pair also went fifteen rounds to a draw.

Several other names have been submitted to Curley, including that of K. O. Sampson, who has enjoyed some success in German bouts, but was a big failure in the few fights had over here.

May Box Marty Cutler.

Los Angeles, Cal., May 4.—[Special.]—Jack Dempsey has made up his mind to fight somebody in Europe and has wired his intention from New York to Jack Kearns, his manager.

"Dempsey is sailing from New York to Europe on Wednesday. He will box somebody abroad," was dapper Doc's announcement. "It may be in London, Paris, or Berlin. Dempsey has wired me he has had some offers. There was something about some big German monkey named Hans Breitenstraeter."

"Could it be Marty Cutler?" Kearns was asked.

"Well, perhaps," was the reply.

NOTES OF THE CUE ROOMS.

Mussey's, 10 West Jackson, house handicap 3 cushion billiard game last night was won by Wilson, who defeated Jacobs [29], 35 to 15. The match lasted 56 innings.

HUGE ENTRY FOR GOLF OPEN PUTS U.S.G.A. IN ROUGH

BY MORROW KRUM.

There are two bright bits of news concerning the royal and ancient game of golf for you to consider over your breakfast this morning.

The first is concerning the United States Golf association, the unusually large entry list in the national open championship tournament, and the difficulties the association is finding in getting the entry list cut, by qualifying round, down to a number that can be properly handled.

The other is the definite announcement by President Robert A. Gardner of the Chicago District Golf association an open tournament will be held here this summer.

Huge Field a Problem.

Let the national open matter be considered first. The record breaking entry of 443 gentlemen into this contest has given U. S. G. A. officials cause for deep concern. A special meeting will be held in New York Thursday and some drastic action may result.

An Associated Press dispatch from New York last night read "solution of the problems attending the remarkable growth of golf in America apparently have only begun for the U. S. G. A." The dispatch goes on to explain the national amateur championship will see a reduction of qualifiers from the usual thirty-two to sixteen.

Now of the 443 gentlemen entered in the national open, 271 will qualify at Lido, Long Beach, L. I. That gives a problem to the U. S. G. A. It has been suggested half of the field play 18 holes, May 27, the other half the next day and May 29 all players within 15 strokes of the low score continue for an 18 hole round. Then total scores for the 36 holes will be considered. Another plan would require the field be divided into three parts, each to play 36 holes within three days.

Fewer Contestants Here.

The field of middle western qualifyers—there are 152—who will shoot at Onwentsia will not be so difficult to handle. On the Pacific coast there are only 44 players entered.

Unofficial guesses assert that of Lido's players 60 will go to Worcester. From Onwentsia 30 will go and only 10 will travel across the continent from San Francisco. So the opening of the big event will see but 100 players ready to step away from the first tee. Official decisions on these problems and others will be forthcoming later in the week.

Now about the district open championship tournament—the primary plan is to limit the event to professionals and amateurs of local clubs, but Gardner hopes the event will eventually become one of national scope and importance.

Large Entry Expected.

The tournament will be held in July, and will be 72 holes, medal play, proceeded by an amateur-professional best ball foursome.

There are about 45 member clubs in the district association. It is assumed every professional in town will enter as well as most of the low rated amateurs, so there may be 150 sharpshooters in the contest.

A. H. McConnell of Evanston, president of the Central Scientific company, joined the Hole-in-One club on Sunday when he made the 14th hole at Glen View in one shot. The ball struck the green two or three inches from the cup and gently trickled in, alongside of the flag pole. The hole is 169 yards. Mr. McConnell was playing with R. E. Wilsey and Carl Latham.

Although twenty men reported for the University of Chicago's golf team tryouts at Olympia Fields yesterday, only four made the water mark for the regular team, besides the recently elected Capt. Hisert. Of those who qualified, Art Patterson handed in the best score of the day's rounds. He circled the course in 78 in the morning round and carded a 79 in the afternoon play, which gave him a total of 157. Capt. Hisert was the next, 159; Jack Dorsey and Joe Lelewer each made 162, while S. Miller, captain of last year's squad and the other qualifier, scored 165.

One of Chicago's most delightful and best known rendezvous for tee box tourists is the Midlothian Country club, and it was there the writer played Sunday. The foursome was made up of three gentle mannered men—E. A. Garard, S. E. Thomasson, Franklin M. Warden, and the oversigned. Garard is a proud president of the club, and correctly so; Midlothian is one of the best in the district. The course is in excellent shape.

Elmhurst Golf club members are enthusiastic over the outlook for their new course, which will be opened early in the summer. Practically all of the physical work on the course has been completed and the clubhouse is well under way. The new course is near Addison.

A golf tournament will be the feature of the Music Trades convention to be held in Chicago June 8-11, according to an announcement by E. W. Curtis, an official of the organization. The contest will be held at Olympia Fields and there will be many prizes. About 150 men will take part.

LAKE VIEW GIRLS TO PLAY CANUCKS

Lake View Community Girls' Basketball team, champion of the Central A. A. U. for the last three years, will leave for Edmonton, Alberta, Canada, today to play the Edmonton Commercial Grads for the women's championship of the world. The games are scheduled for May 12 and 14. Seven girls will make the trip. They are:

Marie Curtin, Dena Schaper, Elizabeth Salbisener, Capt. Kitty Miller, Ella Smith, Lillian Anderson, and Dorothy Benoit.

COLD POSTPONES ALL PREP GAMES

All high school baseball games scheduled yesterday were postponed on account of the cold and wet grounds. Only Austin and McKinley made arrangements for the immediate playing off of their game, the two west section City league teams agreeing to play this afternoon.

"HAIR-GROOM"

Keeps Hair Combed, Glossy
Well-Groomed all Day

"Hair-Groom" is a dignified combing cream which costs only a few cents a jar at any drug store. Millions use it because it gives that natural gloss and well groomed effect to the hair—that final touch to good dress both in business and on social occasions. Even stubborn, unruly or shampooed hair stays combed all day in any style you like. "Hair-Groom" is greaseless; also helps grow thick, heavy, lustrous hair.

A. Gardiner Again Chosen Referee of Bike Derby

Arthur Gardiner, one of the greatest sprint riders in the history of bicycle racing, has again been chosen to act as referee of THE TRIBUNE's fourth annual bicycle derby to be held in Humboldt park on the morning of May 24.

Gardiner has acted in this capacity in the three former TRIBUNE events, and his presence has had a lot to do with having the races decided without protests. Gardiner knows the bike racing game, and the riders have confidence in his judgment to rule in a stern but fair manner. Although he straddled a bike many years ago, Gardiner has always kept up his interest in the game and seldom fails to put in an appearance at a bike race of any sort.

Contest Board Named.

Julian T. Fitzgerald, western representative of the Amateur Bicycle League of America, has named the board of control of the western division. This body will not only have full charge of THE TRIBUNE's derby, but it also will have jurisdiction over similar events to be conducted by the various cycling associations during the summer.

The board as named by Fitzgerald consists of himself as chairman, Frank M. Kalteux, vice chairman; Harry Berz, secretary; Edward A. Mahlke, handicapper; Robert J. Little, George W. Sonnenleiter, Frank J. Oakes, Harry Mayfield, Ted J. Pawlias, Herman Hofman, and William F. Trucco.

Many Out of Town Entries.

Out of town riders are taking a keen interest in this year's TRIBUNE's races, and indications are some of the star local riders will be put to the test to keep the major honors in Chicago. Entries are in from Joliet, South Bend, Notre Dame, Davenport, Ia., Kalamazoo, and Rockford. Before the lists close on May 17, a larger out of town representation is expected than in former derbies.

Only two local clubs, the Antlers and South Chicago Wheelmen, have sent in complete entries, but when all clubs have nominated their full strength, last year's entry of 296 should be exceeded. An entry blank with instructions appears on the sports pages for those who care to enter any of the races.

Woods and Waters by BOB BECKER

THE loud hurrahs and hoorays which have been coming down from the north woods can be traced to the trout fishermen who started their operations last Friday and by this time should have their casting arms well limbered up and their cheering voices in fine trim. Quite a number of regiments from the "All American" fishing army went north for the opening day festivities. Many north woods clubs opened in order to welcome the trout fans who were able to get away for the week-end and be back at their desks yesterday morning.

One north woods club, composed mostly of Chicago men, is waiting until the end of the month to stage its open house party and at the same time dedicate a new clubhouse. This is the Eagle River Fishing and Hunting club, of which Homer Galpin is president. It is located on Sand lake, near Phelps, Wis., a section of Wisconsin with plenty of fishing holes and many acres of fine timber.

The trend of the times is certainly toward the club or individual cottage idea. It seems everybody is scurrying around in search of a piece of land on a good muskie or bass lake and planning to build a shack or cottage. Some want remote wilderness spots, others want electric lights and the many advantages of civilization, but the fishermen call for a few trained muskies or bass in the front yard and care for little else.

DRAW SHOWS 4 U. S. GIRLS IN BRITISH OPEN

LONDON, May 4.—Ninety-four competitors are entered for the British women's open golf championship tournament, beginning at Troon May 18, and the draw, which was announced today, shows there will be strong challenge for the title by overseas players.

Miss Glenna Collett, Miss M. O'Gorman, Miss H. Ellison, and Miss M. Hunnewell will represent the United States. Mrs. K. C. Allen is a Canadian entry, while Miss C. Lascelles and Miss Ruth Affleck will play for Australia. There are several entries from Ireland.

Champions Meet Early.

In the top half of the draw, which is the most difficult, Miss Joyce Wethered, the holder of the championship, probably will meet Miss Collett in the third round, and the survivor afterward will face the opposition of such players as Miss Doris Chambers, Miss Fowler, Mrs. Temple Dobell, Miss Hunnewell, Miss Gourlay, and Mrs. Cautley.

In the easier lower half Miss Cecil Leitch must overcome Mrs. Gavin, Miss Gladys Bastin, Miss Joan Stocker and Miss Mabel Wragg before reaching the finals.

Miss Collett Gets Bye.

In the top half, having received a bye to the second round, Miss Collett plays the winner of the match between Miss Fowler and Miss Croft. In the first round Miss Doris Chambers meets Miss O'Gorman, Mrs. S. F. Jameson meets Miss Hunnewell, and Miss Cecil Leitch plays Mrs. J. Cochrane.

NURMI RETURNS $16 OF EXPENSE CASH ADVANCED

San Francisco, Cal., May 4.—William F. Humphrey, president of the Olympic club, said today that there was no significance in the careful recheck of gate receipts at the track meet Saturday and Sunday in which Paavo Nurmi, Willie Ritola, and other prominent athletes appeared, and that the only reason it was done was to set at rest rumors that excessive amounts for expense money would be paid Hugh Quist, the manager.

Humphrey added that Quist called on him today and explained that he had a balance left from the $1,200 advance expense money he had received in Chicago for the trip to the Pacific coast. Later Quist turned in to Joseph R. Hickey, general manager of the track meet, an expense account for $1,184. Quist then paid back the $16 left, Hickey announced.

The meet, an annual affair of the Pacific association of the A. A. U., was held under the auspices of the Olympic club. The receipts totaled $9,181.

IN the WAKE of the NEWS

POISONED RACERS.

CASES of poisoning on the American turf are comparatively rare. Sunny Man's fate is the only notable incident of its kind in recent years. If the plot is uncovered, The Wake will be interested in the motive. There was hardly enough future book play on the Kilmer colt to warrant such extreme measures so long in advance of his Kentucky Derby engagement.

Future book betting is more prevalent in England than in this country. There have been cases abroad of poisoning of Derby favorites on which venturesome bookies stood to lose large sums. In this country, the Kentucky Derby is about the only fixture on which there is a big play. Even this development is of recent years, and it has been retarded by proneness of bookies to "run out," leaving holders of winning tickets to seek their money in vain.

There is another reason which argues against tampering—more especially for overnight events. In Kentucky and Maryland, wagering is on the pari-mutuel system. In open booking, it is possible to "stop" one horse and then lay against him. In the mutuels, you might "stop" one horse, but you would have to pick a winner to cash tickets.

Leading stables guard carefully their valuable strings as a precaution. It is not easy for vandals to reach them. The Wake's theory is that most cases of tampering are "inside" jobs—revenge work of disgruntled stable hands—rather than plots of outside crooks.

FARM AND GARDEN BY FRANK RIDGWAY

FIVE BULBS NOT HURT BY FOREIGN FLOWER BAN.

FLOWER growers have been given the general impression lately that all foreign bulbs would be excluded from this country, but the good news coming from Washington yesterday said that tulips, hyacinths, crocuses, lilies, and lilies of the valley will not be restricted.

Bulb buyers have been led to believe by various statements circulated that all foreign bulbs would be prevented from coming into the United States after this year, but the government's statement says the department of agriculture has never placed any limitation on the entry of the bulbs listed above, "and these will remain, as in the past, open to unrestricted entry."

The bulbs that have been on the restricted list still will be kept out of this country. Narcissus, one of the flower grower's favorites, will be added to the restricted list beginning the first of next year. Some of the other bulbs of less importance will also be barred. The narcissus (daffodils, paper-whites, etc.) bulbs are accused of being the most frequent and abundant carriers of serious pests, which also attack field crops. The most important of these pests are two bulb flies and an eelworm or nematode, experts claim.

ZBYSZKO FLOPS 40 LB. LIGHTER FOE IN JIG TIME

Stanislaus Zbyszko, Polish grappler, defeated George Kotsonaros, the Greek, in straight falls in the main bout of the wrestling show at the Coliseum last night. The Pole, who outweighed his opponent by at least forty pounds, won the first fall with a flying mare followed by a reverse body lock in 34:15. Zbyszko took the second fall in 9:50 with a wrist and body lock.

Although the Greek gave his opponent some interesting competition during the first fall, Zbyszko was master of the situation at all times. Kotsonaros applied several head locks, but at no time had the Pole in distress.

Stecher and Judson Draw.

In the semi-windup Joe Stecher and Frank Judson, the former Harvard mat instructor, wrestled 28:00 to a draw. This was by far the best match on the card as both men wrestled clean and gave a sterling exhibition of many holds.

Hussane Is Disqualified.

Yussiff Hussane was disqualified for rough tactics by Referee Johny McMahon after he had been on the mat for 21:00 with Renato Gardini, the Italian, in the second bout. After Gardini had been declared the winner, the referee left the ring and the Italian flopped his opponent with a head lock.

About 2,000 people saw the matches and the receipts were about $4,000. The show was conducted by Joe Coffey, John Krone, and Charley Cutler.

In Motordom by J. L. JENKINS

LOS ANGELES has taken another important step in the traffic safety program which has already materially reduced its annual toll of automobile casualties by the establishment of street tunnels to be used by school children in traveling to and from school through the heavy traffic districts.

A $500,000 bond issue has been placed on the spring election ballot for the construction of 61 additional tunnels under dangerous streets bordering various city schools following a survey and traffic count made by the board of education and Automobile Club of Southern California.

The board has found that due to the safety courses established in its public schools and the new driving and anti-jay walking regulations, child fatalities have been reduced [illegible] per cent in the last year. If the bond issue is approved, practically all of the dangerous school intersections will be eliminated in the city.

Members of the National Automobile Underwriters association, meeting in the [illegible] hotel yesterday, urged the adoption in Illinois of a state law requiring all automobile drivers to carry a certificate of car ownership which would have to be produced before sale or trade of a used car could be completed. Eighteen states have passed such a law, according to W. T. Young, general secretary of the organization, who declared that it has gone far to stop automobile thefts and traffic in stolen cars.

ENGEL HERE FOR MAT TITLE GO WITH MEYERS

Heine Engel of Dubuque, Ia., who meets Johnny Meyers for the world's middleweight wrestling championship at the Broadway armory on Friday night, arrived in Chicago last night and will resume training today at Mullen's gymnasium.

The challenger looks in excellent condition and asserted he will give up the game if he fails to wrest the title from Meyers. Engel has come close to winning the championship on several occasions and it was his own carelessness which deprived him of the title when he met Lou Talaber at the north side armory a short time ago.

Meyers resumed training at the Arcade and apparently does not intend to be caught out of condition.

When Wayne "Big" Munn opens his training camp at Michigan City the latter part of next week to prepare for his world's heavyweight championship match with Ed "Strangler" Lewis on May 30, Lou Talaber, the former middleweight champion, will be in charge.

Talaber left last night for Kansas City where he meets Joe Parelli tomorrow night in a finish bout. While in Kansas City, Talaber will talk over terms with Gabe Kaufman, manager of Munn.

Lewis came into Chicago yesterday on his way to Boston where he is scheduled to engage in a match on Thursday night. Ed will work at Mullen's this afternoon and take a night train for the east.

EDDIE ANDERSON SOCKS RYAN FOR A 10 ROUND WIN

A fast finish, in which he rolled up a wide margin of points, gave Eddie Anderson of Moline, Ill., the popular decision over Tommy Ryan, McKeesport, Pa., bantam, in the windup bout of the boxing show at East Chicago, Ind., last night. Anderson piled up his big margin in the last five rounds in which Ryan slowed up and appeared to tire.

For the first five sessions Ryan more than held his own with Anderson, trading punch for punch, but never landing effectively. Then Eddie started. He pummelled Ryan with lefts and rights and won the sixth, seventh, eighth, and ninth rounds in a walk. Anderson hit Ryan with straight punches and hooks and uppercuts, but couldn't rock the eastern boy off of his pins.

Ryan Fails in Pinch.

In the tenth round Ryan rallied and strove for a knockout, but couldn't land hard enough. Anderson was content to do defensive boxing in the final session, for he already had the contest tucked away.

The two made weight at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, scaling 122 pounds.

In the semi-windup, Frankie Hiplock, the steel worker from Calumet City, won an easy victory over Danny Kahn of Chicago in eight rounds. Hiplock was too clever for Kahn and outslugged the Chicago boy all the way. The Calumet City boy used left hooks to a good advantage and Kahn was weary when the contest came to a close. They weighed 155 pounds.

Willie Brown Beats Cooper.

Willie Brown beat Bobby Cooper in six rounds in the second preliminary, which was the best bout on the card. Brown displayed a great left hand and had Cooper backing away. Early in the contest Brown shook Cooper up with a stiff right jab and from then on Bobby covered up.

Dan Gasparo won the decision over Tom Midget in the second six round prelim. It was a one-sided contest with Gasparo doing the leading and Midget on the run most of the time.

"Irish Mickey" Cone of Kokomo, Ind., won over Midget Dugan in the opening four rounder. Cone piled up a big margin despite the fact that Dugan scored a knockdown in the fourth round.

A small crowd watched the contests and the house brought about $1,700.

KEARNS WILL GO WITH WALKER FOR COOPER GO

Los Angeles, Cal., May 4.—[Special.]—Jack Kearns, who became manager of Mickey Walker, world's welterweight champion, here last week, will leave tomorrow for San Francisco with Walker. Next week Walker boxes "Lefty" Cooper in the Bay city, and Kearns says:

"I expect Walker to get $40,000 for his end. After we come back to Los Angeles I expect to sign Walker for a bout with a welterweight contender, July 4, and then we go east for his mill with Greb."

SLIGHT ILLNESS KEEPS M'GRAW OF GIANTS HOME

New York, May 4.—John McGraw, manager of the New York Giants, is confined to his home with a slight cold, it was learned today. His physician described his illness as only a slight throat irritation. He said McGraw would be out in a day or two. The cold was contracted in Boston when the Giants opened their season there April 14.

SISLER BEATS DETROIT.

St. Louis, Mo., May 4.—George Sisler, manager of the St. Louis Browns, had a field day today and was largely responsible for the 5 to 4 defeat administered Detroit. In addition to getting two singles Sisler hit into the right field bleachers with two men on the bases and then in the eighth inning pilfered home on a double steal. Score:

HOOPER UNDER KNIFE FOR BLOOD CLOT ON LEG; OUT FOR A WEEK

Harry Hooper, veteran outfielder of the White Sox, is on the hospital list. Hooper underwent an operation yesterday by Dr. Philip H. Kreuscher, the club physician, and a blood clot on the inside of his right leg was removed. He will be out of the lineup at least a week and probably two weeks.

Hooper was hit on the leg by a foul ball off his own bat a few days ago, and a blood clot formed. For a time it was thought the clot would be absorbed, but later Dr. Kreuscher found an operation was the only way to remove the obstruction. The operation was performed yesterday morning at the Mercy hospital, and last night Hooper was taken back to his rooms in the Cooper-Carlton hotel.

Dr. Kreuscher is the surgeon who operated on Urban "Red" Faber and Charley Robertson last fall and removed chips of bone from their pitching arms. This year "Robbie" and "Red" have been the mainstays of the Sox hurling corps and their arms appear stronger than ever.

Tribune Decisions

At East Chicago — Eddie Anderson beat Tommy Ryan [10]; Frankie Hiplock beat Danny Kahn [8]; Dan Gasparo beat Tom Midget [6]; Willie Brown beat Bobby Cooper [6]; "Irish Mickey" Cone beat Midget Dugan [4].

At Buffalo, N. Y.—Jimmy Slattery knocked out Jack McDonald [3].

At Atlantic City, N. J.—Nate Carp and Wilbur Cohen, draw [8]; Charley Bau beat Joe Bush [8].

American Boys Seeking Teams for Amateur League

Amateur baseball teams in the city are urged to have a representative present at the regular weekly meeting of the baseball division of the American Boys' Commonwealth, 3225 West Roosevelt road, tonight. Vacancies remain for teams of from 13 to 19 years, and it is hoped that at tonight's session these can be filled. The organization is endeavoring to sponsor a city-wide strictly amateur baseball league. The conference will start at 8 o'clock.

BOXING NOTES

George Gardner Jr. and Skyler Tankerson will meet in the feature bout of the weekly amateur show at St. Phillips A. C., 3149 West Jackson boulevard, tonight. Nine other matches have been arranged by Director Jim Mullen.

The regular weekly amateur boxing show will be held at the Arcade tonight. Twelve bouts complete the card as announced by Howard Carr, owner of the gymnasium.

Eddie Long, matchmaker for the East Chicago indoor club, has given up hope of arranging a card for next Monday night. Long wanted to find an opponent for Bud Taylor, but other bantams dodged the issue. Long was anxious to have Taylor engage in one more fight before he takes on Abe Attel Goldstein in New York on May 25.

Eddie Shea, the west side Italian bantamweight, will meet Jackie Snyder in a twelve round decision bout in New York tonight. If Shea wins the judges decision he will be pitted against some of the leading 118 pounders at East Chicago and Aurora outdoor shows.

SHOWERS, RAW WINDS GIVE KILLEFERS REST

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

Showers, a wet field and a chilly atmosphere provided ample reason for not attempting a show at the Cubs' park yesterday. President William Veeck wisely called off the season's local debut of Jack Hendricks' Reds before the noon hour and then, after consulting the playing dates, decided that the postponement could be pulled off here on June 22, which is an open date.

Yesterday's bad weather was accepted as a piece of good fortune by the Killefer fellows. Had the postponement not occurred it probably would have been necessary to use substitutes in the right field and third base positions because of injuries, and Killefer already has enough worries without trying to win a ball game from which about fifty per cent of his strength is missing. The Reds also accepted the off day graciously as they, too, have a few fellows on the disabled list.

Heathcote May Play Today.

One of the two latest additions to Killefer's one-legged and one-armed squad is Cliff Heathcote, the jack rabbit outfielder. Cliff was hit on the right elbow in Sunday's game at St. Louis and had to quit work for the day. For a time a fracture was feared but an x-ray plate divulged nothing, so Trainer Andy Lotshaw went to work with some of his magic oil and there is a bare possibility that the player will be able to play today, but a better guess is that he won't be in action before the Cubs open their eastern invasion in Boston on Friday.

Barney Friberg, third sacker, is the other new patient in Lotshaw's hospital. Friberg has been favoring his weak ankle too much that he's finally developed a healthy charley horse in his leg. He has kept right on playing despite the ailment, but yesterday the limb was in such shape that Barney was able to move around only with difficulty. Ordinarily a charley horse is slow in pulling away so the third sacker may be out of a job until the end of the week.

"Rabbit" to Stay in Chicago.

Capt. "Rabbit" Maranville, who had figured his busted ankle might be sufficiently healed to permit him to accompany the team east, will have to remain in Chicago under the care of Dr. Ryerson. It may be another ten days before he is permitted to put his full weight on the cracked hoof, so about the best to be hoped for in his case is that he'll be about ready to step in and assume the shortstop's duties about the first week of June.

Outfielder Denver Grigsby, who spent a month in a Los Angeles hospital as the result of fracturing a collarbone, will arrive here tomorrow but will not go east with his mates. He, too, will be kept here for treatment but there is a chance that he'll be in trim before the Cubs come home on May 31. Meanwhile, Outfielder Art Weis is recovering from an attack of scarlet fever and will not be turned out of the hospital for about two more weeks.

The Cubs will leave for the east immediately after tomorrow's game and before returning to their own lot will visit every other city in the circuit with the exception of St. Louis.

First Twilight Ball Game Tonight at Pyott Park

The first twilight game of the season will be played tonight when the Standard Trust and Savings Bank team meets the Central Trust company nine at Pyott park in the initial contest of the bankers' division of the Chicago Commercial and Manufacturing baseball league.

Clean Buildings Pay Better Profits!

WE HAVE recently cleaned, tuck-pointed or sand-blasted the exteriors of the new Union Station, the Straus, Bell, Illinois Merchants, McCormick, Garland, Railway Exchange and Allerton Club buildings, as well as many others.

Twice yearly we clean the Wrigley Building.

MARRIOTT'S HIT IN 9TH BEATS ROBINS, 6 TO 5

Boston, Mass., May 4.—Marriott's single in the ninth inning with two out scored Bancroft with the run that gave the Braves a 6 to 5 victory over the Brooklyn Robins this afternoon. Jess Petty and Rube Marquard were the rival pitchers until the eighth inning when Petty was removed for a pinch hitter and Marquard was chased off the slab. Score:

A battle ball elimination tournament, the first of a series planned here to select teams to represent Chicago in a national meet this summer, will be held in the ballroom of the Chicago Beach hotel tomorrow night. Eight teams will compete.

RAIN PREVENTS CLASH OF SOX AND INDIANS

BY JAMES CRUSINBERRY.

Cleveland, O., May 4.—[Special.]—A steady and cold rain which fell throughout the morning made baseball impossible here today and two inspired ball teams, our noteworthy White Sox and the prancing Cleveland Indians, had to postpone the first battle of the series.

Folks who doped it out that the Indians and White Sox were sure to be trailers in the American league race this year explain things now by saying that both outfits are simply inspired and playing away over their heads. However that may be, the fans in this city, as well as those in Chicago, are getting a great kick out of the race so far.

Riproaring Games Predicted.

They are quite excited here over the invasion of the White Sox and indications are that, with any kind of weather, there will be some riproaring times at the ball field during the next three days. The weather man says it will be clear tomorrow.

Hollis Thurston, our young ace, is slated for slab duty in the opening game. He might have gone to the front today, not having worked since Friday. This young man needs only a couple of days of rest between battles.

Ex-Grid Star May Oppose Sox.

There are rumors that the hefty Mr. "Gob" Buckeye, prominent football star of the Chicago pro field, will oppose Hollis on the rubber. Mr. Buckeye has about 230 pounds of muscle and he puts it all behind every pitched ball. He heaves with his left hand, too, and is liable to cause the Sox a lot of trouble if he happens to have good control of the ball.

GIANTS, 12; PHILLIES, 2.

Philadelphia, Pa., May 4.—The Giants won the opening game of the series with Philadelphia today, 12 to 2. Travis Jackson, Giant shortstop, hit two home runs in consecutive times at bat in consecutive innings. Score:

EBBETS ESTATE GOES TO WIDOW, CHILDREN

New York, May 4.—Charles H. Ebbets, late president of the Brooklyn National league baseball club, bequeathed his interest in the club equally among his widow, his son, Charles Jr., and his three daughters, it was reported this afternoon. The baseball property must be disposed of within ten years, it was said.

Mrs. Ebbets will receive an annuity of $3,000 and the use of the Ebbets home at Clearwater, Fla., for three years. To his first wife, the mother of the four children, he bequeathed $7,500 yearly.

Charles H. Ebbets Jr. will receive an annuity of $2,000 and a stickpin presented to his father at the opening of Ebbets field.

SKIDDING YANKS LOSE TO MACKS IN NINTH, 8 TO 7

CAL PRESENTS WATCH TO HARRIS; GRIFFITH'S GIFT

Washington, D. C., May 4.—President Coolidge made another presentation today to Stanley [Bucky] Harris, boy manager of the world's baseball champions. It was a watch, the gift of President Griffith of the Washington club and other admirers.

In handing the watch to Harris at the White House, Mr. Coolidge said he did not know whether he was supposed to pitch or bat it to the manager. Griffith suggested, in view of his good throw to Walter Johnson at the opening game of the season here, he had better pitch it.

THE GUMPS—READY TO DIE FOR OLD GLORY

WELL, I TOOK OFF FOUR MORE POUNDS AND I FEEL FINER THAN A GERM'S EYELASH— IT JUST GOES TO SHOW WHAT WILL-POWER AND COMMON SENSE WILL DO—
I NEVER WEAR TWO PAIR OF SHOES OR THREE HATS AT THE SAME TIME SO WHY SHOULD I EAT FOUR TIMES AS MUCH FOOD AS I NEED TO KEEP IN SHAPE? YOU CAN'T HAVE A GOOD FIRE BY CHOKING UP THE FURNACE—
I BELONG TO MYSELF AND I REGARD MYSELF AS MY MOST VALUABLE INVESTMENT— AND I OWE IT TO MYSELF TO TAKE CARE OF ME— TOO MUCH FOOD WILL HURT MY INVESTMENT SO MY BUSINESS SENSE PUT ME ON A DIET TO PROTECT MY PROPERTY—
AS A PATRIOTIC CITIZEN I QUIT USING SUGAR AND WENT ON SHORT RATIONS DURING THE WAR— I DID IT TO SAVE THE COUNTRY— NOW I'M DOING IT TO SAVE MYSELF— I'LL PRETEND I'M A COUNTRY, DIET UNTIL IT HURTS, AND MAYBE I'LL START A LIBERTY LOAN DRIVE FOR MYSELF—

SYNOPSIS.

Larry Vail, a handsome young woodsman, is commissioned by Howard Franklin to build a hunting lodge on Franklin's forest preserve. With the help of two friends, Hughie Hanlon and Sid Evans, Larry works all through the winter. In the spring Franklin comes up to inspect the cabins and finds them satisfactory. He tells Larry he is going to California on business, but Mrs. Franklin and his neice, Marcia Kerr, plan to spend the summer at the camp. Early in June the women arrive. Mrs. Franklin is interested in taking pictures of deer, and asks Larry to accompany her as guide on her photographic expeditions. They both find a great deal of enjoyment in these bloodless hunting expeditions. On a day that Mrs. Fraklin is unable to leave the house, Larry accompanies Marcia on a fishing trip.

INSTALLMENT XIV.
AN UNPLEASANT SITUATION.

The next day Marcia and Larry went fishing again, visiting a small landlocked lake in which, Larry had heard there were black bass, a rare fish in that part of Ontario. They found them, experiencing the joys of a Columbus, and the third day they returned to Big Falls and a fresh attack upon the huge wall-eyed pike.

Marcia hooked him late that afternoon. She played him with a skill and a determination that started Larry to whooping and leaping up and down on the gravel bank, and at last she landed him, though she was gasping and spent as the great, black beauty that lay near the brush.

"Trying to double cross me again, eh?" he cried furiously.

"There!" the girl cried in passionate triumph. "I earned him! For the first time in my life I've earned something."

"Earned him!" Larry repeated. "You sure did. You fought him until he quit. And look here! He's the same one. See that cut where you hooked him last time."

Larry weighed the pike with the little scales in her tackle box.

"Just a little over eight pounds," he announced. "Big as I ever saw in the country."

They were still elated when they reached the camp and when they saw Relda Franklin on the veranda they went in, laughing and excited, to exhibit the prize.

"You should have seen her!" Larry exclaimed admiringly. "She fought him for ten minutes before he let up the least bit."

"It was a perfectly beautiful struggle," Marcia added. "Those fast water fish have such strength and endurance."

She turned to Larry, wide eyed with excitement, and again they recounted the battle beneath Big Falls. They seemed to have forgotten the older woman, who reclined indolently in one of Hughie's easy chairs, and it was Larry who first caught the expression on Relda's face.

"I dare say it was most thrilling," she remarked coldly. "But it hasn't thrilled me to wait dinner for you, Marcia."

"I'm sorry," the girl said.

Larry was startled by a flash in Relda's eyes. It was directed at Marcia and he could not mistake the venom of it, even though it puzzled him. He had seen evidences of this before, a cold, insolent attitude, sometimes contempt, and now, his buoyancy crushed, a numb, sick feeling just below his ribs, he picked up the fish and went out.

"Shall we try the bass tomorrow, Larry?" Marcia called in a curiously firm voice.

"Hughie will take you," Relda said. "There are some things I want Larry to do. I'll talk to him in the morning."

The screen door closed and Marcia turned slowly and faced her aunt. The girl's cheeks were flushed, her hands were clenched at her sides, her chin was thrust slightly forward. For a long moment they stared at each other, Relda's eyes half closed and smoldering, pale blue and vindictive, Marcia's wide and fearlessly defiant.

Then Relda's lips curled ever so slightly in the faintest trace of a sneer that managed to be both insolent and triumphant. Never had Marcia shown defiance before, but if it brought hatred to Relda's eyes it brought satisfaction to her soul.

Marcia did not conform to the rules, however. Economically dependent, supported all her life by the generosity of her dead mother's brother, she should have shown dismay or contrition. Instead she laughed.

"All right," the girl said. "It's not what you think, but that doesn't make any difference."

She turned and walked away to her room.

After he left the two women, Larry, too, was brought face to face with another unpleasant situation. He went down to the lake to clean the big fish and there, a little later, Jane found him.

"You don't keep your word very well, do you?" she said, after watching him a few moments.

"You know I haven't had the time," he answered.

"You have time for the others!" she burst forth. "All day! Every day!"

"I'm hired to do it."

"You say that, but it isn't what you think. You think you have a chance there, but you're no better than I am. You're a servant. They wouldn't look at you in a city."

"I haven't asked any one to."

"Huh!" she exclaimed, contemptuously. "I've watched you the last three days, laughing and talking. You think you're getting somewhere, but when Miss Kerr goes back to the city, she'll never give you another thought. You don't know her kind, but I do. I've worked for enough of them. I know what they think and what they want and you—why, you poor simp, you couldn't keep her in shoes and stockings."

She paused to laugh at the startled expression on Larry's face.

"That got you, didn't it? Never thought of that, had you? Believed she'd live in a tent and eat rabbits with you. You poor fish! You haven't earned enough all your life to buy her clothes for one year. But you go on letting her make a fool of you."

She turned away with a sneer and then she whirled back, a small, dark fury bit of passion.

"Come, big man! Those women never love any one. They're just soft and selfish. They don't care about anything except their clothes and what they eat. I know them. If I were blind and deaf I couldn't help but know all about them. They make me sick, the cheap grafters! They wouldn't lift a little finger for you.

"But me! Just try me once! Larry. Don't look at me like that. Don't, I say!"

He had been unable to hide the loathing and disgust that swept over him, but now when he saw the panic and despair which engulfed the girl he felt only pity.

"You run along up to the house," he said gently. "Maybe we both made a mistake."

As she turned away, Sid came swinging down the trail. He saw the tears in Jane's eyes, and strode on to where Larry stood.

"Trying to double-cross me again, eh?" he cried, furiously.

"Count ten before you say anything like that, Sid," Larry advised quietly. "You ought to know me better."

"You talk nice, but you need watching just the same. It's gone to your head the way the other two have been chasing you around, and now you want to hog it all."

Larry did not reply. For the first time he realized what lay back of Sid's attitude, what had been growing for some time, what had found expression in previous outbursts.

Sid, he knew, had expected to be assigned to the entertainment of either Mrs. Franklin or Miss Kerr. Denied that, he had sought Jane's companionship, only to discover that she, too, preferred Larry. His pride was stung, his jealousy aroused, and Larry saw that a popularity that meant nothing to him was destroying a friendship that meant so much.

"Look here, Sid," he began, "you're getting all het up over nothing."

"Nothing! Then what's she crying about?"

"I'm not crying!" Jane flared. "Larry, will you take me out in a canoe tonight?"

"You see how it is," he replied, with an attempt to smile. "Sid's my [illegible]."

She glared at him, beside herself with fury, and then whirled and took [illegible].

"Come on," she said. "Let the big stiff go. They'll wipe the smile off [illegible] face."

By Mae Tinée.

Good Morning!

He was his mother's own little angel face when he was twelve—a sweet child who wore a curly wig and ruth-stdenis drapes and danced lightly on rose leaves at "afternoons" to the rapture of all the ladies and the horror of his crude male parent, who eyed him from obscure offings and speculated bitterly as to just what the queer little egg would turn out to be.

The egg became a slim and retiring young rooster without a flap or a crow in him; a youth with the haunted brown eyes of a spaniel, who took tonic three times a day, played the violin exquisitely, shrank like a violet, and was still his mother's pride and joy and his father's dose of wormwood.

Poor Mr. Rogeen! Campaigning for political office; needing a husky right arm and with only this frail reed nodding at him from a corner, he turned to "Breezy" Barnes, the up and coming son of his best friend, for the services his own offspring could not extend.

"Breezy"—who looks like Douglas Fairbanks, acts like Fairbanks, but ISN'T Fairbanks—spoke up:

"I'LL take the boy out and when I bring him back he'll be so hard-boiled he'll be able to pass a check girl without tipping her," said he.

The hard-boiling process is successfully started by the boy friend, but it gets entirely out of his hands—as does Percival, who, after a wild night, lands in a freight car, from which he is ejected the morning after in the desert wilds where he finds himself amongst a rough brotherhood who take up the job where "Breezy" left off.

From them he is rescued by a personage known in those thar parts as Holy Joe. Holy Joe can preach a mean message, but he is better at cards, where he and his flock of trained aces make deep and lasting impressions on the attendant prodigal sons.

Holy Joe, as portrayed by Charles Murray, is far and away the best characterization of the piece. He's the boy who gets the laughs.

The adventures of Percival until he is again received into the arms of his father may or may not interest you. The story seemed pretty weak to me—not nearly good enough for the actor, Charles Ray, if given the right sort of vehicle.

He does the best he can with the rôle, however, and his supporting cast is a good one. Technically, "Percy" passes muster all right.

See you tomorrow!

CLOSEUPS

Two luscious new plums have been purchased by Joseph M. Schenck for Norma Talmadge. "Kiki," in which Lenore Ulric starred for Belasco, is one. The novel, "Obligations" by Elizabeth York Miller, is the other. Miss Talmadge is working at present on "Graustark" from the George Barr McCutcheon best seller.

Tonight's the night of the annual movie ball given by Chicago Movie Operators' union for the benefit of their widows' fund. It will be at the Trianon, and stage and screen stars will attend, it is announced.

Ricardo Cortes, who seems to be stepping right along, will play a featured rôle in Paramount's "Not So Long Ago." Betty Bronson has the feminine lead.

Hugh Porter Heard in Organ Recital

Hugh Porter's organ playing came to its best estate when he reached his Bach number at Kimball hall last night. This was a Toccata, Adagio, and Fugue, not one of the frequently played concert numbers, but belonging to the Vivaldi series. Here there was forceful expression, as much accent as can be put into organ playing, and an immaculate touch, which had not invariably been the case before. It was not entirely so in Widor's Sixth Symphony, performance of which would seem to be one of the quaint native habits of organists in general.

Mr. Porter, a former Chicagoan, is now an organist of New York, returning on this occasion to give a recital under the auspices of the Musical Guild. In general he displays excellent knowledge of the technique and the color possibilities of the organ, selecting his program with these points in view, and incidentally finding several of high rank. There was a Carillon by Eric DeLamarter most excellently contrived in the vague, evanescent modern style, and a rather charming Scherzetto by Louis Vierne of Paris. Other works were by Boellmann, Karg-Elert, and Barnes.

The Inquiring Reporter

Every Day He Asks Five Persons, Picked at Random, a Question.

The Tribune will pay $5 for each question accepted for the Inquiring Reporter to ask. Send name and address with your question to "Inquiring Reporter," Chicago Tribune. For today's question Florence Morreson, 1435 Greenleaf avenue, was awarded $5.

The Question.

Do you object to seeing women smoke?

Where Asked.

Clark street at Randolph.

The Answers.

Clarence Noel, Peru, Ill., foundry molder—I don't object to it as far as that is concerned. But, do you know, there are places where it doesn't look well. Further, I belong to the Turners, and we can almost tell from the way a woman does her work whether or not she smokes. Smoking weakens them.

Miss Julia King, 5041 Kenmore avenue, clerk—I am not sure what I would say. If a woman wants to smoke I don't believe it is anybody else's business. In Scotland, where I came from, it is a common thing for women to smoke. At that, I believe people should follow the customs in vogue in their own country.

Fred Huettemann, Peru, Ill., garage man—I object to it, that's a cinch. It isn't her place. I smoke myself, but I don't like to see women smoke. I don't believe the average woman is physically strong enough to stand the strain without having a bad effect upon our children in the future.

Miss Esther Mecklenburg, 3733 Castello avenue, clerk—Well, now, that's hard for me to answer. This is a free country and everybody should be able to do as they like. I do not and will not smoke. Perhaps it would be best if women did not develop the habit, since it is generally considered a bad one.

J. J. Daly, 1157 North Clark street, city foreman—Object? What real man wouldn't object? You see them going by here by the hundreds, sitting back in their automobiles smoking and chattering. It isn't so bad in their own homes. But, darn it, they shouldn't form the habit —a habit that every man wishes he could get rid of.

Ministers Ask Action in Row Over Doctrine

Local Presbytery Wants Warning Issued.

BY THE REV. W. B. NORTON.

The Chicago Presbytery yesterday in session at the Chicago Temple, by unanimous vote, called upon the coming general assembly which meets in Columbus, O., May 21, to issue an encyclical letter regarding the doctrinal fight now being waged in the church between so-called fundamentalists and modernists.

The action taken was in the form of an overture to the general assembly and specifies the things which that body shall warn those who are subject to the authority of the church to refrain from doing.

"All persons under the authority of the general assembly," the overture reads, "are warned to refrain from calling brethren who are in good and regular standing in the church 'rationalists,' 'modernists,' 'liberals,' or 'fundamentalists,' seeing these and all other similar partisan names are relative and misleading and convey confused and wrong impressions in violation of the ninth commandment, 'Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbor.'

"They are to be warned from fomenting the spirit of distrust and suspicion against their brethren, from placing interpretation on the utterances of their brethren other than those placed upon them by their own authors, from calling upon those who differ from them to withdraw from the church, thus instigating schism in the church, and from suggesting or proposing action in special cases other than that provided by the constitution of the church: namely, by judicial process, in which all charges must be proved and all accused persons shall have an opportunity to defend themselves."

The overture was presented by the Rev. Samuel W. Findley, Morgan Park church, chairman of the committee on bills and overtures, and in its wording was the work of Prof. A. C. Zenos of McCormick Theological seminary.

Dr. Albert J. McCartney, pastor of Kenwood church and brother of Dr. Clarence E. MacCartney of Philadelphia, moderator of the general assembly and leader of the so-called fundamentalist group, moved the action of the presbytery be made mandatory on all the commissioners. Dr. A. J. Ferry, who was in the chair, ruled the action was binding without special vote.

While there was no public discussion, the members of the presbytery were aware of the action of the Chester, Pa., presbytery, which has sent to the general assembly an overture demanding the expulsion or exscinding of the New York presbytery for its heretical action in admitting men to the ministry who would not affirm their faith in the virgin birth and other doctrines.

Here's Daily Regime of Chicago's Most Nearly Perfect Girl

BY MAUREEN M'KERNAN.

For those who think the younger generation is going straight to the bow-wows, here's a story about a healthy girl.

She is Olive Pellage, 13 years old, who might almost pass a beauty contest—who did come off with first honors as the most nearly perfect, physically, of the girls who were examined at the Women's World's fair last week, where a hunt was made for the perfect young woman.

Olive is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. R. A. Pellage, 1441 Berteau avenue, and though she was named the most nearly perfect girl, and will receive a silver loving cup, she never in all her life set out to be a record breaker. She just lived along, doing as she liked—and as her parents told her—and was most amazed when laurels were given her.

When she comes home in the evening, between 3 and 4 o'clock, she sits down at the piano, sometimes willingly, for an hour and a half of practice. She has to set the supper table for her older sisters, and after supper she either wipes dishes or puts them away.

Sometimes she has an hour of home study. Picture shows come on Friday and Saturday nights. She's in bed at 9:30 o'clock. Until she started to school at 6 years old she always slept every afternoon, in a room with windows high. Her windows still stay open, summer and winter.

When she was a little thing her mother taught her to brush her teeth, which she still does twice a day. So she has white, even teeth, like a healthy young animal. She wears middy blouses, plaited skirts, bloomers, and flat shoes, and at school she's one of the crack baseball girls of the Budlong schoolyard team. When she was about six years old she was taught to swim—and that's still her dearest sport.

She thinks love stories silly, and boys—well, she doesn't think much about them either way. She reads the Little Colonel books and stories about girls. But better than those stories to Olive are detective and adventure stories, with plenty of gore and narrow escapes.

Adolph Menjou, quite unsardonic and non-villainish behind a pair of horned rimmed spectacles, detrained yesterday from the Golden State limited and spent a few hours here before departing with his wife for Washington. On May 9, the movie star explained, they sail for a rest in Europe. Alice Joyce was on the same train. All day tomorrow—Pola Negri.

Frank Craven Submits Another of His Comedies

And Gives to Chicago a Good Show.

"NEW BROOMS":
Comedy, in three acts, by Frank Craven; made known in Chicago (under the author's management) May 4, 1925, in the Blackstone Theater, with this cast:

|---|---|
| Tom Bates | Frank Craven |
| His father | Robert McWade |
| Ethel, Tom's sister | Doris Kelly |
| Florence, his fiancée | Dorothy Blackburn |
| Geraldine Marsh | Blyth Daly |
| The Rev. Mr. Dow | A. G. Andrews |
| George Morrow | Jack Devereaux |
| Kneeland | Harry Leighton |
| Wallie Nowell | John Diggs |
| Simpson | James Kearney |
| Nelson | James T. Ford |
| Margaret | Helen Weathersby |
| Williams | John Ravold |

BY FREDERICK DONAGHEY.

Mr. Craven's play is an addition to the new-generation catalogue, but with the problem stated in the terms of business instead of in the terms of sex. It is clean, well-made, warm, human, and what we used to call "realistic" when what we meant was veracious as to manner, if not as to matter. This actor-playwright turned out an admirable little piece in "Too Many Cooks," and a better one in "The First Year"; and it is my impression that Chicago was none too hospitable to either, although the latter was so good that I should include it in any list of the fourteen best plays yet written for the American theater, and I might find a place for it in my authentic list of the ten best.

"New Brooms" is a bit more theatery than either of Mr. Craven's others: the sense of plot and of plan is more insistent, and he is prodigal in the use of characters in telling his thin, appealing, and kindly comedy of how young Tom Bates found out that his dad wasn't such a bad old chap as most persons, including young Tom Bates, had been thinking.

The elder Bates has snarled, frowned, bow-wow'd, and woof-woof'd his way into reasonable ease in the manufacture of brooms. The son, packed tight with the knowledge that only a full course in a costly university can provide, is willing enough to go into the business, but on his own terms: that he be boss for a year, and thus be able to prove that his gospel of optimism, cheer, and smiles will make more money than the old man has ever dreamed of. . . . And young Tom has a sad year of it. He means well: he isn't a false-alarm nor yet a washout; but he doesn't know men and women as his father knows them, and his very beneficences are made to plague him. He takes in as housekeeper the hard-headed, stoney-broke orphan of a school-days friend of the father's, and finds out that he loves her when the old man takes her away with him on a pleasure-trip. . . . And it's all right the day the year's test is up: young Tom tells his father so in a fine, true little scene, and gets the waif; and the old man, confessing that it has been a long year and that he is eager to get back and bark at the hands in the works and at everybody else, has his reward in knowing that young Tom will make good as an outcome of realizing that he has failed.

If this plain and plausible tale be not necessarily of the American Scene, it is told in the American idiom, and is, I should say, what Mr. Craven terms it—"a comedy of the American home." It is the most delightful use of the general idea we have had since George Ade wrote "Father and the Boys." . . . And it is played delightfully by Mr. Craven (in a part which he did not write for himself, I understand), Mr. McWade, and the others named above, although most of them have slim and incidental rôles. I think the single love-scene Mr. Craven has written for Tom and the waif, Geraldine, is as fine in its continence as anything we have had since that between the dressmaker's girl and the electrician in "Happiness"—the scene wherein Miss Laurette Taylor and J. M. Kerrigan sat on the floor while the electrician ate his lunch and sang snatches of Irish balladry.

("New Brooms" is the comedy put on last summer in Milwaukee by Mr. Craven under the title of "Fool's Hill.")

"Cobra" will reach the end of its Chicago engagement Saturday night. . . . As yet, nothing is bulletined to come into the Princess.

Early Engagements Unwise if Marriage Is in Remote Future

BY DORIS BLAKE.

Bill and Esther grew up together in a small town. When Bill was 18 and Esther 17, they became engaged. The small town was informed.

A few months later Bill set forth to make his fame and fortune in the metropolis five hundred miles away. He got a job in a law office. He attended night school for his law course. His salary was small, so there was little left for trips back home to Esther. Once a year, at Christmas time, was all he could manage.

They wrote frequently during that first year's separation, Bill enthusiastically regaling his hopes of that early day when he would be able to come and get his sweetheart. Then, gradually, there came a change. The letters were stilted and delivered in less frequency. Esther made excuses and continued hers as of yore.

One Christmas, four years later, Bill did not go home. Esther went on a few days later to question him, to reproach him. She did it with tears and reminders that she had waited four long years for him; that he had given his word to marry. That everybody in the town expected they were going to marry. She did it so effectively Bill suggested they go out then and there and get the license. They went. They are unhappily married. She knows now the misery of being an unloved and undesired wife. And he the misery of marrying a girl to whom he gave a fledgling promise, a girl whom he has outgrown in the four year interval of separation.

They are tragic—these pledges made before a young man goes out into a new world, environment, interests.

Young people should try to realize that years bring changes. New environments alter the heart processes as well as the mental. The girl one loves at 18 rarely is the girl one chooses five years later. The boy one adores at 16 or 17 is not the man a maturer judgment and ripened emotions claim for life partnership. The rule holds good even where the two continue to live under like environment. It is almost sure to follow where one or the other is lifted into a completely different set of associations. The boy becomes a new man. The girl a different person.

It is not well to be chained to an early promise to wed. In his new life the boy is molded in another form. His likes and his dislikes, his wants and his desires change. He comes to admire different qualities in a girl, a different type from the early sweetheart. It is not his fault. It is life and the steady process of change. He should not be held to a promise given in that early spring of romantic fancy, once the signs point in another direction.

No, the early engagements with promises to marry at some remote future day are not wise for either. Each should go about his and her respective way, giving the other full freedom to pick and choose as the ripened years dictate. Then, if the test finds them in maturer days still longing to marry, the chances of a happy marriage are good indeed.

DORIS BLAKE ANSWERS

Best to Ignore It.

"Dear Miss Blake: I am a girl of 19, and have been going with a fellow for about three weeks. I met him at a dance hall where I worked and it must have been a case of love at first sight because as soon as I saw him I fell in love with him. I know he cares for me, too, but when we go out in company he says things to me that hurt me a lot just by saying 'I went out with this blonde and that blonde,' and yet when I tell him about it he only laughs and says that he doesn't mean it. He told me the trouble with me is I take things too seriously. Please advise what to do as I love this fellow dearly and would not like to lose him. SUNNY."

It would be better to make no comment when he mentions having been out with other girls than to say anything unflattering about them or act displeased over it, dear. After all, it is his privilege to go out with whom he pleases, and the surest way to lose his friendship is to attempt to dictate to him or question his rights.

Unfair and Unkind.

"Dear Miss Blake: I have been going with a girl one year my junior and she has always said she loved me. Some time ago we had a quarrel. She wrote to me that she didn't want to go with me because some friends told her I was going out with other girls, which is not true. She called me up one night and asked me if I cared to make up and if she was the only girl I went with. I answered yes. Next day she admitted she cared for some other boy, and left me flat. Can you please tell me the reason for this. "TOP."

In the first place, it was unfair of her to condemn you without a hearing. She showed a lack of confidence in you when she accepted another's word without giving you a chance to speak. Then, she felt she could further humiliate you by turning you down after winning you over, through the bait of friendship. Her motive was undoubtedly vanity, but it showed her in her true colors, don't you think? Her treatment was most unkind and unprincipled.

Bright Sayings of the Children

He answered, "I 'specs 'cause I'se had the bad side of the twins."

A. C.

I told him to kiss her and tell her he was sorry.

He turned to me and said, "I is sorry, mother. You kiss her."

A Friend in Need

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

Baby Bed Request.

"Is there a baby bed somewhere that is no longer needed? I have a friend who has a large family, and there is no place for the baby of 9 months to sleep. She is also in great need of clothing for her children, and the little girls 8 and 12 years old are in especial want. Anything that would fit them, or could be fixed over to fit them, would be gratefully received. "E. O'C."

Right sleeping conditions are one of the essential prerequisites of health, and this tiny baby should not be crowded into a bed with two or more members of the family. The baby bed is really needed, and we sincerely hope some one will be able to make the donation.

Ill in Sanitarium.

"I am a young man in a tuberculosis sanitarium, and have no one to help me. I am in need of clothing, and should be glad to have you give my name to any one who has a suit of clothes, size 40 coat, trousers 34 inch waist, shirts 15½, shoes 9½, or hat size 7⅛. I will appreciate anything that may be no longer wanted by the present owner. F. F."

This young man can not leave the sanitarium to call for the clothes you may have to give, but we are sure his gratitude will be worth the trouble of packing and sending them to him.

BEAUTY ANSWERS

ESTELLE S.: YOUR TROUBLE IS undoubtedly an ingrown toenail, due to your wearing too narrow toed shoes, causing the nails to run diagonally instead of parallel with the toe bones. The shoe pushes the front of the nail around and causes the opposite corner to dig into the flesh, which in time causes the flesh to become inflamed. Have yourself fitted to a pair of broad toed shoes. Raise the inner corner of the nail with cotton. Change this daily, increasing its size, until the edge of the nail, having been lifted above the flesh, no longer irritates it.

R. J. Y.: THE TEMPERATURE OF the room in which you sleep should not be over 65 degrees Fahrenheit, and the windows should be lowered from the top and raised from the bottom.

Prompt Prevention Will Save Many a Head from Dandruff

by Antoinette Donnelly

What is the cause of dandruff?

There is a difference of opinion among experts on whether dandruff is a microörganism or not. The cause is not clearly defined, but there is no disagreement in the belief that its correction in an early stage saves many perfectly good heads of hair.

Slight, dry scaling from the scalp is normal, but immediately you detect a powdery condition of scalp and coat or dress collar, you had better become a trifle anxious—just enough to go after it before it develops into the scaly condition.

It is an infectious process, 'tis well to remember, transferred by hats, combs and brushes. Brushes and combs in common use are sure means of transmission.

The simple expedients of preventing dandruff and remedying it in early stages are to use only your own brush and comb, to keep them meticulously clean and to wash the hair frequently enough to keep the scalp in a perpetual state of cleanliness. Then with a clean brush, brush the hair and scalp night and morning.

Wash brushes and combs with soap and water to which a little ammonia is added.

Where dandruff is pronounced, wash the hair once a week—particularly if the hair is oily.

A splendid application is sixty grains of sulphur to an ounce of vaseline, rubbed into the scalp at intervals of a few days until the dandruff disappears. Frequent shampooing is necessary along with this treatment.

In exaggerated cases, the attention of a physician is recommended, since internal disorders, digestion, and blood supply affect the scalp.

Notable Artists of East Are Guests of Kellogg Fairbanks

BY NANCY R——.

We live in such a busy whirl, we Americans, that the more business of living scarcely seems sufficient excuse for our being on earth at all. Hence the question, "What does he do?" or "What does she do?" when we hear of visitors in our Windy city. However, that's an unnecessary one to ask about the three guests of the Kellogg Fairbanks this week—Mr. and Mrs. Paul Manship and Barry Faulkner, who arrived from New York Saturday via motor car, with Mrs. Fairbank and her daughter, Janet.

Paul Manship's interesting and beautiful sculpture is known from one end of the country to the other, and although I haven't heard that he's here on any other mission than that of delightful guest, it may be that he is to do something for some Chicago patron of the arts. Barry Faulkner, who is, as you know, one of the most prized of our eastern artists, has a large and important commission here—that of the French war map, of which I've already written, that is to ornament the Noble Judahs' Lake Forest home.

Last evening Mr. and Mrs. Kellogg Fairbank gave a large dinner for their three visitors, to which many members of Chicago's art loving and fashionable world were bidden. On Thursday, the Arthur Meekers are entertaining for them in similar fashion, and it's beginning to look as if their days here would be quite satisfactorily crowded with engagements, both in town and Lake Forest, as Chicago hosts and hostesses are among the most hospitable in the world.

A friend who has recently returned from a visit with the Frederic A. Delanos, whom Chicago lost to Washington circles some years ago, tells me that the house they have there at present is one of the loveliest town domiciles she has ever known. Think of it, although it is in Washington proper, it sits on a hillside, at the end of a street, overlooking the lights and shadows of the city, with a garden and trees between it and the distractions and noises of a city! Wasn't that a fortunate find—to be in or near the center of things, and have a perfectly un-citified abode?

Day's News in Society

The North Shore Theater Guild-Drama league's production of "Fashion" will be given tonight at the Eighth Street theater. A pageant will be given in the intermission between the acts by groups of young society women wearing costumes representative of various periods and styles. Miss Catherine Norcross will wheel a bicycle across the stage, costumed in the sailor hat, shirtwaist, blazer jacket, long skirted outfit of that time, while the orchestra plays "Little Annie Rooney." Others in the pageant include Miss Edith Fairbanks, Miss Roberta Thorne, Miss Mary Meeker, Miss Jane Scriven, Miss Josephine Dunham, Miss Sarane Otis, Miss Louise Tyler, Miss Theodora Winterbotham, Miss Brier Wright, Mrs. Alister H. McCormick, Miss Claire Childs, Miss Bluford Richardson, Miss Emily Scott, Miss Elsie Blatchford, and Miss Joan Stuart.

From Lake Forest comes news of increasing activity at Onwentsia and among the summer residences, where preparations are being made for the arrival of their respective occupants. William Turner, who has spent many summers at Onwentsia, is expected to return this week from a winter abroad, and is to go directly to Lake Forest. Mr. and Mrs. Volney Foster are at the club now, Mr. Foster to remain for the summer, and Mrs. Foster to be there until the middle of the month, when she plans to depart for Europe.

The Joseph C. Beldens, whose large new residence is going up on Washington road, are at the club until June 1, when they expect to move in. Mr. and Mrs. James H. Douglas of 4830 Woodlawn avenue, who recently purchased the Frank C. Letts estate, are now at Onwentsia to stay for a month or six weeks while extensive remodeling makes their new place habitable for them.

Mrs. Waller Borden of 1020 Lake Shore drive is in Cambridge, Mass., visiting her aunt, Mrs. Kingsley Porter.

Club Women Hear Selves Described as Music Grafters

Gentle grafters are the clubwomen who prettily beg some poor musician to sing at entertainments for nothing or who haggle poutingly over the musician's prices, 500 members of the Chicago Federation of Women's Clubs learned yesterday from Charles E. Watt, editor of the Music News.

The event was the May breakfast at the Morrison, at which the federation launched annual music week. Musicians must live and they must be paid for their services, Mr. Watt said in his address. He said also that there are too many professional musicians in Chicago. That brings down the prices of music and makes ambitious persons who would be good musicians go into other fields. The penalty may be a dearth of musicians of merit, he said.

The audience has a duty in listening, said Edward Moore, music critic of THE TRIBUNE, just as the musician has a duty in playing. The American composer and American music should be given every chance to develop, Mr. Moore said, but added that he still would rather listen to a good foreign artist than a poor American.

The club federation, in line with the policy of the National Federation of Women's Clubs, sponsors a music week each year. Yesterday's breakfast, with Mrs. Edward S. Bailey, city president, presiding, opened the week this year. Today musical programs bearing the indorsement of the clubwomen will be broadcast.

Wednesday and Thursday musical programs have been planned for the city and county prisoners. High school orchestras will engage in a contest Saturday in Orchestra hall, following which the Apollo club will give a musical.

Prizes of $50 will be given the boy or girl writing the best composition on "what music means to Chicago," Mrs. Henry W. Walbaum announced last night.

TALKING THROUGH MUSIC.

Unmoving while one sings or plays.
But Goops will often joke and chaff,
Will fret and fidget, talk and laugh.
One can't enjoy the music—neither
Can one enjoy the Goops there, either!

TRIBUNE COOK BOOK

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Beads and Thumb Grips.

The bead of a kettle is the finish of its edge. If we want to keep our dishwashing from becoming a burden and to have the foods we eat safe we should give some heed to this bead. Suppose, for instance, that we fail to take the stitch in time that saves nine, or its equivalent, when we put the top of the double boiler into the sink after we have poured from it the breakfast cereal. To save ourselves work we should not only then fill that utensil with hot water but we should wipe off the bead.

One of the best things to use for the purpose is one of the inexpensive white paper napkins to be purchased by the thousand, and which become so indispensable to the kitchen after you have once used them. Fingers could be used in an emergency, but then the hands must be rinsed and dried. If the cereal is not wiped off the bead it quickly dries on, and it takes time and trouble to get it off without one of the special sorts of rough sponges. The only other thing to do in putting it to soak is to immerse the whole in a pan of water.

To pour a sauce from a saucepan out over a dirty bead is to run a real risk, although the harm done may be of the insidious sort, especially if that dirt happens to be rather old and a mixture of food and dust. That is why the fifth item in one description of a double boiler sent out by some manufacturers who call attention to the meaning of every tiny part of any of their utensils is worth heeding. This is it: "Tightly rolled, sanitary beads, free from dirt catching crevices."

And even a careful housewife might, before she realized it, get a perfect sink of iniquity in that place just below the bead of a saucepan where the handle joins it, especially if that handle is so constructed as to have a place there which can easily fill with dirt almost inaccessible with any ordinary cleaning device, and for which cleaning a wooden skewer is usually best. The handles with good thumb grips are least likely to have one of these sinks of iniquity, which is anything but a suitable neighbor to what we are cooking, and some handles that are all thumb grip are perhaps the most dangerous.

From Paris Comes This Cape Ensemble

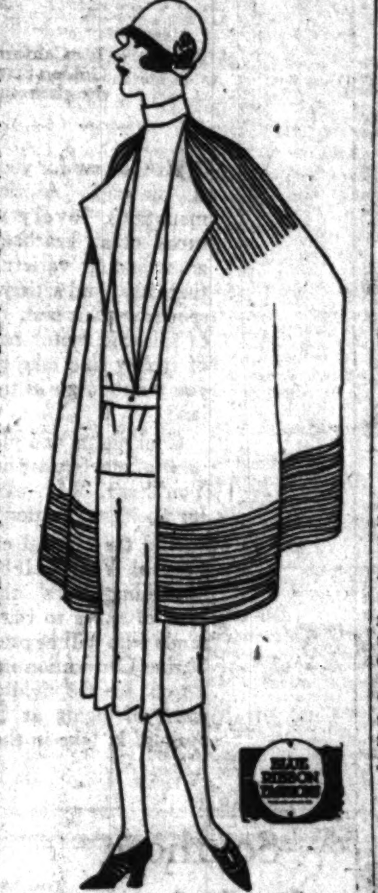
by Corinne Lowe



NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—Pinning your tucks in faith is certainly style wisdom this spring. For pink tucks are not only sponsored in general, but for the cape they perform a special service.

In today's sketch it is obvious that the pin tucks on the shoulder of the cape do more than serve a decorative purpose. They achieve a smoothly tailored fit across the shoulders with amplitude assured below. As for their ornamental character, it is reinforced by a deep border of the same tucks applied horizontally to the bottom. Pointed revers add greatly to the grace of this wrap.

This costume is a cape ensemble. It may be developed in several ways. A jumper frock in the same material may complete the costume by sponsoring a jacket treatment with a vest of crepe. Or you might fashion a suit of gray woolen finished with a costume blouse. On the other hand, the cape itself may be attached to a sleeveless jacket and the accompanying frock be of the one-piece persuasion.

A similar model observed at a recent style show posed a jacket cape in beige woolen fabric over a frock of plaited silk. This represents a charming and widely sponsored mode for semi-sports wear. It should be remarked before passing from the ensemble that its most effective examples sponsor a high necked collar in the accompanying dress.

Other evidences of the importance of the cape theme are presented in certain methods of treating frocks. Cape sleeves and cape backs are frequently noted in costumes for afternoon. Such touches are more usual than the use of separate capes to accompany the costume. One of the few instances of the separate cape—aside from the formal evening wrap—is the short cape of ermine designed for the more elaborate summer occasion.

Tommy Is Aroused.

Two friends and I decided to take a boat trip. My small nephew eagerly asked if he could go. I consented.

On the way back Tommy whispered to me that he had 50 cents and would like to treat us all. I was proud of him for being so thoughtful, and when we landed we went to a candy kitchen. Tommy grew bashful, and when it came to paying the bill, which was 40 cents, he handed his half dollar to me and told me to do it. This I did, and when the waiter returned with the change, 10 cents, I laid it on the table for a tip and he promptly picked it up.

Tommy's face lit up with indignation. He scowled at the back of the retreating waiter and called, "Hey! Come back here with that dime It's mine, I tell you! Aunt Dee, he took my dime Make him give it back!"

Every eye in the room turned on us. I don't remember which turned more red—the waiter or myself, but I do know we left the place hastily.

Speaking of Weight.

My most embarrassing moment occurred at a party. The conversation had drifted to dieting and stout people and I was just the least bit self conscious, as I weigh near 150 pounds. I was sitting on a collapsible camp chair, when I made an attempt to reach for something. There was a terrible crash, and I found myself seated or rather sprawled all over the floor with the chair in splinters.

MEN'S FASHIONS

Handkerchiefs for Color.

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—In the spring, a young man's fancy handkerchiefs suddenly appear in his breast pocket, no longer the pale and austere white kerchiefs of the winter months, but in all colors and designs to match the lighter and more fancy clothes of the new season as contrasting to the more somber garments of the winter.

These colored handkerchiefs, by the way, are more decorative than utilitarian. That is to say, they will serve in a pinch, but in the main they are just for show, and the men who affect handkerchiefs with formal clothes of any description, that is, tuxedo, full dress or cutaway. On the other hand, it is not wrong to use them in connection with dark business suits as they lend a pleasing touch of color and frequently brighten up a whole outfit.

When using them, it is well to remember that they are not the only piece of color on your person and that they should not be eased into your breast pocket at random, but should be selected with an eye to harmonizing with the rest of your costume.

Some of these handkerchiefs are quite mild, being colored in soft pastel shades and in quiet designs, while others, to suit the more riotous tastes look like gypsy headpieces.

It is, of course, not necessary to bring out that one does not wear fancy

PAY TWO WOMEN $800,000 GOLD FOR LOOP LAND

BY AL CHASE.

Eight hundred thousand dollars in gold was paid yesterday by Emil and Carl Eitel, of the Randolph hotel company, for the 120x127 site on which the old Bismarck hotel once stood, and on which the new Hotel Randolph and Bismarck restaurant is now being erected at the southeast corner of Randolph and Wells.

Of this amount $500,000 in gold was paid to Ida K. Notz for the corner lot fronting 127 on Wells and eighty feet on Randolph. Miss Florence Krans was given $300,000 in gold for the forty feet frontage adjoining on the east. This lot is 180 feet deep. This means that the Eitels paid $800,000 for 120 feet of Randolph street frontage, or $6,666 a front foot.

In connection with a new hotel and restaurant the Eitels have under construction a large theater and office building, the entire building extending from La Salle to Wells.

Link-Belt in $500,000 Deal.

The Link-Belt company, 310 West Pershing road, yesterday negotiated a half million dollar deal whereby it acquired the present plant of the Heissler & Junge company, bakers, adjoining it, at No. 301, 280x560. It paid $425,000 for the buildings and land and then leased the property back to the bakers for two years till they can build a new plant, thus making the deal total approximately $500,000.

The thirty-six flats at the southwest corner of Kenilworth and Pleasant, Oak Park, were sold by Herbert T. Hinchcliffe to W. F. Kelley. According to the county records the price was $157,200, subject to a mortgage of $99,200. On the other hand, Gustav E. Beerly, attorney, says Mr. Hinchcliffe received $175,000 and that the buyer assumed a $100,000 mortgage.

Fred M. Clarke of Hipple & Clarke will speak on "Exchanges of Real Estate" before the realty class of the Y. M. C. A. School of Commerce, conducted by the Chicago Real Estate board, this evening at Central "Y."

Activity on South Water.

Several South Water street deals have been closed recently. Charles C. Weins bought the 20x126 at 9 West South Water from the Chicago Title and Trust for $120,000.

Washington Porter II. and his mother, Mrs. Frances R. Lee Porter, have bought the 27x95 at 7 West South Water from John M. Young and Helen Morris for $108,000, through William A. Bond & Co. Mr. Bond sold this property to the mother of the present sellers in 1878 for $18,000, and his firm has managed it continuously since that time.

Julius Sherman has sold the 40x150 at 163 West South Water to Eugene Halas for a reported $121,000, through H. E. Halas & Co. Urion, Drucker, Reichman & Boutell were attorneys for the buyer.

Lake Shore Property Offers Big Money-Making Opportunity

ON

Wednesday, May 27, 1925

AT THE

Real Estate Exchange
NEW ORLEANS
Will Be Sold

By Public Auction

Without Limit or Reserve

In Blocks or As a Whole
344.67 Acres of Lake Shore Land
Within the City Limits of New Orleans

This land is within the city limits—4¼ miles from the commercial center of New Orleans at Royal and Canal Streets. It is bordering at the Lake Pontchartrain end of the Dock Board's property, in which the $20,000,000 Industrial Canal is located, and behind the proposed seawall. It is reached by vehicular roads, is about 1,500 feet from a car line and is skirted by the Southern Railway.

This property is drained and cleared and is provided with city water and electric lights. It offers a magnificent inducement for industrial or residential development.

Small Local Conception of Its Value

The Gulf Coast is now just at the beginning of its development. There is small conception locally of the real value of this property. Why not use your knowledge of the history of Florida values and try to acquire this land? It would be a real bargain at $2,500 an acre. Sellers will carry a 6% first mortgage of $375,000. Remember, this land is to be sold without limit or reserve. For terms and other details write to

More Fun In California This Summer Than Ever Before

—It's California's Festival Year, celebrating the 75th anniversary of the Golden State's admission to the Union. Fetes, fiestas, rodeos, pageants, the glamour and color of the old Spanish days, assure you of gala days and nights. Don't miss them.

PLAN now for your Southern California trip. Awaiting you: mile-high mountains, lovely valleys, dozens of broad ocean beaches, gorgeous canyons, an unending variety of scenic wonders that thrill and satisfy. All your favorite sports, at their best. Five thousand miles of splendid motor roads and 1100 miles of trolley line take you easily anywhere you want to go in this summer wonderland.

Cool nights and pleasant days without rain to interfere are here for your delight. You'll say, "My, what a place of places for an ideal vacation!"

And the especial entertainment of the Festival Year celebration offers that something "rare" that makes now the time of times to come. Join the thousands who will be present for the colorful Shrine Convention in Los Angeles, June 1 to 6; see the vividly panoramic tournament of lights at Newport Beach on August 1; take in the gayety of the Old Spanish Days Fiesta at Santa Barbara, August 13 to 15; witness the impressively thrilling Diamond Jubilee celebration at San Francisco, September 5 to 12; the Spanish Fiesta at Glendale; the Southern California Fair at Riverside; the Los Angeles County Fair at Pomona; the Hollywood Bowl concerts throughout the summer.

These are only a few of dozens. From one end of the state to the other there are unusual sights and scenes provided for your entertainment this summer. The costumes of seventy-five years ago. The vividness of the old Spanish California. The vital spirit of the present.

So come this summer and enjoy it all.

Low-rate round trip railroad fares on all lines on sale from May 15, good returning until October 31.

See the Historic St. Lawrence on your voyage to Europe!

To residents of North America no river in the world embraces such wealth of historic romance as the mighty St. Lawrence.

Up its great waters, the brave pioneers of New France travelled on their voyages of discovery and settlement—the renowned Jacques Cartier to found the city of Montreal, nine hundred miles from the sea; the courageous La Salle on his long journey to the Mississippi; the gallant Champlain to found Quebec; the devout Recollet Fathers on their missions to the Indians.

Travelling on the St. Lawrence Route to Europe one starts at Montreal and for two or three days the beauties and historic features of the river pass before one in entrancing panorama. To view them adds immeasurably to the pleasure of the overseas voyage.

Detroit Railway and Harbor Terminals Co.

6½% First Mortgage (Fee) Sinking Fund Gold Bonds

Dated May 1st, 1925 Due May 1st, 1945

Coupon Bonds in denominations of $1,000, $500 and $100. Payable principal and interest, May 1st and November 1st, at Detroit Trust Company, Detroit, and Central Union Trust Company, New York, without deduction of the Normal Federal Income Tax up to 2%. These Bonds are registerable as to principal. The Company agrees to refund the present personal property tax of Connecticut, Pennsylvania and Maryland and the Massachusetts income tax not in excess of 6% per annum. Redeemable as a whole or in part upon any interest payment date on 30 days' notice at 105 and accrued interest for the first ten years; less ½ of 1% each year thereafter, plus accrued interest, until maturity.

DETROIT TRUST COMPANY, DETROIT, Trustee

The letter of Wm. J. Hogan, Esq., President of Detroit Railway and Harbor Terminals Company, is summarized as follows:

PROPERTY: Detroit, with a population of 1,398,000, the fourth city in the United States, is an important port for Great Lakes traffic and also for direct commerce with foreign countries. Waterfront property in Detroit is exceptionally valuable because of its limited extent.

The property of Detroit Railway and Harbor Terminals Company is located on the most desirable site in Detroit for a terminal warehouse and the only available large tract combining all facilities for water and railway transportation. On the waterfront, in the heart of the manufacturing district and with direct access over private right-of-way to all railroads in Detroit, this land, totaling 12 acres with 1,100 feet on the harbor front and on Jefferson Avenue, is valued at over $3,552,050 by the Detroit Trust Company. The Buhl interests, who will be the largest stockholders of Detroit Railway and Harbor Terminals Company, and whose other interests include the Buhl Stamping Co., Buhl Malleable Co., Buhl Building and Buhl Sons' Co., have owned this land for over fifty years.

On this site the Company is erecting the largest, best equipped and most modern terminal warehouse in Detroit. The building will be eight stories in height, with 900,000 square feet of floor space, including 200,000 square feet of cold storage space. An exhaustive study indicates that present cold storage and warehouse space in Detroit is entirely inadequate and that the demand for the facilities of this terminal will be in excess of the capacity of this initial unit. The land owned provides room to increase warehouse space 300%.

SECURITY: This issue is a direct obligation of Detroit Railway and Harbor Terminals Company and is secured by a first (closed) mortgage on its entire property. Independent appraisers and Detroit Trust Company have placed the following values on the land, buildings and improvements, such values having been approved as specifically provided in rulings of the Commissioner of Banking: the land at $3,552,050.00; the buildings at $4,530,000.00, or a total valuation of $8,082,050.00. The amount of this issue constituting less than 50% of the appraised value of the property, these Bonds will, in the opinion of counsel, qualify as legal investments for Michigan Savings Banks, upon completion of these buildings.

The completion of these buildings, free and clear of all liens, is further provided for by a Surety Bond, issued by The Fidelity and Deposit Company of Maryland. Insurance, covering loss by fire, to the full insurable value of the property, as well as full coverage of liability and use and occupancy insurance, has been provided for.

|---|---|
| *Gross Income | $1,864,012 |
| Operating Expenses, repairs and maintenance | 586,401 |
| Balance for fixed charges and dividends | $1,277,611 |
| Interest on 6½% First Mortgage Sinking Fund Gold Bonds | 243,750 |
| Balance | $1,033,861 |

*Income computed at minimum rates and based on 70% of gross space available for general merchandise storage, 60% of gross cold storage space and 50% of capacity for handling water shipments.

On the basis of this estimate, the balance available is in excess of 5 times the maximum annual interest requirements of this issue.

A letter to the Bankers from Moores & Dunford, Inc., states in part: "During the past 15 years we have acted as architects and consulting engineers on over 175 warehouses. All warehouses, designed by us and built under our supervision, have earned profits at a rate sufficient to pay for their complete cost, plus interest, within ten years. Many have done better. No first or second mortgage, secured on any of these warehouses, has ever defaulted on either interest or principal."

MONTHLY SINKING FUND PAYMENTS: Sinking fund, commencing May 1st, 1927, provides for monthly payments sufficient to redeem the entire issue, at or before maturity, at not to exceed 105 and accrued interest during the first ten years; less ½ of 1% each year thereafter, plus accrued interest, until maturity.

MANAGEMENT: National Terminals Corporation, Wm. J. Hogan, President, will operate the Detroit Railway and Harbor Terminals Company. National Terminals Corporation successfully operates a chain of large terminals in Chicago, Detroit, Cincinnati, Cleveland and Indianapolis, and this Company will have the full benefit of a national organization handling consignments from the big manufacturers and shippers on a "national service basis."

The directorate of Detroit Railway and Harbor Terminals Company includes:

WM. J. HOGAN, President
National Terminals Corporation
ARTHUR H. BUHL, President
Buhl Land Company
LAWRENCE D. BUHL, Vice-Pres. and Treasurer

Making it Easy to Analyze Real Estate Bonds

HAVE you ever had the feeling that first mortgage real estate bonds are difficult to analyze? That they present such similarity that there seems little to base a choice on? Here are the Four Distinguishing Marks of Miller Bonds:

1. Independent Appraisals: Local authorities, in signed appraisals, give you their estimates of physical value and earnings of the mortgaged property.

2. Bank Certification: A local bank certifies on each bond that the bank or its attorney has examined the bond and the deed of trust.

3. Moderate-sized Loans: Our policy is to finance numerous properties of moderate size, easily managed and widely scattered, rather than a few large properties in a restricted territory.

4. Full Interest: Every Miller Bond pays the investor the full rate of interest prevailing in any section of the country, without deduction.

Send today for circular describing a Miller 7% Bond issue and apply to it the same tests you would apply to a railroad, utility or industrial issue. Ask for folder B-1620.

The Iron That Startled Engineers

Its fine grained structure, consistent strength and hardness, with excellent machining qualities are unusual in a casting iron.

—And since its development "Vreelite" has reduced rejection losses for every manufacturer who has used it. It stands up where ordinary cast iron falls down. And yet it costs no more.

Vreelite is cast in our foundries by men with more than a quarter-century of foundry experience behind them.

If you have a casting problem let our engineers advise you. Samples of Vreelite will be sent to any manufacturer, or test pieces cast from your own patterns for direct comparison with those now in use

New York, May 4.—The gradual but general advance of prices which began on the stock exchange last Friday continued at a moderate pace today, and total transactions, running well beyond 1,300,000 shares, reached the highest figure in nearly a fortnight. Speculative buying for the rise as well as purchases to close out speculative bear accounts were in evidence, but with no sign of larger participation of the investing public.

Buying of the rails centered largely in shares which have been prominently mentioned in connection with impending merger or favorable dividend developments. Southern Railway, Frisco common, Seaboard Air Line common and preferred, Gulf, Mobile and Northern common, and Hudson and Manhattan all broke through to new high levels for the year. New York Central closed more than a point higher at 118 in reflection of the expiration of the bond conversion privilege.

Other strong spots in the rail group included Atlantic Coast Line, Baltimore and Ohio, Rock Island, Lackawanna, Louisville and Nashville, Nickel Plate, Peoria and Eastern, Texas and Pacific, and Wabash preferred "A," all up one to nearly 3 points.

Virginia Railway and Power led the advance in public utilities by climbing more than five points to a new peak at 107. American Telephone touched a new 1925 high at 137, and Consolidated Gas at 80⅝. Utah Securities broke from 101⅞ to 97 on profit taking, and then rallied to 101, where it was off one point on the day.

Associated Dry Goods was the outstanding feature among the specialties, soaring 8 points to a new high for the year at 196. New maximum prices also were recorded by Woolworth, Coca Cola, U. S. Industrial Alcohol, U. S. Realty, American Ice, International Shoe, Foundation company, and American Tobacco "B." Good gains also were recorded by the Commercial Solvents issues, General Baking, May Department Stores, Montgomery Ward, Sears-Roebuck, Tidewater Oil, and U. S. Cast Iron Pipe.

The coal shares were weak, Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron, and Pittsburgh Coal preferred sagging to new low levels.

The following information has been summarized from the letter of Mr. J. B. Sensibar, President of the Company:

COMPANY: The Construction Materials Company is engaged in the production, sale and distribution of gravel and sand for building construction, street paving and road building and for use by foundries and railroads. The Construction Materials Company is the largest producer of sand in the Middle West and is also extensively engaged in the making of sand fills for the raising of low lands and for the reclaiming of submerged land adjacent to the shores of the Great Lakes and tributary waterways.

In this branch of the business the company is the leader, having a decided advantage over its competitors. It has done important work of this character for the City of Chicago, for The Johns-Manville Company at Waukegan, Illinois, for the Continental Motors Corporation at Muskegon, Michigan, the Mark Manufacturing Company (now the Youngstown Sheet & Tube Company) of Indiana Harbor, Indiana, and others.

EARNINGS: For fourteen years the Company has never failed to make a profit in any single year. Its net earnings available for interest, depreciation and Federal taxes have averaged for the past five years over $77,000, and for 1924 were $135,319. The earnings for 1924 reflect only in a small measure the recent large capital expenditures of the company. These expenditures include the cost of equipment for the new gravel plant at Ferrysburg, Michigan, one of the largest plants of its kind on the Great Lakes. This plant was in only part time operation last year. The capital expenditures also include the cost of a new vessel the "Sandcraft," which was also in only part time operation last year, and which will make possible a very large increase in the Company's business. With the full time operation of both of these capital assets during 1925 the net earnings of the company for the current year are estimated at $190,000. This estimate includes part time operation of a new vessel similar to the "Sandcraft" now under construction and to be delivered to the company about July 1st. For 1926 with full time operation of all of the company's new capital assets, the net earnings of the company are estimated at $275,000.

SECURITY: These bonds are secured by a direct first closed mortgage upon all of the principal fixed assets of the company, including sand deposits at Gary, Indiana, gravel deposits and plants and dock at Bass River, Ferrysburg, and Grand Haven, Michigan, and floating equipment consisting of two tugs, a large dredge and four modern self unloading vessels, the "Barth," the "Hennepin," the "Sandcraft" and the "Sandmaster." Funds for the completion of the last named vessel, now being completely rebuilt and refitted by the Interlake Engineering Company of Cleveland, will be deposited with and distributed by the Trustee.

The company's four vessels, including the "Sandmaster" when completed according to plans and specifications, have been appraised by Mr. H. N. Herriman, Naval Architect and Engineer of Cleveland, Ohio, as worth $1,275,000, and the other fixed assets of the company have been appraised by The American Appraisal Company at a sound value of $693,578. The total appraised value of both is $1,968,578, over 260% of this bond issue.

GENERAL INFORMATION: Sand is a basic commodity, is used as a raw material by many different kinds of industries and is the cheapest and best product for a wide variety of uses. It is used in large quantities for building construction, street paving and road building and by foundries in making cores for castings and by railroads. In recent years it has come to be used in ever increasing quantities for the making of sand fills in reclaiming submerged land on the shores of the Great Lakes and tributary waterways, and for the raising of low lands adjacent to the lake shore. Water front land in large cities and in industrial centers of the Great Lakes region is becoming increasingly valuable and greatly in demand for industrial expansion, harbor facilities, parks, drives, bathing beaches and for many other purposes. Manufacturing plants located on the water front find it cheaper and more convenient to fill in submerged land adjacent to their plants than to build new plants or extensions elsewhere. Crowded cities find it cheaper and much more convenient to fill in lake land for beaches, parks, boulevards and other municipal improvements than to condemn or purchase area within the city proper.

In Chicago, already the largest consumer of sand in the United States, the use of sand for sand fills both by industrial plants and for municipal improvements has increased tremendously in the past few years. The South Park Commissioners, in connection with the South Park lake front development are now engaged in reclaiming a very large area of submerged land along the lake shore extending from Grant Park to Jackson Park, a distance of eight miles. This project alone will probably require over forty million cubic yards of material, which, based upon the present capacity of producers, it is estimated will take over ten years to supply.

Supervision of legal details by Holding, Masten, Duncan & Leckie, Cleveland, Ohio. Appraisals by Herriman, Naval Architect and Engineer, Cleveland, Ohio, and by The American Appraisal Company. Surveys and engineers reports by Welborn & Huntington and Raymond W. Dull, Chicago, Ill. Audits by Ernst & Ernst.

Chicago—The Logical Operating Center for Aerial Navigation

Number 10 of a Series on the Economic Soundness of Middle West Industry from the Standpoint of Investment Capital.

By John Burnham & Co., Inc.

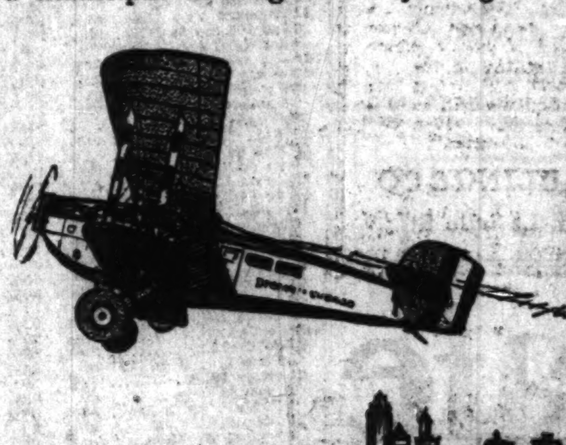
Chicago, already the hub airport of the transcontinental U. S. Air Mail Service, is the logical operating base of a national aerial transport system to include both freight and passenger traffic.

* * * *

The same natural advantages and directive economic factors that made Chicago the railway center of the continent should also make it the central airport and main transfer point of an aerial system. Chicago's opportunities in this new and important development cannot be overemphasized.

* * * *

The City of Chicago and the Chicago Association of Commerce are taking active measures to accelerate this development to the point where it will soon become a practical realization. An early conference of all interested civic bodies and citizens is proposed with the object in view of constructing a municipal landing-field adjoining Grant Park.



This would ensure an adequate airport for aircraft requiring either a water or a field landing-place and in size and modern terminal facilities would be second to none in America. At the present time a municipal landing field is under construction at 63rd Street and Cicero Avenue and will be completed within thirty days.

* * * *

In addition to the present U. S. Air Mail Service between Chicago and the Atlantic and Pacific coasts, an airline for a night schedule is under construction between Chicago and New York, with operations to begin on or about July 1. Leaving Chicago at 9:30 P. M. Central Time, the mail will arrive in New York by 6 A. M. Eastern Time, to be delivered by the first mail delivery in the city and by later deliveries the same day to nearby centers. Similar service will be operated from New York to Chicago.

* * * *

The many advantages of this fast night express service are obvious. Mail can be dispatched to reach the addressee in about ten or eleven hours. It is estimated that the daily transfer of funds and securities between Chicago and New York amounts to approximately $5,000,000, so the saving in interest per day of transit will amount to a considerable sum. Chicago and New York will be made one city so far as bank clearings are concerned, for daily clearings can be effected as readily as between Chicago banks. This applies also to such cities as Boston, Philadelphia, Washington, the centers reached by fast train service from New York. Chicago's position as the junction point of two zones offers superior advantages in postage rates in that this city can send mail eastward for 8c per ounce and westward to the coast for 16c. New York sends mail one way only.

* * * *

As to fast freight service by commercial airplane, the Ford Motor Company is now operating airplanes with a 2000 pound pay-load capacity between Chicago and Dearborn, Michigan, maintaining a daily round-trip schedule three days each week of 2 hours and 45 minutes each way. The feasibility of such a freight service has been demonstrated. Manufacturers and commercial houses of Chicago and the Middle West will be able to speed up delivery of important consignments of high-grade freight, with a resultant financial saving, once this service is extended by the national system.

* * * *

The significance of this coming development to Mid-West industry is apparent, for it emphasizes decidedly the many economic advantages possessed by corporations located in this central region.

MOTOR MAKERS HOLDING OUTPUT DOWN TO SALES

BY O. A. MATHER.

The automobile industry now is profiting by the mistakes of last year. Last spring the plants were pouring out cars to capacity and rushing them to dealers, both anticipating a repetition of the 1923 boom year. But the demand did not develop.

The automobile plants now are operating at a high rate, but they are holding output close to actual orders and are avoiding any overstocking of dealers, who, in turn, are also governing their orders by actual and immediately prospective sales.

For example, the General Motors corporation in the first quarter of this year sold 155,432 cars to dealers, who sold 135,883 cars to users. In the first quarter of 1924 the company sold 215,550 cars to dealers, who sold only 140,786 to users. Therefore, the dealers this year took only 19,549 more cars than they sold, compared with an excess of 74,764 a year ago.

Stocks Are Subnormal.

"It is evident General Motors enters the second quarter of this year, which is the period of heaviest retail demand, with subnormal stocks," the quarterly earnings statement says. "Sales for the second quarter will be substantially in excess of sales for the first quarter and this will reflect like improvement in earnings."

Net earnings for the first quarter were $17,811,239 after charges, equivalent after preferred dividends to $3.08 a share on the common stock. This compares with $19,400,956, or $3.42 a share, for the first quarter of last year.

The first quarter this year produced a surplus of $8,159,077 after paying $1.50 on the common stock, bringing total surplus to $90,270,006.

Commodity Prices Down.

The general average of commodity prices fell a little more than one-half of 1 per cent last month, and if the advance of about 3¾ per cent in breadstuffs be eliminated, the decline would be 1⅝ per cent. The average is now 5½ per cent below the year's highest level, reached on Feb. 1. Commercial failures last month numbered 1,939, with liabilities of $37,188,822. The number was the largest since May, 1922, excepting for December and January of each year, when defaults generally reach the yearly high mark.

E. H. Wilson Manufacturing.

C. H. C., Clarion, Ia.—The E. H. Wilson Manufacturing company has been organized, under Illinois laws, as a consolidation of the Moline Body corporation and the General Battery and Supply company. It manufactures open and closed automobile bodies, fenders, hoods, sheet metal parts, etc., also storage batteries and various rubber products. It is issuing $500,000 first mortgage 6½ per cent bonds, due $25,000 annually March 1, 1926-1934, and $275,000 March 1, 1935. These bonds are secured by a closed first mortgage on all real estate, buildings, machinery, and other fixed properties, given a depreciated reproduction value of approximately $1,145,000, or over two and one-quarter times the amount of these bonds. Net tangible assets, after giving effect to this financing, are given as $1,590,690, or $3,180 for each $1,000 bond. The company reports, for Moline Body corporation only, a net profit of $252,854 before charges in 1923 and a net loss of $4,891 for 1924. Maximum annual interest on these bonds amounts to $32,500. No statement of the earnings of General Battery and Supply company is given. There are $232,000 first mortgage 7s of Moline Body corporation which will be retired with part of the proceeds of the present issue. Bonds of the present issue are not of the highest grade. They are a somewhat speculative investment.

CHICAGO STOCK TRANSACTIONS

Monday, May 4, 1925.

Day's sales, shares....45,000   Year ago ..................12,000   Total, 1925 ........4,629,737   Previous year ......3,720,847

Chicago stocks were generally strong yesterday, Montgomery Ward leading the advance with a net gain of 1⅝ to 52. Stewart-Warner closed with a lead of a point after a turnover of about 17,900 shares. Yellow Manufacturing and Morgan Lithograph also closed a point higher each. Fair common was up ⅛ on the report of April net sales, which were given as $2,362,000, an increase of $160,000 over the same period a year ago. U. S. Gypsum closed unchanged. Real Silk Hosiery advanced 1⅞ to 58⅝ and then slid back to 56½ at the close, unchanged. Earnings of the company for six months ended March 31 were $1,174,827 before taxes.

On small sales, gains were: Middle West Utilities and Universal Theater Concessions, 1½ each, and Kraft Cheese and Balaban & Katz a point each. Great Lakes Dredge was off a point. More increase in business during the first four months of this year was shown by Wrigley than all of 1924, according to William Wrigley Jr. on his departure for Europe yesterday. The Chicago Yellow Cab has approximately 13,000 stockholders, an increase of more than 128 per cent from Jan. 1, 1924, according to a statement sent to stockholders. This increase was brought about mainly through the company's customer ownership plan. The La Salle Extension university made application for the listing of 200,000 shares of common stock. Action will be taken by the stock list committee today and by the governors tomorrow.

UNDERTONE FIRM ON WHEAT AND PRICES ADVANCE

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Wheat market continues to show a firm undertone, and with a lack of aggressive commission house selling prices moved up readily in the face of scattered profit taking, and closed 2⅛@3½c higher with July leading. May finished at $1.62 to $1.61⅛, or 8c over July. Corn was ½c lower on May, while deferred deliveries were ⅛@¼c higher. Oats advanced ⅜@⅝c and rye 8⅝c to 11½c, lack of offerings in the latter being pronounced.

All deliveries of wheat sold at a new high on the present movement, July touching $1.54¼ on the bulge, or 10c over the inside figure of the previous week. An upturn of 2@2¼d in Liverpool on much smaller world's shipments than expected, and a decrease of 6,856,000 bu on ocean passage, which made the total 71,080,000 bu, against 71,872,000 bu last year, had considerable influence on sentiment, as stocks afloat are now below those of a year ago for the first time in some months.

A decrease of 3,408,000 bu in the domestic visible supply brought the total down to 45,681,000 bu, against 51,561,000 bu last year. Export demand at the seaboard was exceedingly slow, although it was expected that the Spanish order for 2,000,000 to 3,000,000 bu would be closed overnight.

May Corn Acts Heavy.

Buyers of cash corn refuse to take hold on a liberal scale, and while there were rumors of charters made to move out a liberal quantity of grain delivered on May contracts, the May acted decidedly heavy and went to 4c under the July. Trade in the aggregate was not large, and the deferred deliveries derived the greater part of their strength from sympathy with wheat and on local buying. Cash basis was unchanged. A decrease of 2,397,000 bu in the visible supply made the total 23,379,000 bu, against 17,978,000 bu last year. Oats advanced in sympathy with wheat.

Rye in Sharp Bulge.

It took but little buying to start rye upward and at the top May showed 11½c over the finish on Saturday, the outstanding feature being the lack of offerings on the way up. Shorts covered freely on the way up, and there was also a substantial class of commission house buying. No export sales were reported.

Provisions were fairly active and higher, with houses with eastern connections aggressive on the buying side of lard and with short covering an advance was easily attained. Lard closed 22½@27½c higher, with ribs up 37½@45c and bellies 35@45c higher. Deliveries on May contracts were 50,000 lbs lard. Prices follow:

COTTON MARKETS

Cotton was sold on stop orders and in spreading operations in the different markets. There was buying in Chicago and selling of October in New Orleans, and the reverse in New York. Liverpool was a good seller in New York, and crop reports from the southwest showed improvement. Southern spot demand was poor and prices easy, while in New York they were off 20 points to 23.95c, against 24.15c in New Orleans.

Closing trades were at small rally from the inside, with Chicago futures off 22 to 38 points and other markets 20 to 38 points lower, New York leading the decline. Prices in leading markets follow:

CASH·GRAIN NEWS

According to London cables, the Spanish orders for 2,000,000 to 3,000,000 bu wheat would be filled overnight. Foreign demand at the seaboard was slow with sales of around 250,000 bu in all positions, including 200,000 bu mixed wheat taken by Germany at advanced prices. Little was heard regarding business in other grains.

Chicago handlers sold 15,000 bu wheat, 74,000 bu corn, 20,000 bu oats and 5,000 bu barley to the domestic trade with 50,000 bu corn sold to go to store. Charters were for 350,000 bu rye to Buffalo. At Minneapolis shipping sales were 33,000 bu wheat and 90,000 bu oats and at Winnipeg 150,000 bu oats and 150,000 bu barley.

Deliveries on May contracts at Chicago Monday were 192,000 bu wheat, 475,000 bu corn, 37,000 bu oats and 191,000 bu rye.

Demand for cash wheat in leading markets was limited. Local basis was uncahnged to 23@25c over May for No. 2 red and 3@5c over for No. 2 hard. Southwestern markets were unchanged to 4c higher with Kansas City leading and Omaha was 3c higher. At Minneapolis the basis was steady to 1c lower.

Offerings of cash corn here were small and the basis about steady at 3c under to ½c over May for No. 3 grades, while No. 4 grades were 4@5c under and No. 5 grades 6@7½c under the future. Outside markets were unchanged to 2c higher.

Shippers were moderate buyers of cash oats at unchanged prices as compared with May. No. 2 white brought 4½@5c over and No. 3 white ½@2c over.

WORLD'S·GRAIN MARKET·NEWS

July and September wheat was sold on the bulge by traders who bought it around 15c lower and were taking profits. There was so much of this selling that it attracted attention. The wheat was bought by the outside traders on the crop reports and there is more held by the public than for some time past. The technical position has been weakened, it was claimed last night, and a good recession is looked for.

May wheat was relatively weak at times and was sold by commission houses with the premium over July 8c at the close yesterday. The cash demand is not following the advance in wheat, which made operators who base their position on the demand of that character rather bearish for the time being.

Corn futures are not breaking right for a bear market as a few of the largest professionals see it. Yet in the face of the reports of a slow cash demand visible stocks have decreased around 12,000,000 bu or more of late. It is now 23,379,000 bu, against 17,978,000 bu last year. Chicago has 11,514,000 bu, or about half the visible supply.

Buenos Aires wheat closed 1½c to 2½c higher with May $1.60 and July $1.63. Corn, ½c higher to 1½c higher, with May 98½c.

J. P. Griffin, who was a bull on wheat around the recent low price, says that while crop reports are bullish the trade does not get excited over the crop reports.

GRAIN STATISTICS

United States visible supply of wheat decreased 3,408,000 bu last week; corn, 2,397,000 bu; oats, 1,592,000 bu, and rye, 1,730,000 bu. Barley increased 64,000 bu. Details follow:

WALL STREET NOTES

Public utility shares led a broad upward movement in prices in yesterday's curb market. National Power and Light was again the sensational feature, soaring 10½ points to a new peak at 291½. Lehigh Power securities and Carolina Power and Light each jumped 5 points, while Adirondack Power, American Light and Traction, Southeastern Power and Light, Middlewest Utilities and the American Foreign Power issues were among the many shares to advance a point or more.

The oils displayed a firm undertone. Standard Oil of Kansas and Vacuum each moving up about a point, while most of the other improved fractionally. Revival of activity in Chrysler, which closed a point higher at 86, after selling as high as 86½, featured the industrial group. "Nickel Plate" advanced more than two points. Lehigh Valley Coal certificates closed a point higher at 28⅝, but Glen Alden Coal fell back more than two points. Radio issues moved within narrow and irregular limits.

Low priced railroad bonds led the market to higher ground. Many of the semi-speculative liens established new peak prices for the year. Frisco, "Katy," Kansas City Southern, Seaboard, Wheeling & Lake Erie and Norfolk and Southern issues were among those to sell at the year's best levels. Northern Pacific 5s, Chicago and Alton 3½s and the St. Paul convertible and refunding 4½s scored substantial gains.

Many public utility bonds registered gains of a point or so. Market Street Railway 7s advanced on talk of the company's purchase by the city of San Francisco and New York traction liens also were in demand. The general trend of the industrial list was higher although heaviness of some of the copper and miscellaneous issues contrasted with the upward movement of the oil and tire bonds.

Yesterday's hog receipts at 39,000 were among the smallest of the year for Monday. The first Monday of February arrivals totaled 101,087. Salesmen took advantage of the small supply and opened the market strong to 5c higher, with shippers among the best buyers. Big packers played a waiting game and forced prices slightly lower late in the session. Improved quality, however, helped to advance the day's average 5c higher at $11.35 against $11.30 the previous Monday and $7.40 a year ago. Top butchers averaging 215@272 lbs went at $11.50. Shippers purchased pigs and underweights freely.

Buyers took advantage of a moderately liberal run of cattle and forced prices 15@25c under last week's closing level. Quotations were little different from those in vogue a week previous, the majority of sales of beef steers at $9.25@11.00 equaling previous Monday's bulk, with the top at $11.65 purchasing a cut off of the same steers which topped initial day of last week at $11.75. Choice 1,062 lb yearlings brought the top, while best 1,541 lb averages reached $11.25. Butcher stock was steady, 712 lb heifers selling at $10.50. Calves slumped 50c. Stockers and feeders held firm.

Lambs Recover Loss.

Practically all of the loss recorded during the pounding of the lamb market after the middle of last week was replaced. Values jumped 25@50c under brisk competition, elevating top 85 lb woolskins to $16.25, back to the high point in April. Lambs without fleece reached $13.75. Springers met good demand at strong to unevenly higher prices, good 70 lb Californias bringing $17.00 and 58 lb genuine natives $17.50. Aged sheep ruled strong to 25c higher, with 160 lb wool ewes at $9.00. Shorn 110 lb California yearling wethers were $10.50.

Receipts at Chicago for today are estimated at 13,000 cattle, 15,000 hogs, and 15,000 sheep, against 16,071 cattle, 25,771 hogs, and 12,164 sheep the corresponding Tuesday a year ago.

New York, May 4.—The anunal report of the Shell Union Oil corporation for 1924, including the company's interest in subsidiary organizations, issued today, showed gross income of $80,984,588. After all expenses, depletion, and depreciation reserves, and allowing for abandoned wells, the company reported net earnings of $24,934,072. These totals compared with gross income of $74,274,426 and net earnings of $17,083,083 in 1923. After allowing for regular dividend requirements on the preferred stock and setting aside $6,000,000 for a special reserve, the balance was $17,414,848 applicable for the common stock.

THE STRAUS HALLMARK ON A REAL ESTATE BOND—means that the bond is sponsored by a House universally acknowledged to be the first in its field—first in financial strength, first in knowledge and experience, first in volume of business, first in the nation-wide scope of its operations. ℭ This Hallmark means that the bond issue has been investigated, judged, and approved by a lending organization which stands alone in its expert, specialized, technical knowledge—unique in its experience gained through the handling of thousands of loans through many years. ℭ This vital department of our business includes real estate experts, eminent counsel of long experience in real estate law, and chosen technical men such as appraisers, architects and engineers—all specialists whose sole aim is to make safe loans. ℭ A Straus Bond embodies the merits of unquestioned security, prompt payment of principal and interest when due, and fair interest yield, with a satisfactory and steadily broadening outside market. The Straus Hallmark on a bond stamps it at once as the premier real estate security.

Grandview Apartment Properties

SIOUX CITY, IOWA

First Mortgage 6% Serial Coupon Bonds

Dated: April 15, 1925 Maturities: 2 to 12 years

Coupon Bonds in Denominations of $1,000, $500, and $100; Registerable as to Principal; Interest Coupons Payable April 15th and October 15th; Bonds and Coupons Payable at offices of S. W. STRAUS & CO.; Callable at 104 and accrued interest on any maturity date up to and including April 15, 1929; at 103 and interest thereafter and up to and including April 15, 1933; and at 102 and interest thereafter. Federal Income Tax 2% Paid by Borrower.

We believe this issue constitutes an unusual investment opportunity because of the following factors, which influenced this House in its purchase of the bonds:

1. First mortgage on land in fee and buildings as follows: (a) A completed and successful apartment hotel with a good record of earnings; (b) a new apartment building now under construction, which will be the best modern apartment building in Sioux City.

2. Net annual earnings available for the payment of interest and principal on this bond issue, taking actual 1924 earnings for the completed structure and a conservative estimate for the new building, will be $115,044, or more than two and one-quarter times the greatest annual interest charge on this bond issue.

3. The value of the combined properties, when the new apartment building shall have been completed, is appraised, by independent appraisers, at $1,543,023—making this bond issue about 55% of the value of the mortgaged property.

4. The properties are in strong hands, and the character of the ownership and management assures able and successful operation.

5. The two properties are located in the best residential section of Sioux City, Iowa. Sioux City is one of the most prosperous and substantial business and industrial centers in the Mississippi Valley and is the market center for a large and rich area in the heart of the best agricultural section of the United States.

We have purchased these bonds after careful investigation and recommend them as a sound and well secured investment.

Price: To yield from 5.80% to 6.20%, according to maturity.

SKILLED WORKER NOW IN DEMAND AND HE'S LACKING

BY SCRUTATOR.

Thirty jobs going a begging. Sounds preposterous. Everybody knows that many men are seeking work. Every statistical review has indicated greater output per man in a majority of industries.

Recent improvement in factory employment and the opening of out door jobs has of course put hundreds of thousands to work, but compared to the peak figures of boom years, there is plenty of slack to be taken up.

Nevertheless, the writer saw thirty orders for men, and no men to fill them, the other day. A forenoon spent in a labor agency once in a while gives some interesting slants on things.

The chairs in the room were almost vacant. Every now and then some young fellow would drop in and look over the list of opportunities.

Invariably he remarked that he didn't know these trades, and indicated that something not calling for experience would suit him better.

Five or six even agreed to go to the country. Letters from farmers in reply to a radio broadcast called for a certain number of men, but the pay wasn't high and a little item of milking from 10 to 20 cows was mentioned in more than one letter. Some of the prospective farm hands didn't look like skilled men with cows or milking machinery, but they evidently were more willing to take a chance with a milk pail than with shop tools, with which they were also unfamiliar.

The trouble with the thirty jobs was that most of them called for mechanical skill, the kind of skill a man acquires after some years of apprenticeship. The pay offered was good—from 70 cents up to $1.50 per hour for one job. Foundry chippers, toolmakers, and jig and die men were wanted.

Only old timers know these trades any more, the labor agent said. The young fellows seem not to have been learning them.

Some of the demand for skilled men seems to be related to the increasing output of tractors. That activity is partly a result of high costs of farm production and low prices for farm products in late years.

It takes two years to raise a colt, with lots of feed and work by the hired man or the boys. The advanced average age of present day horses as compared to the ages of the nags of former years tells the story.

No matter how much the newer forms of machinery and shop practice may dispense with skill, the fact remains that in the manufacture of machinery itself a considerable number of highly skilled artisans will continue to be required.

Seven Ways a Business Man Can Protect His Family and Property

IF YOUR ESTATE IS CHIEFLY IN FIXED ASSETS

Prompt and well considered action is indispensable if an estate consisting chiefly of real estate, business interests and other fixed assets is to be protected from serious loss upon the death of the owner without a will.

Three especially important points are involved:—

1—Income and inheritance taxes may within one year after the owner's death require the disbursement of ready cash to the amount of 10% to 60% of the total value.

2—Fixed assets left without a will must, as a rule, be sold and the proceeds partitioned into the fractions indicated by law for the heirs. In this case there is always a risk of serious sacrifice in value.

3—Without a will, the title to real estate inherited by minor children may become involved.

Among our "Seven Ways to Protect Your Family and Property" you will find three provisions which entirely solve these problems—Plans No. 1, No. 2 and No. 3. Whatever your situation, one or more of these plans will help you.

The hazard of leaving an estate unprotected is so great that you will want to refer to this helpful booklet and guide chart to-day. Write, telephone, or call at the Bank.

INVESTMENT OPPORTUNITIES — PAST AND PRESENT

When U. S. Governments Yielded 10%

DURING the Civil War, lack of confidence in U. S. government bonds brought these issues to prices where they could be bought to yield over 10%—an extraordinary investment opportunity. A few years after the war these bonds sold to yield 6%.

Today, high grade European bonds offer a similar investment opportunity. Consider the 8% Mortgage Loan Gold Bonds (payable in U. S. gold) of the City of Graz, second city of Austria. A municipal bond protected by pledge of the credit and unlimited taxing power of a city of 157,000 which has been in existence for a thousand years. A bond additionally secured by a first mortgage on revenue producing public utilities such as electric light, gas and water systems, worth double the bond issue.

Only the need for capital makes it possible for these bonds—protected by every safeguard—to be offered at a price to yield 8.17%.

Salesmen, Solicitors, Etc.

SALESMAN—

A large manufacturer of nationally known felt base linoleum type floor covering with branch office and warehouse in Chicago can use four of the higher type of salesmen in rearranging and redistricting its Iowa, Indiana, Wisconsin and Illinois territory.

They are particularly interested in the kind of man who shows possibilities of developing into a branch or district manager after possibly a year's successful experience on the road, and will consider only applicants who can show a successful sales record in small towns, as this company solicits business from every general merchandise, hardware and furniture dealer, regardless of the size of the city, town, village or hamlet in which he may be located.

While experience in floor coverings will be considered an advantage, it is not essential, as each candidate is given a thorough training in sales promotion before being sent out with the District Sales Manager, who will show him for several days on the territory to which he will be assigned that the earning possibilities for a real producer are larger in this field than in the majority of merchandising propositions.

Each candidate is paid a stipulated amount at the end of his first week's training period on the road to cover his expenses whether he is kept on or not. Thereafter, he receives weekly, full commissions on his personal sales, and once a month full commissions on mail orders.

Don't apply unless you own an automobile, preferably of the smaller coupe type, and feel confident that your sales record will bear the closest scrutiny and entitles you to consideration.

The Vice President of this company will arrive in Chicago Saturday morning, May 2, and will interview applicants for a few days. Call Lafayette [illegible] for appointment.

SALESMEN WANTED. BIG MONEY MEN CAPABLE OF EARNING $15,000 YEARLY.

I want to have 15 minutes' conversation with several high class men, financially and morally responsible, desirous of making worth while permanent connections with a well established firm in Chicago. I will prove to you that there are no hard times here. Our organization consists of highly capable men who are all producers and making big money. Costly leads furnished. Full co-operation and promotion assured. If you qualify you will make money from the start. Call personally either Tuesday or Wednesday, between 10 and 12 or 1 and 4.

MR. WHITE,
PARLOR L AND 102,

SALESMEN.

Our present sales organization cannot take care of all the leads we have to follow up. We can use 5 men of the aggressive type who do not wish to limit their earning capacity; men now employed are earning more than $40 weekly. Our product has been sold nationally for years. Does the day pass quickly because your work is interesting, pleasant, and remunerative?

Does every sale made mean a friend for having rendered them a real service?

We have such a proposition for the man who is capable of earning from $150 to $250 weekly, and it is not stocks, bonds, insurance, or real estate.

An interview will convince you.

WIVES, WIVES, WIVES,

Is your husband making all he is worth? Are you enjoying the nice things you feel he ought to provide after saving enough money every month beside? What is wrong? Is he in the wrong place, where his ability is not paid for in dollars and real appreciation?

THIS ADVERTISEMENT IS AN EXPERIMENT.

We want to pay to the limit of his ability. "Men here are paid $137.40 on the average per week," and we believe the wife can tell us more of his ability and virtues in less time than we have been getting reliably by reading letters of reference. We also want to know that you sanction his connection with us and understand the work, that you can encourage him to bring out his very best. Write us a letter or postal, giving address and phone, that we can arrange a confidential talk at our offices. Address G L 515, Tribune.

FRANKLIN

A Car's Value Involves How It Is Built and What It Will Do

A Franklin Roadster, built in 1910 and driven continuously for 15 years, has just come into our possession. It still operates smoothly and quietly, gives the same easy riding characteristic only of the Franklin, and even today is better from a mechanical standpoint than many new water cooled 1925 four and six cylinder cars offered the public. A car's value involves how it is built and what it will do. Consider the Franklin before you buy any car. Match its performance, easy riding and roadability with any you have been considering and then come down here prepared to get the best automobile value in the world.
